HIGH COURT NOTICE.

Circular Order issued by authority of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

CIVIL AND CRIMINAL.

No. 35, dated the 1st October 1880.

THE following orders are issued in supersession of those contained in Circular Order No. 22, dated 2nd June, and Circular Order No. 28, dated 29th July last.

2. In all Civil and Criminal Courts a uniform charge shall be made for the preparation of copies, whether authenticated or unauthenticated, at the rate of four annas per folio. This term, it is to be carefully explained to all subordinate officers, merely denominates a certain quantity of manuscript; the folio to consist of 150 words English, or of 300 words Vernacular, four figures counting as one word.

3. It is intended that this charge should eventually be levied by means of an impressed stamp of four annas on each sheet of paper corresponding with the folio to be provided by the applicant for a copy. The preparation locally of special stamps for the purpose has been authorized by the Government. Some delay is, however, likely to occur in obtaining paper of the proper size and description. Till such stamps are available, sheets bearing each an impressed (non-judicial) stamp of two annas* will be used for the preparation of the copies. Each of these sheets is intended to contain half a folio—that is, 75 words English, or 150 words Vernacular. As there are 15 lines in each sheet, no line should contain more than five words English, or ten words Vernacular.

* The Superintendent of Stamps will be requested to arrange for the supply of these stamps through the usual channel, to have them enfaced with the words "For copies," ruled and perforated.

4. All copies, whether authenticated or unauthenticated, must in future, before issue, be examined by a salaried officer. The copies themselves will in all cases be made by section-writers, who will be remunerated at the rate of two annas per folio. General Letter No. 19, dated 29th November 1877, is cancelled.

5. Half the charge of four annas per folio, levied by means of the impressed stamp, represents the payment to Government on account of the salary of examiners, cost of paper, &c.; the other half will represent the earnings of the section-writers, whose accounts will be made up monthly, and the amount due to each paid out of contingencies. These payments must be checked at the time with the upper part of each stamp, which, when the copy is ready, must be torn off each sheet, along the perforated line, and then endorsed with the copyist's name, and kept till the end of the month. Care must be taken to see that nothing in excess of half the amount realized in stamps is paid away.

6. To prevent the risk of stamped slips being used more than once, the officer passing the copyist's account will, after checking it as directed, tear the slips to pieces and cause them to be burnt in his presence. A certificate that this has been done must be attached to the contingent bill on which the copyists' fees are drawn.

7. To protect the interests of the Government, care must be taken to see that no copies issue from the Courts which are not prepared on the prescribed stamp paper, which must be written on one side of the sheet only and not contain more than the authorized number of words. On the other hand, care must be taken to see that applicants are not imposed upon by the copyists spreading their writing over a larger number of sheets than is necessary. By insisting on the number of lines in each sheet being uniform, control may easily be exercised in this matter, the number of words in a few of the lines in each folio being checked The business of a copyist is (like most other occupations) one calling for skill, and greatly dependent for its successful practice in experience: copyists, therefore must possess or acquire skill in their business, or they ought not to be retained.

8. When an applicant requires his copies to be furnished on the day of application, an extra fee of one rupee* shall be charged on all copies so furnished, to be levied from him by a court-fee stamp, which should be affixed to the application for the copy and be entered in the Register for Court-fee Stamps. Care, however, is to be taken that other applicants for copies do not materially suffer by the arrangement. If the granting of other copies be much delayed by this rule, an extra hand ought to be told off to furnish their copies.

* This is a fee for credit to Government, and no part of it is payable to the copyists

9. Under ordinary circumstances, the time for furnishing the copies required shall not be later than 1 P.M. of the fifth open day after the presentation of the application.

10. In the case of authenticated copies, the court-fee chargeable under the Court-fees Act should be levied by affixing the necessary stamp to the first folio of the copy.

11. In the case of maps and plans no general rule can be laid down In each case a charge will have to be fixed with reference to the difficulty or intricacy of the work to be done. Half will be paid to the copyist and half credited to Government on account of examination fees and cost of materials.

12. A register of application for copies should be maintained in the following form.—

Register of Applications for Copies.

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10
Serial No.	Date of application.	Name of applicant	Number of Folios				Date on which copy was ready for delivery.	Date on which delivery was taken.	Remarks.

PART VI.

Bills of the Indian Council.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Second Publication.]

No. 18 of 1880.

A Bill to enhance the rate of Port-dues leviable at Madras.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it has been determined to construct an artificial harbour for the port of Madras and to defray a portion of the interest on the principal sum expended on the construction of such harbour and of the annual expenses of maintaining the same out of the dues leviable on sea-going vessels of fifteen tons and upwards entering the said port:

And whereas the maximum rate of such dues is fixed by the Indian Ports Act, 1875, section forty-five, and the third part of the first schedule thereto annexed, and the amount of such rate is insufficient to defray such portion of the said interest and expenses in addition to the other charges to meet which the said dues are applicable:

And whereas it is therefore necessary to enhance, to the extent hereinafter mentioned, the maximum rate of dues so leviable;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title

1. This Act may be called "The Madras Port-dues Act, 1880;" and Commencement.

It shall come into force as soon as the said harbour is, in the opinion of the local Government, open for the use of sea-going vessels of fifteen tons and upwards, and the said Government has published, in the Fort St. George Gazette, a notification to that effect.

Amendment of Part III of the first Schedule of Act XII of 1875.

2. In the Indian Ports Act, 1875, first Schedule, Part III, the following amendments shall be made, that is to say—

(a) in the first column the numeral and word "9, Madras" shall be omitted;

(b) in the first column, above the heading "Eastern Group," the word "Madras" shall be inserted; and

(c) opposite the word "Madras" so inserted there shall be inserted—

(1) in the second column the words "sea-going vessels of fifteen tons and upwards;" and

(2) in the third column the words "not exceeding eight annas per ton: Provided that, in the case of vessels employed in the coasting trade not being steamers, the rates shall be one-half the rates chargeable in respect of other vessels."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE funds requisite for the construction of the artificial harbour at Madras are being advanced by the Government.

It is estimated that the whole cost of the work will amount to Rs. 62,80,000, and it is proposed to raise, by taxation levied on the trade of the port, an annual income sufficient to pay interest at 4 per cent. on this sum, together with Rs. 60,000, the estimated annual charge for maintenance.

Port-dues at the rate of 3 annas (or in the case of coasting vessels 1½ annas) per ton can at present be levied under the Indian Ports Act, 1875, on vessels entering the port, and the simplest mode of raising the requisite income would be by an enhancement of those dues. It is, however, manifest that they could not be enhanced beyond a certain point without injuriously affecting the calling trade of the port, and it has accordingly been determined, after reference to the Madras Chamber of Commerce, that the best course to take will be to raise only a portion of that income in the shape of Port-dues, leaving the rest to be raised by a tax on goods landed and shipped, the precise form of which will be settled hereafter. In accordance with this determination the present Bill has been prepared. It admits of the Port-dues being raised to eight annas per ton, or in the case of vessels employed in the coasting trade and not being steamers to four annas. The additional income which may be obtained by so raising them is estimated at Rs. 1,60,000 per annum.

The Bill is drawn so as not to come into operation till the new harbour is open.

2. On and from the day on which this Act comes into force, the enactments specified in the first schedule hereto annexed shall be repealed to the extent mentioned therein.

But all Courts constituted and appointments made under any of the said enactments shall, as far as may be, be deemed to have been respectively constituted and made under this Act.

Courts of Small Causes established.

5. There shall be in each of the towns of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay a Court to be called the Court of Small Causes of Calcutta, Madras or Bombay, as the case may be.

Court to be deemed under superintendence of High Court.

6. The Small Cause Court shall be deemed to be a Court subject to the superintendence of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William, Madras or Bombay, as the case may be, within the meaning of Explanation.—When in any suit the sum claimed is, by an admitted set-off of any sum claimed by the defendant from the plaintiff, reduced to a balance not exceeding two thousand rupees, the Small Cause Court shall have jurisdiction to try such suit.

Suits in which Court has no jurisdiction.

17. The Small Cause Court shall have no jurisdiction—

(a) in suits concerning the assessment or collection of the revenue;

(b) in suits against the Secretary of State for India in Council;

(a) because of the difficulty, novelty or general importance thereof, or of some erroneous course of decisions in like cases in the Small Cause Court; or

(b) because of there being any question to be determined in such suit, upon which question claims or demands exceeding in aggregate value or amount two thousand rupees are dependent; or

Portions of Civil Procedure Code extending to the Court.

21. The chapters and sections of the Code of Civil Procedure specified in the second schedule hereto annexed shall extend (so far as they are applicable) to the Small Cause Court; and the procedure prescribed thereby shall be the procedure followed in the Court in all suits cognizable by it, except where such procedure is inconsistent with the procedure prescribed by any specific provisions of this Act.

No written statement except in cases of set-off.

22. Except in cases of set-off under the Code of Civil Procedure, section 111, no written statement shall be received unless required by the Court.

Judgments and orders of Court final. Power to order new trial.

23. Save as is hereinafter specially provided, every decree and order of the Small Cause Court in a suit shall be final and conclusive between the parties; but the Court may, on application of either party, made within eight days from the date of the decree or order in any suit, order a new trial to be held upon such terms as it thinks reasonable, and may in the mean time stay the proceedings:

Provided that the applicant at the time of making the application pays into Court the amount, if any, payable by him under such decree or order.

Execution of decree of Small Cause Court by other Courts.

24. If the judgment debtor under any decree of the Small Cause Court has not within the local limits of its jurisdiction moveable property sufficient to satisfy the decree, the Court may, on the application of the decree-holder, send the decree for execution—

(a) in the case of execution against immoveable property situate within such local limits—to the High Court;

(b) in all other cases—to any Civil Court within whose general jurisdiction such judgment-debtor, or any moveable or immoveable property of such judgment debtor, may be found.

The procedure prescribed by the Code of Civil Procedure for the execution of decrees by Courts other than those which made them shall be the procedure followed in such cases.

Discharge of arrested judgment-debtor on sufficient security.

Court may in certain cases suspend execution of decree.

26. Whenever it appears to the Small Cause Court that any judgment-debtor under its decree is unable, from sickness or other sufficient cause, to pay the amount of the decree, or, if such Court has ordered the same to be paid in instalments, the amount of any instalment thereof, it may, from time to time for such time and upon such terms as it thinks fit, suspend the execution of such decree.

Compensation payable by plaintiff to defendant in certain cases.

27 In any suit in which the defendant appears and does not admit the claim, and the suit is dismissed, the Small Cause Court may order the plaintiff to pay to the defendant by way of satisfaction for his trouble and attendance, such sum as it, in its discretion, thinks fit. Any such order may, in default of payment of the amount payable thereunder, be enforced by the defendant against the plaintiff as if the same were a decree of the Court.

CHAPTER V.

JURISDICTION WITH REGARD TO THE RECOVERY OR POSSESSION OF IMMOVEABLE PROPERTY.

Summons against person occupying property without leave.

28. When any person has had possession of any immoveable property situate within the local limits of the Small Cause Court's jurisdiction and of which the annual value at a rack-rent does not exceed one thousand rupees, as the tenant, or by permission, of another person, or of some person, through whom such other person claims; and such tenancy or permission has been determined or been withdrawn; and such tenant or occupier or any person holding under or by assignment from him (hereinafter called the occupant) refuses to deliver up such property in compliance with a request made to him in this behalf by such other person, such other person (hereinafter called the applicant) may apply to the Small Cause Court for a summons against the occupant, calling upon him to show cause, on a day therein appointed, why he should not be compelled to deliver up the property.

Service of summons.

29. The summons shall be served on the occupant in the manner provided by the Code of Civil Procedure for the service of a summons on a defendant.

Order for possession.

30. If the occupant does not appear at the time appointed, and show cause to the contrary, the applicant shall, if the Small Cause Court is satisfied that he is entitled to apply under section twenty-eight, be entitled to an order addressed to a bailiff of the Court directing him to give possession of the property to the applicant on such day as the Court may think fit to name in such order.

Such order to justify bailiff entering on property and giving possession.

31. Any such order shall justify the bailiff to whom it is addressed in entering after the hour of six in the morning and before the hour of six in the afternoon upon the property named therein, with such assistants as he thinks necessary, and giving possession of such property to the applicant: and no suit or prosecution shall be maintainable against any Judge or officer of the Small Cause Court by whom any such order as aforesaid was issued, or against any bailiff or other person by whom the same was executed, or by whom any such summons as aforesaid was served for the issue, execution or service of any such order or summons, by reason only that the applicant was not entitled to the possession of the property.

Applicant, if entitled to possession, not to be deemed trespasser for any error in proceedings;

32. When the applicant, at the time of applying for any such order as aforesaid, was entitled to the possession of such property, neither he nor any person acting in his behalf shall be deemed, on account of any error, defect or irregularity in the mode of proceeding to obtain possession thereunder, to be a trespasser; but any person aggrieved may bring a suit for the recovery of compensation for any damage which he has sustained by reason of such error, defect or irregularity:

Occupant may sue for compensation.

Provided that, when no such damage is proved the suit shall be dismissed; and that, in any case in which such damage is proved but the amount of the compensation assessed by the Court does not exceed ten rupees, the Court shall award to the plaintiff no more costs than compensation, unless the Judge who tries the same certifies that in his opinion full costs should be awarded to the plaintiff.

Liability of applicant obtaining order when not entitled.

Application for order in such case an act of trespass.

And when the applicant was not, at the time of applying for any such order as aforesaid, entitled to the possession of such property, the issue of any such order, though no possession is taken thereunder, shall be deemed to be an act of trespass committed by the applicant against the occupant.

Stay of proceedings on occupant giving security to bring a suit against the applicant.

34. Whenever on an application being made under this chapter the occupant binds himself, with two sureties, in a bond for such amount as the Small Cause Court thinks reasonable, having regard to the value of the property and the probable costs of the suit next hereinafter mentioned, to institute without delay a suit in the High Court for compensation for trespass against the applicant, and to pay all the costs of such suit in case he does not prosecute the same or in case judgment therein is given for the applicant, the Small Cause Court shall stay the proceedings on such application until such suit is disposed of.

If the occupant obtains a decree in any such suit against the applicant, such decree shall supersede the order (if any) made under section thirty.

35. In all proceedings under this chapter, the Small Cause Court shall, as far as may be, and except as herein otherwise provided, follow the procedure prescribed for a Court of first instance by the Code of Civil Procedure.

Proceedings to be regulated by the Code of Civil Procedure.

Expense of employing legal practitioners.

53. The expense of employing an advocate, vakil, attorney or other legal practitioner incurred by any party, shall not be allowed as costs in any suit or in any proceeding under chapter V of this Act, in the Small Cause Court, unless the Court is of opinion that the employment of such practitioner was under the circumstances reasonable.

The Small Cause Court may from time to time by general rules determine the cases in which such expenses shall be allowed.

MISCONDUCT OF MINISTERIAL OFFICERS.

Default of bailiff or other officer in execution of order or warrant.

56. If any clerk, bailiff or other ministerial officer of the Small Cause Court, who is employed as such in the execution of any order or warrant, loses, by neglect, connivance or omission, an opportunity of executing such order or warrant, he shall be liable by order of the Small Cause Court, on the application of the person injured by such neglect, connivance or omission, to pay such sum, not exceeding in any case the sum for which the said order or warrant was issued, as in the opinion of the Court represents the amount of the damage sustained by such person thereby.

Extortion or default of officers.

57. If any clerk, bailiff or other ministerial officer of the Small Cause Court is charged with extortion or misconduct while acting under colour of its process, or with not duly paying or accounting for any money levied by him under its authority, the Court may enquire into such charge, and may make such order for the repayment or payment of any money so extorted, or of any money so levied as aforesaid, and of damages and costs, by such officer, as it thinks fit.

59. Any order under this chapter for the payment or repayment of money may, in default of payment of the amount payable thereunder, be enforced by the person to whom such amount is payable, as if the same were a decree of the Small Cause Court in his favour.

CHAPTER XI.

CONTEMPT OF COURT.

Procedure of Court in certain cases of contempt.

60. When any such offence as is described in sections 175, 178, 179, 180 or 228 of the Indian Penal Code is committed in the view or presence of the Small Cause Court, the Court may cause the offender to be detained in custody; and, at any time before the rising of the Court on the same day, may, if it thinks fit, take cognizance of the offence, and sentence the offender to fine not exceeding two hundred rupees, and in default of payment to imprisonment in the civil jail for a term which may extend to one month unless such fine is sooner paid.

Record in such cases.

61. In every such case the Court shall record the facts constituting the offence, the statement (if any) made by the offender, and the finding and sentence. If the offence is under section 228 of the Indian Penal Code, the record must show the nature and stage of the judicial proceeding in which the Court when interrupted or insulted was sitting, and the nature of the interruption or insult offered.

Procedure where Court considers that the case should not be dealt with under section 60.

62. If the Court considers that a person accused of any of the offences referred to in section sixty and committed in its view or presence should be imprisoned otherwise than in default of payment of fine, or that a fine exceeding two hundred rupees should be imposed upon him, or if the Court is for any other reason of opinion that the case should not be disposed of under section sixty, the Court, after recording the facts constituting the offence and the statement of the accused as hereinbefore provided, may forward the case to a Presidency Magistrate, and may require security to be given for the appearance of such accused person before such Magistrate, or, if sufficient security is not given, may forward him under custody to such Magistrate.

Such Magistrate shall deal with the accused person in the manner provided by the Presidency Magistrates Act, 1877, and may sentence the offender to punishment, as provided in the section of the Indian Penal Code under which he is charged.

Discharge of offender on submission or apology.

63. When the Court has, under section sixty or section sixty-two, sentenced an offender to punishment, or forwarded him to a Presidency Magistrate for trial, for refusing or omitting to do anything which he was lawfully required to do, or for any intentional insult or interruption, the Court may in its discretion discharge the offender, or remit the punishment on his submission to the order or requisition of the Court, or on apology being made to its satisfaction.

Imprisonment or committal of person refusing to answer or produce document.

64. If any witness before the Small Cause Court refuses to answer such questions as are put to him, or to produce any document in his possession or power which the Court requires him to produce, and does not offer any reasonable excuse for such refusal, the Court may sentence him to simple imprisonment, or commit him to the custody of an officer of the Court, for any term not exceeding seven days, unless in the meantime such person consents to answer or to produce such document, as the case may be, after which, in the event of his persisting in his refusal, he may be dealt with according to the provisions of section sixty or sixty-two.

Appeal from orders under sections 60 and 64.

65. Any person deeming himself aggrieved by an order under section sixty or section sixty-four may appeal to the High Court, and the provisions of the Presidency Magistrates Act, 1877, relating to appeals, shall, so far as may be, apply to appeals under this section.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE Courts now known as the Courts of Small Causes in the Presidency towns were established by a Charter of George the Second, dated 8th January 1753, and would accordingly appear to be the oldest Courts at present existing in British India.

They have from time to time undergone many changes, their constitution having been remodelled, their jurisdiction extended, and their procedure amended by various enactments and orders, in particular by Acts IX of 1850 and XXVI of 1864, which placed them on a footing closely resembling that of the English County Courts; but they have been left to a great extent untouched by the important legislation by which, in recent years, the procedure of the other Civil Courts in this country has been reformed.

The result of this is that they have become somewhat antiquated and not do fit in with the rest of the Indian judicial system; that their powers and procedure are, in many particulars, defective, and that though, owing to the efficient manner in which they have been worked, they have generally given satisfaction, questions have often to be discussed in them which, to use the words of a late Small Cause Court Judge, now on the Bench of the Madras High Court, "are totally foreign to the people who resort to them, and some of which have only an historic interest—even in England."

2. The need of completely revising the law relating to these Courts was pointed out many years ago by Mr. Fagan and Mr. Boulnois, two of the ablest Judges who have presided in the Calcutta Small Cause Court; and in the year 1868, a Bill was drafted for this purpose by Mr. Pitt Kennedy, but further action in the matter has been from time to time postponed pending the consideration of certain proposals regarding the jurisdiction and powers of the Courts. These proposals have now been fully discussed; as near an approach to unanimity regarding them as can well be hoped for has been attained, and the present Bill has accordingly been prepared to consolidate and amend the entire law.

3. The most important change introduced by it lies in the extension of the pecuniary limit of the jurisdiction from Rs. 1,000 to Rs. 2,000. This extension was asked for by the Calcutta Trades Association as far back as 1867. It has since then been much discussed, and has the approval of the Governments of Madras, Bombay, and Bengal; of the High Court of Madras; and, subject to a limitation to be presently referred to, of the High Court at Calcutta. The only opposition to it comes from the High Court at Bombay; and that opposition appears to proceed, not so much from any objection to the principle of the extension, as from a fear that it will not be acceptable to the public—a point on which we shall be better able to form an opinion after the Bill has been published.

The Bill, it will be observed, is drawn so as to extend the jurisdiction in all classes of suits cognizable by the Court. The Calcutta High Court would have excepted actions of tort; but it has been thought well to avoid, if possible, making any distinctions of this sort, which, to persons of the class who resort to the Small Cause Court and their advisers, would, it is feared, occasion difficulties.

4. Assuming that the pecuniary limit of the jurisdiction is to be raised as proposed, the question arises whether any appeal should be allowed in suits above Rs. 1,000; or whether the present system of allowing a new trial by the Court itself and a reference to the High Court on a point of law is sufficient. On this point the difference of opinion has been greater.

The Governments of Bombay and Bengal, the Calcutta High Court, and the Judges of the Small Cause Court at Bombay, are against admitting an appeal. The Government of Madras, the High Court there, and the Judges of the Small Cause Courts at Calcutta and Madras, are in favour of it; as was also Mr. Kennedy at the time he drew the Bill already referred to.

On the one hand it is urged that allowing an appeal is—especially as it involves the taking of notes of evidence and the writing of judgments—inconsistent with the summary procedure of the Small Cause Court; that the hearing of cases subject to appeal could not conveniently be carried on simultaneously with the ordinary Small Cause Court work; and that the existence of a power to appeal would render litigation needlessly protracted and expensive.

On the other hand, the importance of providing a check on the trial of questions of fact in suits of the higher value is insisted on, and it is pointed out that in two at least of the Presidency towns the practice of taking notes of evidence in all contested cases already prevails. The Bill as at present drawn does not provide an appeal, but the Select Committee to which it is proposed to refer it, will, no doubt, consider whether in suits above Rs. 1,000 an appeal should not be allowed.

5. The next question which presents itself in connection with the jurisdiction of the Court is that as to the classes of suits which the Court should be empowered to hear. It has been thought best, both with a view to relieve the High Courts as far as possible, and in order to avoid, as far as may be, the doubts and difficulties which attend the construction of provisisons of this sort to draw the Bill so as to give the Small Cause Court jurisdiction in suits of all descriptions with certain specified exceptions.

6. The most important of these exceptions is that of suits for the recovery of immoveable property. It appears from the records of the Legislative Department that those who framed Act IX of 1850 intended that its 25th section should confer jurisdiction on the Small Cause Courts in such suits; but there has been a considerable difference of opinion as to the actual effect of that Act, and of its amending Act (XXVI of 1864), in this particular.

The High Courts of Calcutta and Bombay have held that the Small Cause Courts were given jurisdiction in the suits in question by the 25th section of Act IX of 1850. The Bombay High Court has held further that a like jurisdiction was conferred in suits up to Rs. 1,000 by the Act of 1864; while the Judges of the Calcutta Small Cause Court hold that their jurisdiction in such suits was not extended by that Act. The Madras High Court has held that neither Act conferred any such jurisdiction. To this it should be added that, in Calcutta, the jurisdiction, though held to exist up to Rs. 500, is for some reason which has not been fully explained, but little resorted to.

The Madras and Bombay authorities, and the majority of the Calcutta High Court are in favour of giving the jurisdiction. The Bengal Government, the officers consulted by it (including the Judges of the Calcutta Small Cause Court), and four of the Judges of the Calcutta High Court are against it. The Bill, as has been already stated, does not give it, and it is manifest that if it were to be given, special provisions relating to it would need to be introduced. An appeal should certainly be given; proper provision would have to be made for execution, and probably some rules would, as suggested both from the Calcutta and Madras High Courts, be required to limit the operation of the decisions as res judicatæ.

Other cases in which the Bill proposes to withhold jurisdiction from the Small Cause Courts are suits against the Secretary of State in Council; suits for partition, foreclosure, redemption; suits for the specific performance or the rescission of contracts relating to immoveable property; administration-suits: suits to obtain an injunction: suits to enforce a trust.

7. One point more remains to be noticed in connection with the jurisdiction of the Courts.

Act IX of 1850 in conferring jurisdiction on the Courts up to a value of Rs. 500, confines its exercise to cases of defendants dwelling or carrying on business within the local limits. Act XXVI of 1864, on the other hand, in conferring jurisdiction between the values of Rs. 500 and Rs. 1,000 gives an alternative ground for its exercise, namely, the circumstance of the cause of action having arisen within the local limits. It has been urged by most of the authorities consulted that the basis of the jurisdiction should be the same in the cases of all values. On the other hand, fears have been expressed by some that a power to institute a suit of the lower value against a defendant residing at a distance might be liable to abuse unless some limitation were imposed. The correct view of the matter seems to be that taken by the Judges of the Madras High Court and Mr. Busteed, namely, that in this particular no distinction should be made between the High Court and the Small Cause Court, and accordingly the Bill has been drawn so as to place the jurisdiction of the Small Cause Court, in this respect, on precisely the same footing as that on which the jurisdiction of the High Court is placed by the Letters Patent.

8. The want of any power to execute the decree of a Small Cause Court against immoveable property, except by the circuitous process of instituting a suit upon such decree in the High Court has for many years past been complained of as involving an undue hardship to plaintiffs, and in some places, particularly in Madras, driving them to institute their suits in the High Court instead of in the Small Cause Court. The objections that exist to giving the Small Cause Court's jurisdiction in suits to recover immoveable property apply also to giving them power to execute their decrees against immoveable property, and it is accordingly proposed by the Bill (section 24) to empower the Court to send its decrees for execution to the High Court or to a mufassal Court in the same way as the mufassal Small Cause Courts do under section 20 of Act XI of 1865. The only serious opposition to this proposal comes from the High Court at Bombay, and it rests mainly on the political or economical objections which of late years have been so frequently urged against the sale of immoveable property in execution of decrees—objections which, however weighty they may be in the mufassal, where the land is the only means of livelihood of the mass of the people and is in fact the basis of society, have little or no force in the cases that occur in the Presidency towns.

9. Section 21 of the Bill and the Schedule make the Code of Civil Procedure the foundation of the procedure of the Small Cause Courts in the Presidency towns as it is of those in the mufassal; but the special provisions of the existing Acts regarding Court-fees, fees to Counsel and attorney, and suspension of execution in cases of sickness, &c., have been retained, and it may be a question whether further modifications of the general law, for example, as regards the payment of expenses of witnesses (Code, sections 160 to 162), should not be introduced.

10. In the chapter relating to the recovery of small tenements, several amendments have been introduced, but they are merely such as are necessary in order to make the meaning of the original law clearer, or such as the working of the similar law in England has shown to be desirable. Thus the limitation of the operation of the chapter to cases in which the possession has commenced, either in a tenancy or in permissive occupancy, is clearly in accordance with the intention of the authors of the law, and though all doubt on this point was, as far as the Court at Calcutta is concerned, precluded by a decision of the Supreme Court there in the year 1851, the circumstance mentioned in one of the communications received that another High Court has taken the directly opposite view shows the necessity of making the law more distinct.

11. The words "the value or the rent" in section 91 of Act IX of 1850 were copied from section 122 of the English County Courts Act, 9 & 10 Vic. c. 122, where they were probably used per incuriam. Their effect, according to the construction put upon them in a well-known case, is that property of great value, e.g., extensive buildings erected on a plot of land held at a rent below Rs. 1,000, might be brought within this very summary jurisdiction. The Bill provides that there shall be no jurisdiction if the annual value at a rack-rent exceeds Rs. 1,000.

12. The chapter on insolvency jurisdiction is completely new. The introduction of a chapter of this sort has been advocated by the Government of Bengal, the Calcutta High Court, and the present Chief Justice of Madras, with a view to relieving the High Courts of a mass of petty work with which they are at present burthened to the great detriment of more important business. There has been some difference of opinion as to the way in which the insolvency jurisdiction should be divided between the High Court and the Small Cause Court. The principal of division, adopted by the Bill, which assigns to the Small Cause Court all cases of non-traders, leaving to the High Court only the cases of traders, is that proposed by the Calcutta High Court; and it seems to be the most convenient, as it is, as a rule, in the latter class of cases only that questions of difficulty and importance arise in this country. The great mass of non-trading insolvents consists of Government clerks who have lived beyond their means, and the settlement of whose affairs is, generally speaking, only too simple a matter, there being in the majority of cases little or no assets to recover or distribute.

13. It might seem at first-sight that the simplest mode of providing for the exercise of this jurisdiction would have been by transferring to the Small Cause Court a portion of the jurisdiction conferred on the Judges of the High Court under 11 and 12 Vic. c. 21; but an examination of that Statute will show that in some particulars its operation extends beyond the limits of British India, and there would accordingly, looking to the restricted powers of the Indian legislature, be a difficulty in moulding it to suit the case. This being so, it has been thought best to fall back upon the more limited provisions of the Civil Procedure Code, which appear to be sufficient in the simple and comparatively unimportant class of cases we have to deal with.

The Official Assignee under 11 and 12 Vic. c. 21 will be Receiver in all cases under this chapter.

14. The chapter on testamentary and intestate jurisdiction has been introduced with a view to relieving the High Court, and at the same time providing a cheap and expeditious mode of obtaining probate or letters of administration in the case of estates of less than Rs. 1,000 in amount or value.

15. The seventy-second section which prohibits the bringing of a suit to enforce a decree of a Small Cause Court, merely affirms what has been held by the Calcutta High Court in a recent case to be the existing law.

16. The Bill, it will be observed, though it comprises certain subjects not provided for by the existing Acts, contains a much smaller number of sections than they do. This is due chiefly to the omission of matters provided for by the sections of the Code of Civil Procedure which it is proposed to apply, or by the general law; but partly also to the omission of certain matters, e.g., the security to be given by ministerial officers, and the mode of keeping the accounts of the Court, which, in accordance with the practice of recent years, are left to be dealt with by the Executive Government in accordance with the ordinary departmental rules.

Examinations in colour shall be held to test the ability of candidates for masters' or mates' certificates to distinguish the following colours, which enter largely into the combinations of signals by day or night used at sea—namely, black, white, red, green, yellow, and blue.

These examinations shall be open to any person serving or about to serve in the Mercantile Marine. Any person desirous of being examined in colour only must make application to the Port Officer of Calcutta on the required form, and pay a fee of eight annas. He must on the appointed day attend for examination at the Examiner's Office; and if he passes, he will receive a certificate to that effect.

The examination of a candidate for a Master's or Mate's certificate, who does not at the time of making application hold a certificate of competency of any grade, will commence with the colour test, and if the candidate fails in that test, he will not be allowed to present himself for examination in Navigation and Seamanship. The fee he has paid for examination for a certificate of competency will include the fee for the colour test; and, with the exception of eight annas, will be returned to him. A candidate who fails to pass the test may be re-examined after the lapse of two months from the date of his first failure. If he fails a second time, he will be allowed a third trial at the expiration of another two months from the date of his second failure. A fresh fee must be paid at each succeeding examination.

A candidate who has obtained a certificate before these regulations came into force, and who, on presenting himself for examination for a certificate of a higher grade, is unable to pass the colour test, will notwithstanding be permitted to proceed in the examination in Navigation and Seamanship for the certificate of the higher grade; but should he pass this examination, the following statement will be written on the face of the higher certificate which may be granted to him, viz. "This officer has failed to pass the examination in colours." Should he fail to pass the examination in Navigation and Seamanship, a like statement, relating to his being colour blind, will be made on his inferior certificate before it is returned to him.

PART II.

MODE OF ASSESSMENT.

CHAPTER II.—Valuation of Lands.

Lieutenant-Governor may order valuation

12. Upon the commencement of this Act in any district or part of a district the Lieutenant-Governor may order that a valuation shall be made of such district or part of a district;

and from time to time, after the expiration of the term of five years from the beginning of the year in which the levy of the cesses took effect in accordance with any such valuation, or with any revaluation as hereafter provided in this section, or at any time within twelve months previous to the expiration of such term,

the Lieutenant-Governor may, if he think fit, order that a revaluation shall be made of any such district or part of a district, and such revaluation shall take effect from the beginning of such year as the Lieutenant-Governor may direct.

After five years holder of estate or tenure may apply to Collector for revaluation.

13. Whenever the term of five years shall have expired from the beginning of the year in which the levy of the cesses took effect in any estate or tenure in accordance with any valuation under this Act, or Bengal Act X of 1871, the holder of any such estate or tenure may apply to the Collector to revalue his estate or tenure, and for such purpose shall lodge in the office of the Collector returns in the form in Schedule (A) contained; and thereupon the Collector shall proceed to revalue such estate or tenure, and if he make any alteration in the valuation of any such tenure shall give notice of such alteration to the holder of the estate or superior tenure in which such tenure is included, and shall alter the valuation of such estate or superior tenure accordingly;

Proclamation to make return of lands to be issued.

14. Whenever the Lieutenant-Governor has ordered that a valuation or a revaluation of any district or part of a district shall be made for the purposes of this Act, the Collector of the district shall cause a proclamation to be issued requiring every holder of an estate or tenure which is liable to pay an annual amount of revenue or an annual amount of rent exceeding one hundred rupees, and every holder of a revenue-free estate or rent-free tenure the gross annual rental of which exceeds one hundred rupees, severally to lodge at the office of such Collector within one month a return of all lands comprised in his estate or tenure in the form in Schedule (A) contained, giving the particulars in such form set forth.

Publication of proclamation.

The Collector of the district shall cause such proclamation to be published by affixing a copy thereof in some conspicuous place in the office of such Collector, in every civil court, in every police station, and in the office of every sub-divisional officer within the district, and in any other manner which the Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time direct.

Revaluation may be of particular estates or tenures only.

15. At any time at which the Lieutenant-Governor might order a revaluation of a district or part of a district to be made as provided by section 12, he may, if he think fit, instead of so ordering, make an order that particular estates or tenures only in such district or part of a district shall be revalued.

Notice to lodge returns.

16. Whenever any proclamation has been published, as mentioned in section 14, in any district, and whenever the Lieutenant-Governor has made an order, under the last preceding section, that a revaluation of particular estates and tenures only shall be made, the Collector shall cause a notice to be served in respect of every estate and tenure which is to be valued or revalued, and in respect of which no return shall have been lodged in accordance with the requirement of such proclamation, requiring every holder of such estate or tenure severally to lodge at the office of the Collector the return mentioned in section 14; and shall also cause a similar notice to be served in respect of every tenure included in any such estate or tenure which may have been named in any return lodged in pursuance of the provisions of this Act, or of Bengal Act X of 1871, either for the purposes of the valuation or revaluation then contemplated, or for the purposes of any previous valuation or revaluation, or of which the existence may in any other way have come to his knowledge.

Form of notice and time for lodging returns.

17. The notice mentioned in the last preceding section shall be in the form No. I in Schedule (B) contained or in the form No. II in the said Schedule contained, as the case may be, and shall require every holder of the estate or tenure severally to lodge the return within the time specified below, viz.—

In the case of revenue-paying estates and rent-paying tenures.

If the return relate to an estate or tenure which is liable to the payment of annual revenue or of rent not exceeding Rs. 500, or to any share or interest in such estate or tenure;	Within six weeks of the service of the notice.
If the return relate to any other estate or tenure, or to any share or interest therein;	Within three months of the service of the notice.

In the case of revenue-free estates and rent-free tenures.

If the return relate to any estate or tenure of which the gross annual rental does not exceed Rs. 500, or to any share or interest in such estate or tenure;	Within six weeks of the service of the notice.
If the return relate to any other estate or tenure, or to any share or interest therein;	Within three months of the service of the notice.

The Collector may in his discretion extend the time allowed for lodging any such return.

Penalty for omitting to make return.

18. All holders of estates or tenures in respect of which such notice has been served who shall, without sufficient cause being shown to the satisfaction of the Collector, refuse or omit to lodge the required return in the office of such Collector within the time allowed by such notice in respect of the estate or tenure which they hold, or within any extended time which may have been allowed by the Collector for lodging such return, shall be severally liable to a fine which may extend to fifty rupees for every day after the expiration of such time or extended time until such return is furnished, or until the value of the lands comprised in their respective estates and tenures shall have been otherwise ascertained and determined by the Collector as hereinafter provided.

The amount of such fine accruing due from time to time may be levied by the Collector as provided in section 98 or 99, and the fact of an appeal against such fine being pending shall not avail to prevent the levy of any such fine pending the disposal of the appeal, unless the Commissioner shall otherwise direct.

Whenever the amount levied in respect of any such fine exceeds five hundred rupees, the Collector shall report the case specially to the Commissioner; and no further levy for such default shall be made otherwise than by authority of the Commissioner.

No rent to be recovered till return is made.

19. From and after the expiry of the time allowed by the notice, or of any extended time under the provisions of section 17, every holder of an estate or tenure in respect of which such notice has been served shall be precluded from suing for or recovering rent for any land or tenure situate in any estate or tenure in respect of which no return has been lodged as aforesaid.

The Collector may send a list to the civil court of all such holders so making default in lodging returns as aforesaid, and such court shall take judicial notice of the same.

Whenever the required return is lodged in respect of any estate or tenure, or whenever the valuation of any such estate or tenure has been otherwise completed, the disability imposed on the holder thereof by this section shall cease; and if such estate or tenure shall have been included in any list as aforesaid, the Collector shall forthwith give notice to the civil court of the cessation of such disability.

No rent to be recovered for land, &c., not mentioned in return.

20. Every holder of an estate or tenure in respect of which a return has been made as required by this chapter shall be precluded from suing for or recovering—

(a) any rent whatsoever for any land, holding, or tenure forming part of the estate or tenure to which such return relates, but which has not been mentioned in such return, unless it be proved that the holding or tenure for the rent of which the rent is claimed was created subsequently to the lodging of such return;

(b) rent at any higher rate than is mentioned in such return for any land, holding, or tenure included in such return, unless it be proved that the rent of such land or tenure has been lawfully enhanced subsequently to the lodging of such return;

Proviso.

Provided that the Collector may at his discretion, at any time within six months from the presentation of any return made under this Part, receive a petition correcting any such return;

and on the acceptance of such petition may make such correction in the valuation of the estate or tenure as may be required;

and, as soon as the person in respect of whose estate or tenure the return and valuation have been so corrected shall have paid in all sums due by him as road cess and public works cess in accordance with such corrected valuation, and not otherwise, such person may recover such rent as may be due to him on any tenure or land included in the return of such estate or tenure at any rate not being in excess of the rate shown in the corrected return as payable in respect of such tenure or land.

Such notices as the Collector may direct shall be served upon the parties affected by such petition at the expense of the person lodging the return as aforesaid.

If returns not furnished, Collector to make valuation.

21. If no return shall have been lodged in respect of any lands for which notice under section 16 has been issued, the Collector may, after the expiration of the time allowed by the notice, or of such extended time as is mentioned in section 17, ascertain and fix by such ways and means as to him shall seem expedient the annual value of any estate, tenure, or lands mentioned in such notice; and all expenses incurred in making such valuation may be recovered with all costs of recovery thereof as provided in sections 98 and 99.

After conviction of making false returns, Collector may make valuation.

22. Whenever the maker of any return under this Act has been convicted on a prosecution under section 94 of making a false return relating to any lands, the Collector may, by such ways and means as to him shall seem expedient, ascertain and fix the annual value of such lands; and the expense of such valuation may be recovered from the maker of such return as provided in sections 98 and 99.

In certain cases of incorrect returns, Collector to make valuation whether prosecution be instituted or not.

23. Whenever the Collector may deem that any return lodged relating to lands for which no rent is payable by cultivating ryots to the person making such return is untrue or incorrect, he may, whether any prosecution as mentioned in section 94 shall have been instituted or not, by such ways and means as to him shall seem expedient, ascertain and fix the annual value of such lands; and in case the annual value of such lands so determined by him shall exceed by one-fifth the value stated in such return, the expense of such valuation may be recovered from the person by whom such return was lodged, as provided in sections 98 and 99, and in all other cases the said expense shall be borne by the District Road Fund.

Person returned as cultivating ryot may be served with notice.

24. The Collector may, whenever he may think fit, cause a notice in the form No. I in Schedule (B) contained to be served on any person holding any lands or possessing any interest therein, although such person may have been mentioned in any return as a cultivating ryot; and thereupon such person shall be bound to make a return of the annual value of such lands within one month from the service of such notice in the form in Schedule (A) contained, and the provisions of sections 17 and 18 regarding extension of time for lodging a return and regarding fines respectively shall be applicable to such person.

If no return made, Collector may ascertain annual value of lands.

25. If no return is made by any person on whom a notice has been served as provided in the last preceding section, the Collector may proceed by such ways and means as to him shall seem expedient to ascertain the annual value of the lands held by such person; and in case it appears that such annual value is greater than the rent paid by such person, the expense of such valuation shall be borne by such person, and may be recovered with all costs of recovery thereof as provided in sections 98 and 99, but in all other cases shall be borne by the District Road Fund.

Collector may correct classification in returns.

26. If it shall appear to the Collector that any person on whom a notice has been served under section 24 has been wrongly classed in the return as a cultivating ryot, the Collector may direct that the entry be corrected and that such person be classed as a tenure-holder; and thereupon such person shall be deemed to be a tenure-holder for the purposes of the assessment and levy of the cesses in respect of the lands held by him.

Summary valuation of small revenue-paying estates and tenures.

27. Whenever the revenue annually payable in respect of any estate, or the rent annually payable in respect of any tenure, does not exceed the sum of one hundred rupees, the Collector may, without issuing any notice for such estate or tenure—

(a) in any case, determine the annual value of the land comprised therein to be in a permanently-settled estate or tenure, a sum not exceeding three times, and in a temporarily-settled estate or tenure, a sum not exceeding twice, the amount of the annual revenue or rent payable therefor; or

Summary valuation of small revenue-free estates and rent-free tenures of which the area has been ascertained.

28. When the area of any revenue-free estate or rent-free tenure, the gross rental of which does not exceed, or is not estimated by the Collector to exceed, the sum of one hundred rupees has been ascertained, the Collector may, without issuing any notice for such estate or tenure, determine the annual value of such estate or tenure to be at such rate per acre as to him may seem fit.

Computation of annual value of land comprised in a subordinate tenure in a summarily valued estate or tenure.

29. When the land contained in any estate or tenure has been summarily valued by the Collector in the manner provided by clause (a) of section 27, the annual value of any portion of such land which is comprised within a tenure subordinate to such estate or tenure shall be determined according to the following rules:—

(1).—When the subordinate tenure comprises the whole of the estate or superior tenure, the annual value of the subordinate tenure shall be taken to be the same as that of the estate or superior tenure.

Example.—An estate paying a revenue of Rs. 80 is summarily valued by the Collector, under clause (a) of section 27, at Rs. 200. The whole estate is let in patni for a rent of Rs. 120. The annual value of the patni tenure will be Rs. 200.

(2).—When the subordinate tenure comprises a part only of the land constituting the estate or superior tenure—

(a) The difference between the annual value of the estate or superior tenure, and the revenue or rent payable in respect of such estate or superior tenure shall first be ascertained;

(b) Next, the ratio which such difference bears to such revenue or rent shall be ascertained;

(c) Then the amount which bears the same ratio to the rent payable in respect of the subordinate tenure shall be ascertained;

(d) Half of the amount so ascertained shall be added to the rent payable in respect of the subordinate tenure, and the result shall be taken to be the annual value of the subordinate tenure.

Example A.—An estate paying revenue of Rs. 60 is summarily valued by the Collector, under clause (a) of section 27, at Rs. 100. A part only of the estate is let in patni for a rent of Rs. 37-8.

The difference between the annual value of the estate (Rs. 100) and the revenue paid in respect of it (Rs. 60) is Rs. 40. This difference bears a ratio of two-thirds to this revenue (Rs. 60).

The amount which bears the same ratio (two-thirds) to the rent payable in respect of the patni (Rs. 37-8) is Rs. 25;

add half of Rs. 25 to the rent payable in respect of the patni tenure, and the result (Rs. 37-8 + Rs. 12-8=) Rs. 50 will be the annual value of the patni tenure.

Example B.—Within the patni tenure paying a rent of Rs. 37-8, as in example A, is a darpatni tenure paying a rent of Rs. 27.

The difference between the annual value of the patni tenure ascertained as above (Rs. 50) and the rent payable in respect of the patni (Rs. 37-8,) is Rs. 12-8 which bears a rate of one-third to the said rent.

The amount which bears the same ratio (one-third) to the rent payable in respect of the darpatni (Rs. 27) is Rs. 9;

add half of Rs. 9 to the rent payable in respect of the darpatni, and the result (Rs. 27 + Rs. 4-8=) Rs. 31-8 will be the annual value of the darpatni tenure.

30. When the land contained in any estate or tenure has been summarily valued according to a rate per acre, under clause (b) of section 27, or under section 28, the annual value of the land comprised in any subordinate tenure shall be taken at the same rate per acre as that of the estate or superior tenure.

When such land may be valued according to rate per acre.

31. The holder of any estate or tenure which has been summarily valued under section 27 or 28 may, within one month from the posting of the valuation roll in respect thereof under section 35, lodge a return in the form in Schedule (A) contained in regard to such estate or tenure, and thereupon such return shall be deemed to be a return made as required by section 16 and shall be dealt with accordingly.

Holder of summarily valued estate or tenure may lodge return.

32. Instead of proceeding to value any estate or tenure summarily under the provisions of section 27 or 28, the Collector may, if he think fit, cause a notice to be served in respect of any such estate or tenure in the form No. I in Schedule (B) contained, or in the form No. II in the said Schedule contained, as the case may be, and thereupon all the provisions of this Part shall apply in the same way as they would have applied if the annual Government revenue or rent payable in respect of such estate or tenure had exceeded one hundred rupees.

Collector may value small estate or tenure by regular process.

Lands used for Tea, Coffee, or Cinchona.

33. In the case of lands acquired under any rules issued by, or under the authority of, the Government for the sale, lease grant, or clearance of waste lands, or held directly from Government, and used for the cultivation o tea, coffee, or cinchona, the Collector shall, in lieu of the notice prescribed by section 16, cause a notice to be served calling on the holder of such lands to lodge within two months of the service of such notice, a return in the form in Schedule (C) contained giving the particulars in such form set forth; and the annual value of such lands shall be fixed at ten rupees in respect of every acre therein entered as cultivated, unless the Board of Revenue shall in any particular case prescribe a lower rate. The provisions of sections 18 and 21 shall apply to all lands in respect of which a notice has been issued under this section.

Publication of Valuation Rolls and Duration of Valuations.

34. Whenever any valuation or revaluation is made under this Part, the Collector shall cause to be prepared from the returns furnished to him and from the valuations made by him in accordance with this Act a valuation roll of each estate within his district and of the tenures therein comprised, noting thereon for each estate the amount of revenue annually payable to Government on which the deduction specified in section 41 is to be calculated.

Valuation rolls to be prepared.

On the application of any holder of an estate or tenure or holding, and on payment of such copying fee as the Board of Revenue shall from time to time determine, the Collector shall cause to be furnished to such holder a copy or corrected copy of so much of any such returns, and of any such roll as relates to the lands included within his estate, tenure, or holding.

35. On the completion of every roll prescribed under this Part, the Collector shall cause a copy thereof to be posted up at the mâl cutcherry of the estate to which such roll refers, and shall cause extracts of such portions of any such roll as refer to any tenure to be posted up at the mâl cutcherry of such tenure;

Publication of rolls.

Provided that, if no such mâl cutcherry be found, such roll and such extracts shall be posted up at some conspicuous places on the estate and tenures respectively to which they refer, and that if such estate or tenure cannot be found, such roll and such extracts shall be posted at some conspicuous place in any village in which such estate or tenure is believed to be situate.

The person who is entrusted with the publication of any such return shall obtain an acknowledgment in writing signed by two persons who may be either respectable residents of the neighbourhood, or chowkidars, or other officers of Government, to the effect that such return was duly published on the spot, and shall give in such acknowledgment to the Collector.

To be attested by two persons.

36. Except as otherwise in this Part expressly provided, every valuation and revaluation made under this Chapter shall remain in force for the term of five years from the date fixed by the Lieutenant-Governor under section 12 as the date from which the cess leviable in pursuance thereof shall take effect, and thereafter, until another revaluation and assessment in substitution therefor shall have been ordered and completed.

Valuation and revaluation to be in force for five years.

37. Nothing in section 36 contained shall be held to debar the Collector, with the sanction of the Board of Revenue, from making at any time any reduction which he may think fit in the valuation of any estate or tenure;

Collector may reduce valuation, or from making a valuation of and assessing and levying cess under the rules laid down in this Part upon any estate or tenure which for any reason whatever has been omitted from the valuations and assessments for the time being in force, or which was not in existence when such valuation or assessment was made.

and may value and assess omitted and newly-found estates and tenures.

Rate at which road cess shall be levied, how to be fixed.

38. The road cess for each year shall be assessed and levied in each district as provided in section 6, and, subject to the maximum rate in that section mentioned, at such rate as may be determined for such year by the Committee of such district with the approval of the Commissioner under section 150 or 151, or with the approval of the Lieutenant-Governor under section 153, as the case may be, or at such rate as the Lieutenant-Governor may order under section 153.

Rate at which public works cess shall be levied, how to be fixed.

39. The public works cess for each year shall be assessed and levied in each district as provided in section 6, and, subject to the maximum rate in that section mentioned, at such rate as the Lieutenant-Governor may determine for such year.

Notice showing amount of cess payable to be served on semindars.

40. When the rate of road cess and public works cess to be levied in any district shall have been determined for any year and published in the Calcutta Gazette as provided in section 155, the Collector of the district shall cause the rate so determined to be published by affixing a notification in some conspicuous place in the office of the said Collector, in every civil court, in every police station, and in the office of every sub-divisional officer within the district, and shall cause such rate to be proclaimed by beat of drum throughout the district, and shall cause to be served on the holder of every estate within the district a notice showing the amount of road cess and public works cess payable in respect of his estate, and specifying the date from which such road cess and public works cess will take effect;

Provided that it shall not be necessary to serve such notice when no change has been made in the valuation of the estate or in the rate of road cess or public works cess since the issue of the last notice under this section.

Mode of payment of road cess and public works cess by holder of estate.

41. Except as otherwise in this Act provided (1)—Every holder of an estate shall yearly pay to the Collector the entire amount of the road cess and public works cess calculated on the annual value of the lands comprised in such estate, at the rate or rates which may have been determined for such cesses respectively for the year as in this Act provided, less a deduction to be calculated at one-half of the said rates for every rupee of the revenue entered in the valuation roll of such estate as payable in respect thereof.

By holder of tenure.

(2)—Every holder of a tenure shall yearly pay to the holder of the estate or tenure within which the land held by him is included, the entire amount of the road cess and public works cess calculated on the annual value of the land comprised in his tenure at the rate or rates which may have been determined for such cesses respectively for the year as in this Act provided, less a deduction to be calculated at one-half of the said rates for every rupee of the rent payable by him for such tenure.

By cultivating ryot.

(3)—Every cultivating ryot shall pay to the person to whom his rent is payable one-half of the said road cess and public works cess calculated at the said rate or rates respectively upon the rent payable by him, or upon the annual value ascertained under the provisions of section 24 or 25 of the land held by him.

Time of payment by holder of an estate;

42. (1)—Every holder of a revenue-paying estate shall pay the amount of road cess and public works cess due by him in equal instalments on the several days fixed for the payment of the instalments of revenue due in respect of his estate, or, if such revenue be payable in one annual sum, then on the day fixed for the payment of such sum.

(2)—Every holder of a revenue-free estate shall pay the amount of road cess and public works cess due by him in two equal instalments or in one annual payment upon such days or day as shall be for that purpose appointed by any order of the Lieutenant-Governor.

By tenure-holder and ryot.

(3)—Every holder of a rent-paying tenure and every cultivating ryot shall pay the amount of road cess and public works cess due by him in instalments in the proportion of the instalments of rent payable in respect of the tenure or holding of such tenure-holder or ryot;

Provided that, in cases in which, according to local usage or to the terms of any agreement, no part of such rent falls due before the end of the year on account of which it is payable, the tenure-holder or ryot shall pay the amount of road cess and public works cess due by him in two equal instalments upon such days as shall be for that purpose appointed by any order of the Lieutenant-Governor.

Distribution of valuation in case of partition.

43. In case of partition of an estate being effected under Regulation XIX of 1814, or Bengal Act VIII of 1876, or any similar Act, after valuation of such estate and while such valuation remains in force, the total valuation of the original estate shall be distributed proportionately under the order of the Collector over the newly-formed estates, whereupon the newly-formed estates shall, for the purposes of this Act, take the place of the original estate, the liability to pay cess in respect of each newly-formed estate being separate and distinct from the liability to pay cess in respect of any other of such newly-formed estates.

Such separate liability shall take effect from the same date as the separate liability of the newly-formed estates respectively in respect of land-revenue.

Procedure to be followed when there is a partition.

The procedure prescribed by sections 34 and 35 shall be followed whenever a redistribution of the valuation is made in consequence of a partition as mentioned in the last preceding section.

Effect of opening separate account under Act XI of 1859 or Act VII of 1876.

44. When a recorded sharer of a joint revenue-paying estate has opened a separate account under Act XI of 1859, or under section 70 of Bengal Act VII of 1876, or any similar law for the time being in force for the regulation of the opening and maintaining of such separate accounts, he shall be entitled, in regard to the payment and realization of road cess and public works cess under this Act, to all the advantages of separate liability enjoyed by him under the said Acts XI of 1859, and Bengal Act VII of 1876, in regard to the payment and realization of revenue, and shall be entitled to separate assessment and to the issue of separate notices under this Act from the date on which such advantages shall take effect in respect of the demand of Government revenue.

(2)—Whenever any such separate account is opened after the valuation of an estate, and while such valuation remains in force, the Collector shall issue a notice on the holders of the shares severally, in respect of which the accounts are to be kept separately, informing them that unless any objection is preferred to the Collector within one month of the service of such notice, the amount of the cesses which the whole estate is liable to pay according to the existing valuation will, from the date on which such separate accounts were opened, be apportioned among such shares severally in proportion to the amount of Government revenue for the payment of which each such share is entered in the separate accounts as being liable. Such notice shall specify such proportionate amount.

(3)—If no such objection be preferred within the time specified, such proportionate amount shall be the amount of the cesses for which the respective holders of such several shares are primarily liable as mentioned in Section 13 of Act XI of 1859, subject, however, to the general responsibility of the holders of the entire estate as mentioned in Section 14 of the said Act, if the amount of the cesses due on account of any such share cannot be recovered as provided in Sections 98 and 99 of this Act from the holders of such share.

(4)—If any such objection shall be preferred as aforesaid, the total amount of the cesses for which the whole estate is liable according to the existing valuation shall be apportioned among the several shares in respect of which such separate accounts are opened in proportion to the annual value of such shares respectively under such rules or special instructions, not being inconsistent with this Act, as may be issued by the Board of Revenue; and the holders of such several shares shall be primarily liable as aforesaid for the payment of the amount of the cesses so apportioned on their shares respectively.

Penalty for default of payment of instalments.

45. If any instalment of road cess or public works cess or part thereof payable to the Collector shall not be paid within fifteen days from the date on which the same becomes due, the amount of such instalment or part thereof may be recovered at any time within three years after it became due, with interest at the rate of twelve per centum per annum calculated from the date on which such instalment became due, and with all costs of recovering the same.

With permission of the Lieutenant-Governor Collector may keep separate account of cesses payable by registered holders of revenue-free estates.

46. (1)—In any district to which the Lieutenant-Governor may specially order that the provisions of this section shall be extended, it shall be lawful for the Collector to keep a separate account in respect of the amount of cesses payable and paid by any holder of a revenue-free estate who is recorded in Part I of the Collector's general register of revenue-free lands as proprietor or manager of any specified share or interest in any revenue-free property.

(2)—Such separate account shall be opened and kept under such rules as to the levy of fees and other matters, and subject to such conditions and in such manner as the Board of Revenue may from time to time prescribe, and the Board of Revenue may at any time order that any separate account which has been so opened shall be closed from such time as they may direct, and no longer kept as a separate account.

(3)—As long as any separate account shall remain open as provided in the preceding section, and no longer, the joint liability of the holders of such revenue-free estate for payment of the entire amount payable in respect of such estate shall cease; and the Collector shall recover the amount of cess or other demand due in respect of each share or interest for which an account has been so separately kept from the holder or holders of such share or interest only; and, if the Collector shall think fit to proceed under section 99, he shall take action under that section against the share or interest only in respect of which the sum demanded is due and the rents thereof.

Recovery by holders of estates or tenures.

47. Every holder of an estate or tenure to whom any sum may be payable under the provisions of this Act may recover the same with interest at the rate of twelve and a half per centum per annum in the same manner and under the same penalties as if the same were arrears of rent due to him.

Recovery from co-shareholders.

48. Any shareholder in an estate or tenure who may have paid the road cess or public works cess payable in respect of such estate or tenure, or any part thereof in excess of the amount proportionate to his own interest in such estate or tenure, may recover from his co-sharers such sums as he may have paid on account of their respective shares and interests, in the same manner and under similar penalties, or may take credit for such sums in any adjustment of accounts between himself and his co-sharers.

Recovery by recorded shareholders from their co-sharers by certificate process.

49. Whenever any shareholder in an estate who is recorded in the general register of revenue-paying and revenue-free lands maintained by the Collector, or whenever any shareholder in an estate the extent of whose share or interest in such estate is recorded in any other register kept up by the Collector of lands paying revenue or rent to the Collector direct, shall have paid the road cess or public works cess payable in respect of such estate, or any part thereof in excess of the amount proportionate to his own interest in such estate, he may, within fifteen days of such payment being made, move the Collector to make a certificate as provided by any law for the time being in force for the recovery of Public Demands, specifying the amount which has been paid in by such shareholder as cess in respect of the recorded share or interest of any other shareholder in the estate; and thereupon such Collector may if he think fit make such certificate, and such certificate shall have the same effect as a certificate made for the recovery of a Public Demand; and the same notices shall be issued and the same proceedings may be taken thereon by the Collector as in case of such certificate;

Provided that the person in whose favour the certificate has been made shall be deemed to be the decree-holder for the sum mentioned in the certificate; and all proceedings taken by the Collector for the recovery of the sums mentioned in the certificate shall be taken at the instance of the person in whose favour the certificate has been made, and at his cost, and on his responsibility, and not otherwise;

Provided also that if any person against whom such certificate has been made shall object that the amount of the cesses for the recovery of which the certificate has been made is greater than the amount which the applicant for the certificate would recover from such person in a civil court as being equitably payable in respect of such person's share or interest in the estate, and if in the opinion of the Collector there is probable ground for such objection, the Collector may, if he see fit, cancel such certificate, and leave the applicant to his remedy in the civil court.

CHAPTER IV.—Valuation and assessment of lands held rent-free and payment and recovery of Cess in respect thereof.

Rent-free lands in what estates or tenures to be included for the purposes of this Act.

50. All lands held without payment of rent other than lands mentioned in section 33, and other than estates entered on the General Register of Revenue-free lands of the district, shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to form a part of any tenure within the local boundaries of which they are contained; and if they are not contained within the local boundaries of any tenure, then to form a part of any estate within the local boundaries of which they are contained; and if they are not contained within the local boundaries of any estate, then to form a part of the estate in which they were included at the original settlement of such estate; and if there be any doubt as to the estate in which they were so included, then to form a part of such conterminous estate as the Collector, in whose district such conterminous estate is situate, shall by an order under his seal appoint.

Holders of estates and tenures bound to return rent-free lands, and to pay cess at half rates for such lands included therein.

51. Every holder of an estate or tenure who is required by this Act to submit a return in the form in Schedule (A) contained shall be bound to enter in such return all lands of the nature of those specified in section 50 according to the tenor thereof; and shall be bound to pay road cess and public works cess on the annual value of such lands, at one-half of the rates fixed under this Act for the levy of such cesses respectively in the district generally for the year.

Notice and extracts of valuation-roll to be published by Collector in respect of such rent-free lands.

52. Whenever any lands held rent-free shall have been included in the return of any estate or tenure as provided in the last preceding section, the Collector shall, on publication of the valuation-roll of such estate or tenure as provided in section 35, cause to be published a notice in the form in Schedule (D) contained, to which notice shall be annexed such extracts from the valuation-roll of such estate or tenure as relate to such lands.

Such publication may be lawfully made by affixing one copy of such notice and extracts at some conspicuous place in every village within which any such lands are situate,

by depositing another copy of the same at any police-station, registration office, or other Government office in the neighbourhood for the inspection of all concerned,

and by proclamation as herein next provided.

The proclamation shall be made by beat of drum throughout every such village, and shall be to the effect that such extracts have been so affixed and deposited, and that the owners and holders of such lands are required to inform themselves, by inspection of such extracts, of the valuation put upon their lands, and to pay yearly to the holder of the estate or tenure in the return of which such lands are included the cesses which shall be payable in respect of such lands under the provisions of this Act.

Holder of rent-free land may object to valuation.

53. Within a reasonable time not exceeding thirty days after the issue of any process for the recovery of any sum due from him as cess under this Chapter, the owner, holder, or occupier of any such land may make before the Collector an objection to the valuation of his land as entered in the valuation-roll so published, and on such objection being made, the Collector shall, by such ways and means as to him shall seem expedient, ascertain and fix the annual value of the land in the possession of such owner, holder, or occupier, and may alter such roll accordingly, and shall give notice of any such alteration to the holder of the estate or tenure to which such roll relates;

Provided that nothing in this section shall be taken to authorise the Collector to alter any return so as to show any area of land as held rent-free which the maker of such return can show to be accounted for by him in the return as rent-paying land.

Notice to be published by holders of estate in certain cases.

54. In the following cases, that is to say—

(1) whenever a new valuation or revaluation takes effect in any district or part of a district;

(2) whenever the rate fixed for the levy of the road cess or of the public works cess in any year is changed from the rate at which such cess was levied in the preceding year; and

(3) whenever the dates fixed by the Lieutenant-Governor under section 57 for payment of instalments of the cesses by holders of rent-free land are changed, the holder of every estate or tenure to whom any cesses are payable in respect of lands held free of rent shall cause a notice to be published in every village in which any such lands are situate, informing all concerned of the rate which has been fixed for the levy of such cesses respectively; and requiring every owner and holder of any such land of which the cesses are payable to the person who causes the notice to be published to pay the amount of the cesses specified in such notice as it falls due, until a similar notice of change of the amount shall be given.

Such notice shall contain the following information in respect of each tenure and holding of rent-free land which is entered separately in the Collector's valuation-roll:—

(1) a specification of the land in respect of which the cesses are payable;

(2) the name of the owner, holder, or occupier of such lands, if known;

(3) the annual value of such land as entered in the Collector's valuation-roll;

(4) the rate on each rupee of the annual value which has been fixed under the Act for the levy of the road cess and public works cess respectively for the year;

(5) the amount of the cesses payable in respect of each tenure or holding, calculated at such rates; and

(6) the dates fixed by the Lieutenant-Governor under section 57 for the payment of each instalment together with the amount of each instalment.

Mode of publication.

55. Publication of the notice abovementioned may be lawfully made by affixing one copy of the same at some conspicuous place in every village in which any such land is situate;

or at any other convenient place in the neighbourhood;

and by proclamation as herein next provided.

The proclamation shall be made by beat of drum throughout such village, and shall be to the effect that such notice has been so affixed and so deposited, that it is open to inspection at the mâl cutcherry or other convenient place as abovementioned, and that every owner and holder of rent-free land is required to inform himself of the contents of such notice and to pay the amount of the cesses due by him accordingly.

Owner of rent-free land bound to pay cess at full rate.

56. After publication of the extracts from the roll as provided in section 52, and in cases in which publication of the notice mentioned in section 54 is required, after publication of such notice, and not otherwise, every owner and holder of any rent-free land included in such extracts and every person in receipt of the rents and profits or in possession and enjoyment of such land shall be bound to pay year by year to the holder of the estate or tenure in the return of which such land has been included the amount of the road cess and public works cess which may thereafter become due to such holder, calculated on the annual value of such land as entered in such extracts, or on any other annual value which may have been determined by the Collector under section 53, at the full rate or rates which may have been fixed under this Act for the levy of such cesses respectively in the district generally for the year.

Instalments to be fixed by Lieutenant-Governor.

57. The payment of the cesses for each year by the holder of any land which is held rent-free shall be made by two equal instalments, or in one payment, upon such days or day as shall be for that purpose fixed by the Lieutenant-Governor.

If instalments not paid within a month, double the amount may be recovered.

58. When an instalment of the cesses due on any rent-free land is not paid to the holder of the estate or tenure to whom it is due within one month of the date on which such instalment is payable, such holder shall be entitled to recover a sum equal to double the amount of such instalment due to him under sections 56 and 57, with interest on such sum calculated at the rate of twelve and a half per centum per annum from the date on which such instalment was payable, and with all costs of suit;

Holders of estates, &c., may send in supplementary returns in respect of rent-free lands.

59. If the holder of any estate or tenure shall have omitted to enter in his return (whether such return was made under Bengal Act X of 1871, or under this Act), any rent-free land which he was bound to enter in such return, such holder may at any time after the passing of this Act give in to the Collector a Supplementary Return showing the necessary particulars in respect of the land so omitted in the form given in Part IV of Schedule A, and shall thereupon pay to the Collector the amount of the cesses which would have been payable by him to such Collector in respect of such land for the three years next preceding, or for any shorter period which may have elapsed since the estate or tenure was last valued.

Effect of supplementary returns.

60. Such Supplementary Return shall to all intents and purposes have the same effect as a return duly made under the provisions of section 51; and sections 51 to 56 (both inclusive) shall be applicable to and in respect of any rent-free land included in such supplementary return.

Sections applicable to amounts payable by owner, &c., of rent-free land.

61. The provisions of sections 57 and 58 shall be applicable to every amount which, as provided in section 56, may become payable by the owner and holder of any such rent-free land to the holder of any such estate or tenure after the fulfilment of the requirements in sections 52, 53, and 54 contained.

Section 58 not applicable to such amounts until sections 52, 53 and 54 are complied with.

62. The provisions of section 58 shall not be applicable to any such amount which may have become so payable under the provisions of Bengal Act X of 1871 or of this Act before the fulfilment of the requirements of the sections 52, 53, and 54; but when any instalment of cess which may have become payable before the fulfilment of such requirements has not been paid to the holder of such estate or tenure on the date on which such instalment was payable, the holder of such estate or tenure may recover the amount of such instalment, together with interest at the rate of twelve and a half per centum per annum on such amount, and with all costs of suit;

Provided that no holder of an estate or tenure shall recover any amount under the provisions of this section, unless he has paid to the Collector all sums which became payable by him to such Collector on account of road cess and public works cess, at any date within the year in which the amount sought to be recovered became payable to such holder of an estate or tenure.

Owner of rent-free land liable to pay cess in future

63. As soon as the said requirements shall have been fulfilled, in respect of any such land which is included in any such supplementary return, every owner and holder of such land and every person in receipt of the rents and profits, or in possession and enjoyment of such land, shall be bound to pay the amount of the road cess and public works cess which may thereafter become due on such land to the holder of the estate or tenure, in the supplementary return of which such land has been included. Sections 56 and 57 and 58 shall be applicable to the cesses so payable.

Additional return of rent-free land entered in return under Act X of 1871 may be made.

64. (1)—Every holder of an estate or tenure who has included any rent-free lands in any return made to the Collector in respect of his estate or tenure under the provisions of the Bengal Act X of 1871, and has paid to the Collector any cess payable under the said Act, or under the Bengal Act, II of 1877, in respect of the said rent-free lands, may at any time after the commencement of this Act give in to such Collector an additional return in the form given in Part IV of Schedule (A).

Additional return to be deemed supplementary return.

(2)—Such additional return shall be deemed to be a supplementary return within the meaning of section 59, and from the date of the inclusion of any such lands in such additional return the same consequences shall ensue, and the same rights and obligations accrue to the Collector and to the holder of such estate or tenure, and the same liabilities shall attach to the owner, holder and occupier of such lands as would have attached to them respectively if such lands had been included in a supplementary return given in under section 59.

Occupier may deduct cess paid from rent.

65. Whenever any occupier of land which is held rent-free by the owner thereof shall have paid any sum as cess due in respect of such land to any holder of an estate or tenure to whom such cess is payable, such occupier shall be entitled to deduct the sum so paid by him from the rent next thereafter payable by him to the owner of such land, until such sum is fully adjusted.

Notice to be served on holder of rent-free land requiring him to lodge return.

66. Notwithstanding anything in this Chapter contained, the Collector may at any time cause a notice as mentioned in section 16 to be served on the holder of any rent-free land which he shall consider not to have been entered in the return of any estate or tenure in which such land ought to have been included under the provisions of section 51. Such notice shall require the holder of such land to lodge at the office of the said Collector a return in the form in Schedule (A) contained in respect of such land;

and on service of such notice the provisions of this Chapter shall no longer apply to such lands; but the same consequences shall ensue, and the same liabilities shall attach to the holder of such land as would have ensued and would have attached if such lands had constituted a revenue-free estate.

If the Collector has reason to believe that any land in respect of which he determines to serve such notice has been included in the return of any estate or tenure, he shall give notice of his intention to the holder of such estate or tenure, and shall alter such return as may be requisite, and shall correct the valuation and assessment of such estate or tenure as may be required.

If no notice served, such holder bound to notify omission to Collector.

67. If within one year of the commencement of this Act no notice has been served as mentioned in section 66 on the holder of any rent-free land requiring him to lodge a return in the office of the Collector, and if such land has not been included in any extracts from the returns of estates and tenures published by the Collector under section 52 or other similar section, the holder of such rent-free land shall be bound within one month of the expiration of such year to give information of such omission to the Collector, together with a description of the said land, a specification of the village or villages within which it is situate, the area in each village, and the amount of rent payable to him thereupon;

Provided that no holder of rent-free land who at any time after the expiration of the time prescribed shall of his own motion and otherwise than after the issue of any notice by the Collector in respect of his lands give such information to the Collector shall be liable to prosecution for omitting to give such information within the prescribed time.

Collector thereupon may require such holder to make return.

68. On receipt of such information whether within the time prescribed or after the expiration thereof, the Collector may, by an order in writing, require such owner or holder to make a return of his land in the form in Schedule (A) contained, or, if the gross rental of such land does not exceed one hundred rupees, may order that such land shall be summarily valued under section 27 or section 28, and may proceed to make such valuation.

Order to have effect of notice.

69. Every order made by a Collector under the last preceding section shall have the same effect and be followed by the same consequences as the issue of a notice by the Collector under section 66.

Liability of such holder to pay arrears of cesses.

70. As soon as any rent-free land which had not previously been included in the valuation of any estate or tenure, has been valued by the Collector after the issue of a notice as provided in section 66, or after an order made under section 68, the holder of such land shall become liable to pay to the Collector the road cess and the public works cess due on such land, in accordance with such valuation, for the three years last preceding such valuation, at the full rates at which such cesses were respectively levied for each such year in the district generally, together with interest calculated at twelve and a half per centum per annum on each instalment from the date on which such instalment would have been payable if such valuation had been in force.

Such holder is not liable to pay cesses except to Collector or his Deputy.

71. No owner or holder of rent-free land on whom a notice has been served by the Collector under section 66, or in respect of whose land an order has been made by the Collector under section 68, shall be liable to have the land to which such notice or order refers included in any return of an estate or tenure or to pay any amount as road cess or public works cess otherwise than to the Collector or to some person appointed by him in that behalf, unless, on a revaluation of any estate or tenure being made, the Collector shall by an order in writing direct that for the future such land shall be included within such estate or tenure for the purposes of this Act; and upon such order being made the provisions of this Chapter, in so far as they are applicable, shall apply to the assessment and payment of road cess and public works cess in respect of such land.

CHAPTER V.—Valuation, assessment, and levy of cesses on mines, railways, and other immovable property.

Notice to return profits.

72. On the commencement of this Act in any district, and thereafter before the close of each year, the Collector of the district shall cause a notice to by served upon the owner, chief agent, manager or occupier of every mine, quarry, tramway railway and other immovable property not included within the provisions of Chapter II, and not being one of the tramways or railways mentioned in section 8; such notice shall be in the form in Schedule (E) contained, and shall require such owner, chief agent, manager or occupier to lodge in the office of such Collector within two months a return of the annual net profits of such property, calculated on the average of the annual net profits thereof for the last three years for which accounts have been made up.

Such Collector may in his discretion extend the time allowed for lodging such return.

When property lies in different districts.

73. Whenever any property assessable under this Chapter lies in two or more districts, the notice to furnish a return under section 72 shall be served on the owner, chief agent, manager or occupier of such property by or through the Collector of the district in which such owner, chief agent, manager or occupier may reside or have his chief place of business, and one return for the whole of such property shall suffice.

When property is partly in and partly outside Bengal.

74. Whenever any property assessable under this Chapter lies partly within and partly outside the territories administered by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, the return furnished as required by section 72 shall state the total annual net profits calculated as aforesaid accruing from such property, and also the proportion of such profits which may reasonably be calculated to accrue in the territories administered by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

If return not furnished or incorrect, Collector to make valuation.

75. If such return be not furnished within the period of two months from the date on which such notice was served, or within any extended time allowed by the Collector of the District, or if such Collector shall deem that any return made in pursuance of such notice is untrue or incorrect, such Collector shall proceed to ascertain and determine by such ways or means as to him shall seem expedient the annual net profits of such property calculated as aforesaid.

Valuation on value of property.

76. If such Collector be unable to ascertain the annual net profits as aforesaid of any property assessable under this Chapter, he may, by such ways or means as to him shall seem expedient, ascertain and determine the value of such property, and shall thereupon determine six per centum on such value to be the annual net profits thereon.

Cost of valuation from whom to be recovered

77. The expenses incurred in making any valuation under section 75 or section 76 may be recovered together with all costs of the recovery thereof as provided in section 98 from the person who was bound to make such return or who made the incorrect return.

Notice of valuation.

78. PART VI.

Bills of the India Council.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Third Publication.]

No. 18 of 1880.

A Bill to enhance the rate of Port-dues leviable at Madras.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it has been determined to construct an artificial harbour for the port of Madras and to defray a portion of the interest on the principal sum expended on the construction of such harbour and of the annual expenses of maintaining the same out of the dues leviable on sea-going vessels of fifteen tons and upwards entering the said port:

And whereas the maximum rate of such dues is fixed by the Indian Ports Act, 1875, section forty-five, and the third part of the first schedule thereto annexed, and the amount of such rate is insufficient to defray such portion of the said interest and expenses in addition to the other charges to meet which the said dues are applicable:

And whereas it is therefore necessary to enhance, to the extent hereinafter mentioned, the maximum rate of dues so leviable;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title

1. This Act may be called "The Madras Port-dues Act, 1880;" and Commencement.

It shall come into force as soon as the said harbour is, in the opinion of the local Government, open for the use of sea-going vessels of fifteen tons and upwards, and the said Government has published, in the Fort St. George Gazette, a notification to that effect.

Amendment of Part III of the first Schedule of Act XII of 1875.

2. In the Indian Ports Act, 1875, first Schedule, Part III, the following amendments shall be made, that is to say—

(a) in the first column the numeral and word "9, Madras" shall be omitted;

(b) in the first column, above the heading "Eastern Group," the word "Madras" shall be inserted; and

(c) opposite the word "Madras" so inserted there shall be inserted—

(1) in the second column the words "sea-going vessels of fifteen tons and upwards;" and

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE funds requisite for the construction of the artificial harbour at Madras are being advanced by the Government.

It is estimated that the whole cost of the work will amount to Rs. 62,80,000, and it is proposed to raise, by taxation levied on the trade of the port, an annual income sufficient to pay interest at 4 per cent. on this sum, together with Rs. 60,000, the estimated annual charge for maintenance.

Port-dues at the rate of 3 annas (or in the case of coasting vessels 1½ annas) per ton can at present be levied under the Indian Ports Act, 1875, on vessels entering the port, and the simplest mode of raising the requisite income would be by an enhancement of those dues. It is, however, manifest that they could not be enhanced beyond a certain point without injuriously affecting the calling trade of the port, and it has accordingly been determined, after reference to the Madras Chamber of Commerce, that the best course to take will be to raise only a portion of that income in the shape of Port-dues, leaving the rest to be raised by a tax on goods landed and shipped, the precise form of which will be settled hereafter. In accordance with this determination the present Bill has been prepared. It admits of the Port-dues being raised to eight annas per ton, or in the case of vessels employed in the coasting trade and not being steamers to four annas. The additional income which may be obtained by so raising them is estimated at Rs. 1,60,000 per annum.

The Bill is drawn so as not to come into operation till the new harbour is open.

Examinations in colour shall be held to test the ability of candidates for masters' or mates' certificates to distinguish the following colours, which enter largely into the combinations of signals by day or night used at sea—namely, black, white, red, green, yellow, and blue.

These examinations shall be open to any person serving or about to serve in the Mercantile Marine. Any person desirous of being examined in colour only must make application to the Port Officer of Calcutta on the required form, and pay a fee of eight annas. He must on the appointed day attend for examination at the Examiner's Office ; and if he passes, he will receive a certificate to that effect.

The examination of a candidate for a master's or mate's certificate, who does not at the time of making application hold a certificate of competency of any grade, will commence with the colour test, and if the candidate fails in that test, he will not be allowed to present himself for examination in Navigation and Seamanship. The fee he has paid for examination for a certificate of competency will include the fee for the colour test; and, with the exception of eight annas, will be returned to him. A candidate who fails to pass the test may be re-examined after the lapse of two months from the date of his first failure. If he fails a second time, he will be allowed a third trial at the expiration of another two months from the date of his second failure. A fresh fee must be paid at each succeeding examination.

A candidate who has obtained a certificate before these regulations came into force, and who, on presenting himself for examination for a certificate of a higher grade, is unable to pass the colour test, will notwithstanding be permitted to proceed in the examination in Navigation and Seamanship for the certificate of the higher grade; but should he pass this examination, the following statement will be written on the face of the higher certificate which may be granted to him, viz. "This officer has failed to pass the examination in colours." Should he fail to pass the examination in Navigation and Seamanship, a like statement, relating to his being colour blind, will be made on his inferior certificate before it is returned to him.

At Calcutta the Examiners of Masters and Mates will also examine in colour.

MODE OF ASSESSMENT.

CHAPTER II.—Valuation of Lands.

Lieutenant Governor may order valuation and revaluation.

12. Upon the commencement of this Act in any district or part of a district the Lieutenant-Governor may order that a valuation shall be made of such district or part of a district;

and from time to time, after the expiration of the term of five years from the beginning of the year in which the levy of the cesses took effect in accordance with any such valuation, or with any revaluation as hereafter provided in this section, or at any time within twelve months previous to the expiration of such term, the Lieutenant-Governor may, if he think fit, order that a revaluation shall be made of any such district or part of a district, and such revaluation shall take effect from the beginning of such year as the Lieutenant-Governor may direct.

After five years holder of estate or tenure may apply to Collector for revaluation.

13. Whenever the term of five years shall have expired from the beginning of the year in which the levy of the cesses took effect in any estate or tenure in accordance with any valuation under this Act, or Bengal Act X of 1871, the holder of any such estate or tenure may apply to the Collector to revalue his estate or tenure, and for such purpose shall lodge in the office of the Collector returns in the form in Schedule (A) contained; and thereupon the Collector shall proceed to revalue such estate or tenure, and if he make any alteration in the valuation of any such tenure shall give notice of such alteration to the holder of the estate or superior tenure in which such tenure is included, and shall alter the valuation of such estate or superior tenure accordingly;

Provided that no revaluation or reduction of the amount of cesses previously payable in respect of any estate or tenure, in consequence of a revaluation under this section, shall take effect until the beginning of the year commencing next after such revaluation, unless the application for revaluation shall have been made, and the necessary returns lodged in the Collector's office within three months after the beginning of a year, in which case such revaluation and reduction, if any, shall take effect from the commencement of such year.

Proclamation to make return of lands to be issued.

14. Whenever the Lieutenant-Governor has ordered that a valuation or a revaluation of any district or part of a district shall be made for the purposes of this Act, the Collector of the district shall cause a proclamation to be issued requiring every holder of an estate or tenure which is liable to pay an annual amount of revenue or an annual amount of rent exceeding one hundred rupees, and every holder of a revenue-free estate or rent-free tenure the gross annual rental of which exceeds one hundred rupees, severally to lodge at the office of such Collector within one month a return of all lands comprised in his estate or tenure in the form in Schedule (A) contained, giving the particulars in such form set forth.

Publication of proclamation.

The Collector of the district shall cause such proclamation to be published by affixing a copy thereof in some conspicuous place in the office of such Collector, in every civil court, in every police station, and in the office of every sub-divisional officer within the district, and in any other manner which the Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time direct.

Revaluation may be of particular estates or tenures only.

15. At any time at which the Lieutenant-Governor might order a revaluation of a district or part of a district to be made as provided by section 12, he may, if he think fit, instead of so ordering, make an order that particular estates or tenures only in such district or part of a district shall be revalued.

Notice to lodge returns.

16. Whenever any proclamation has been published, as mentioned in section 14, in any district, and whenever the Lieutenant-Governor has made an order, under the last preceding section, that a revaluation of particular estates and tenures only shall be made, the Collector shall cause a notice to be served in respect of every estate and tenure which is to be valued or revalued, and in respect of which no return shall have been lodged in accordance with the requirement of such proclamation, requiring every holder of such estate or tenure severally to lodge at the office of the Collector the return mentioned in section 14; and shall also cause a similar notice to be served in respect of every tenure included in any such estate or tenure which may have been named in any return lodged in pursuance of the provisions of this Act, or of Bengal Act X of 1871, either for the purposes of the valuation or revaluation then contemplated, or for the purposes of any previous valuation or revaluation, or of which the existence may in any other way have come to his knowledge.

Form of notice and time for lodging returns.

17. The notice mentioned in the last preceding section shall be in the form No. I in Schedule (B) contained or in the form No. II in the said Schedule contained, as the case may be, and shall require every holder of the estate or tenure severally to lodge the return within the time specified below, viz —

In the case of revenue-paying estates and rent-paying tenures.

If the return relate to an estate or tenure which is liable to the payment of annual revenue or of rent not exceeding Rs. 500, or to any share or interest in such estate or tenure;	Within six weeks of the service of the notice.
If the return relate to any other estate or tenure, or to any share or interest therein;	Within three months of the service of the notice.

In the case of revenue-free estates and rent-free tenures.

If the return relate to any estate or tenure of which the gross annual rental does not exceed Rs. 500, or to any share or interest in such estate or tenure;	Within six weeks of the service of the notice.
If the return relate to any other estate or tenure, or to any share or interest therein;	Within three months of the service of the notice.

The Collector may in his discretion extend the time allowed for lodging any such return.

Penalty for omitting to make return.

18. All holders of estates or tenures in respect of which such notice has been served who shall, without sufficient cause being shown to the satisfaction of the Collector, refuse or omit to lodge the required return in the office of such Collector within the time allowed by such notice in respect of the estate or tenure which they hold, or within any extended time which may have been allowed by the Collector for lodging such return, shall be severally liable to a fine which may extend to fifty rupees for every day after the expiration of such time or extended time until such return is furnished, or until the value of the lands comprised in their respective estates and tenures shall have been otherwise ascertained and determined by the Collector as hereinafter provided.

The amount of such fine accruing due from time to time may be levied by the Collector as provided in section 98 or 99, and the fact of an appeal against such fine being pending shall not avail to prevent the levy of any such fine pending the disposal of the appeal, unless the Commissioner shall otherwise direct.

Whenever the amount levied in respect of any such fine exceeds five hundred rupees, the Collector shall report the case specially to the Commissioner; and no further levy for such default shall be made otherwise than by authority of the Commissioner.

No rent to be recovered till return is made.

19. From and after the expiry of the time allowed by the notice, or of any extended time under the provisions of section 17, every holder of an estate or tenure in respect of which such notice has been served shall be precluded from suing for or recovering rent for any land or tenure situate in any estate or tenure in respect of which no return has been lodged as aforesaid.

The Collector may send a list to the civil court of all such holders so making default in lodging returns as aforesaid, and such court shall take judicial notice of the same.

Whenever the required return is lodged in respect of any estate or tenure, or whenever the valuation of any such estate or tenure has been otherwise completed, the disability imposed on the holder thereof by this section shall cease; and if such estate or tenure shall have been included in any list as aforesaid, the Collector shall forthwith give notice to the civil court of the cessation of such disability.

No rent to be recovered for land, &c., not mentioned in return.

20. Every holder of an estate or tenure in respect of which a return has been made as required by this chapter shall be precluded from suing for or recovering—

(a) any rent whatsoever for any land, holding, or tenure forming part of the estate or tenure to which such return relates, but which has not been mentioned in such return, unless it be proved that the holding or tenure for the rent of which the rent is claimed was created subsequently to the lodging of such return;

(b) rent at any higher rate than is mentioned in such return for any land, holding, or tenure included in such return, unless it be proved that the rent of such land or tenure has been lawfully enhanced subsequently to the lodging of such return;

Proviso.

Provided that the Collector may at his discretion, at any time within six months from the presentation of any return made under this Part, receive a petition correcting any such return;

and on the acceptance of such petition may make such correction in the valuation of the estate or tenure as may be required;

and as soon as the person in respect of whose estate or tenure the return and valuation have been so corrected shall have paid in all sums due by him as road cess and public works cess in accordance with such corrected valuation, and not otherwise, such person may recover such rent as may be due to him on any tenure or land included in the return of such estate or tenure at any rate not being in excess of the rate shown in the corrected return as payable in respect of such tenure or land.

Such notices as the Collector may direct shall be served upon the parties affected by such petition at the expense of the person lodging the return as aforesaid.

If returns not furnished, Collector to make valuation.

21. If no return shall have been lodged in respect of any lands for which notice under section 16 has been issued, the Collector may, after the expiration of the time allowed by the notice, or of such extended time as is mentioned in section 17, ascertain and fix by such ways and means as to him shall seem expedient the annual value of any estate, tenure, or lands mentioned in such notice; and all expenses incurred in making such valuation may be recovered with all costs of recovery thereof as provided in sections 98 and 99.

After conviction of making false returns, Collector may make valuation.

22. Whenever the maker of any return under this Act has been convicted on a prosecution under section 94 of making a false return relating to any lands, the Collector may, by such ways and means as to him shall seem expedient, ascertain and fix the annual value of such lands; and the expense of such valuation may be recovered from the maker of such return as provided in sections 98 and 99.

In certain cases of incorrect returns, Collector to make valuation whether prosecution be instituted or not.

23. Whenever the Collector may deem that any return lodged relating to lands for which no rent is payable by cultivating ryots to the person making such return is untrue or incorrect, he may, whether any prosecution as mentioned in section 94 shall have been instituted or not, by such ways and means as to him shall seem expedient, ascertain and fix the annual value of such lands; and in case the annual value of such lands so determined by him shall exceed by one-fifth the value stated in such return, the expense of such valuation may be recovered from the person by whom such return was lodged, as provided in sections 98 and 99, and in all other cases the said expense shall be borne by the District Road Fund.

Person returned as cultivating ryot may be served with notice.

24. The Collector may, whenever he may think fit, cause a notice in the form No. I in Schedule (B) contained to be served on any person holding any lands or possessing any interest therein, although such person may have been mentioned in any return as a cultivating ryot; and thereupon such person shall be bound to make a return of the annual value of such lands within one month from the service of such notice in the form in Schedule (A) contained, and the provisions of sections 17 and 18 regarding extension of time for lodging a return and regarding fines respectively shall be applicable to such person.

If no return made, Collector may ascertain annual value of lands.

25. If no return is made by any person on whom a notice has been served as provided in the last preceding section, the Collector may proceed by such ways and means as to him shall seem expedient to ascertain the annual value of the lands held by such person; and in case it appears that such annual value is greater than the rent paid by such person, the expense of such valuation shall be borne by such person, and may be recovered with all costs of recovery thereof as provided in sections 98 and 99, but in all other cases shall be borne by the District Road Fund.

Collector may correct classification in returns.

26. If it shall appear to the Collector that any person on whom a notice has been served under section 24 has been wrongly classed in the return as a cultivating ryot, the Collector may direct that the entry be corrected and that such person be classed as a tenure-holder;

and thereupon such person shall be deemed to be a tenure-holder for the purposes of the assessment and levy of the cesses in respect of the lands held by him.

Summary valuation of small revenue-paying estates and tenures.

27. Whenever the revenue annually payable in respect of any estate, or the rent annually payable in respect of any tenure, does not exceed the sum of one hundred rupees, the Collector may, without issuing any notice for such estate or tenure—

(a) in any case, determine the annual value of the land comprised therein to be in a permanently-settled estate or tenure, a sum not exceeding three times, and in a temporarily-settled estate or tenure, a sum not exceeding twice, the amount of the annual revenue or rent payable therefor; or

Summary valuation of small revenue-free estates and rent-free tenures of which the area has been ascertained

28. When the area of any revenue-free estate or rent-free tenure, the gross rental of which does not exceed, or is not estimated by the Collector to exceed, the sum of one hundred rupees has been ascertained, the Collector may, without issuing any notice for such estate or tenure, determine the annual value of such estate or tenure to be at such rate per acre as to him may seem fit.

Computation of annual value of land comprised in a subordinate tenure in a summarily valued estate or tenure.

29. When the land contained in any estate or tenure has been summarily valued by the Collector in the manner provided by clause (a) of section 27, the annual value of any portion of such land which is comprised within a tenure subordinate to such estate or tenure shall be determined according to the following rules:—

(1).—When the subordinate tenure comprises the whole of the estate or superior tenure, the annual value of the subordinate tenure shall be taken to be the same as that of the estate or superior tenure.

Example.—An estate paying a revenue of Rs. 80 is summarily valued by the Collector, under clause (a) of section 27, at Rs. 200. The whole estate is let in patni for a rent of Rs. 120. The annual value of the patni tenure will be Rs. 200.

(2).—When the subordinate tenure comprises a part only of the land constituting the estate or superior tenure—

(a) The difference between the annual value of the estate or superior tenure, and the revenue or rent payable in respect of such estate or superior tenure shall first be ascertained;

(b) Next, the ratio which such difference bears to such revenue or rent shall be ascertained;

(c) Then the amount which bears the same ratio to the rent payable in respect of the subordinate tenure shall be ascertained;

(d) Half of the amount so ascertained shall be added to the rent payable in respect of the subordinate tenure, and the result shall be taken to be the annual value of the subordinate tenure.

Example A.—An estate paying revenue of Rs. 60 is summarily valued by the Collector, under clause (a) of section 27, at Rs. 100. A part only of the estate is let in patni for a rent of Rs. 37-8.

The difference between the annual value of the estate (Rs. 100) and the revenue paid in respect of it (Rs. 60) is Rs. 40. This difference bears a ratio of two-thirds to this revenue (Rs. 60).

The amount which bears the same ratio (two-thirds) to the rent payable in respect of the patni (Rs. 37-8) is Rs. 25;

add half of Rs. 25 to the rent payable in respect of the patni tenure, and the result (Rs. 37-8 + Rs. 12-8=) Rs. 50 will be the annual value of the patni tenure.

Example B.—Within the patni tenure paying a rent of Rs. 37-8, as in example A, is a darpatni tenure paying a rent of Rs. 27.

The difference between the annual value of the patni tenure ascertained as above (Rs. 50) and the rent payable in respect of the patni (Rs. 37-8,) is Rs. 12-8 which bears a rate of one-third to the said rent.

The amount which bears the same ratio (one-third) to the rent payable in respect of the darpatni (Rs. 27) is Rs. 9;

add half of Rs. 9 to the rent payable in respect of the darpatni, and the result (Rs. 27 + Rs. 4-8=) Rs. 31-8 will be the annual value of the darpatni tenure.

When such land may be valued according to rate per acre.

30. When the land contained in any estate or tenure has been summarily valued according to a rate per acre, under clause (b) of section 27, or under section 28, the annual value of the land comprised in any subordinate tenure shall be taken at the same rate per acre as that of the estate or superior tenure.

Holder of summarily valued estate or tenure may lodge return.

31. The holder of any estate or tenure which has been summarily valued under section 27 or 28 may, within one month from the posting of the valuation roll in respect thereof under section 35, lodge a return in the form in Schedule (A) contained in regard to such estate or tenure, and thereupon such return shall be deemed to be a return made as required by section 16 and shall be dealt with accordingly.

Collector may value small estate or tenure by regular process.

32. Instead of proceeding to value any estate or tenure summarily under the provisions of section 27 or 28, the Collector may, if he think fit, cause a notice to be served in respect of any such estate or tenure in the form No. I in Schedule (B) contained, or in the form No. II in the said Schedule contained, as the case may be, and thereupon all the provisions of this Part shall apply in the same way as they would have applied if the annual Government revenue or rent payable in respect of such estate or tenure had exceeded one hundred rupees.

Lands used for Tea, Coffee, or Cinchona.

Return of plantations, &c.

33. In the case of lands acquired under any rules issued by, or under the authority of, the Government for the sale, lease grant, or clearance of waste lands, or held directly from Government, and used for the cultivation o tea, coffee, or cinchona, the Collector shall, in lieu of the notice prescribed by section 16, cause a notice to be served calling on the holder of such lands to lodge within two months of the service of such notice, a return in the form in Schedule (C) contained giving the particulars in such form set forth; and the annual value of such lands shall be fixed at ten rupees in respect of every acre therein entered as cultivated, unless the Board of Revenue shall in any particular case prescribe a lower rate. The provisions of sections 18 and 21 shall apply to all lands in respect of which a notice has been issued under this section.

Publication of Valuation Rolls and Duration of Valuations.

Valuation rolls to be prepared.

34. Whenever any valuation or revaluation is made under this Part, the Collector shall cause to be prepared from the returns furnished to him and from the valuations made by him in accordance with this Act a valuation roll of each estate within his district and of the tenures therein comprised, noting thereon for each estate the amount of revenue annually payable to Government on which the deduction specified in section 41 is to be calculated.

On the application of any holder of an estate or tenure or holding, and on payment of such copying fee as the Board of Revenue shall from time to time determine, the Collector shall cause to be furnished to such holder a copy or corrected copy of so much of any such returns, and of any such roll as relates to the lands included within his estate, tenure, or holding.

Publication of rolls.

35. On the completion of every roll prescribed under this Part, the Collector shall cause a copy thereof to be posted up at the mâl cutcherry of the estate to which such roll refers, and shall cause extracts of such portions of any such roll as refer to any tenure to be posted up at the mâl cutcherry of such tenure;

Provided that, if no such mâl cutcherry be found, such roll and such extracts shall be posted up at some conspicuous places on the estate and tenures respectively to which they refer, and that if such estate or tenure cannot be found, such roll and such extracts shall be posted at some conspicuous place in any village in which such estate or tenure is believed to be situate.

To be attested by two persons.

The person who is entrusted with the publication of any such return shall obtain an acknowledgment in writing signed by two persons who may be either respectable residents of the neighbourhood, or chowkidars, or other officers of Government, to the effect that such return was duly published on the spot, and shall give in such acknowledgment to the Collector.

Valuation and revaluation to be in force for five years.

36. Except as otherwise in this Part expressly provided, every valuation and revaluation made under this Chapter shall remain in force for the term of five years from the date fixed by the Lieutenant-Governor under section 12 as the date from which the cess leviable in pursuance thereof shall take effect, and thereafter, until another revaluation and assessment in substitution therefor shall have been ordered and completed.

Collector may reduce valuation,

37. Nothing in section 36 contained shall be held to debar the Collector, with the sanction of the Board of Revenue, from making at any time any reduction which he may think fit in the valuation of any estate or tenure;

and may value and assess omitted and newly-found estates and tenures.

or from making a valuation of and assessing and levying cess under the rules laid down in this Part upon any estate or tenure which for any reason whatever has been omitted from the valuations and assessments for the time being in force, or which was not in existence when such valuation or assessment was made.

CHAPTER III.—Rating and Levy of the Cesses.

Rate at which road cess shall be levied, how to be fixed.

38. The road cess for each year shall be assessed and levied in each district as provided in section 6, and, subject to the maximum rate in that section mentioned, at such rate as may be determined for such year by the Committee of such district with the approval of the Commissioner under section 150 or 151, or with the approval of the Lieutenant-Governor under section 153, as the case may be, or at such rate as the Lieutenant-Governor may order under section 153.

Rate at which public works cess shall be levied, how to be fixed.

39. The public works cess for each year shall be assessed and levied in each district as provided in section 6, and, subject to the maximum rate in that section mentioned, at such rate as the Lieutenant-Governor may determine for such year.

Notice showing amount of cess payable to be served on zemindars.

40. When the rate of road cess and public works cess to be levied in any district shall have been determined for any year and published in the Calcutta Gazette as provided in section 155, the Collector of the district shall cause the rate so determined to be published by affixing a notification in some conspicuous place in the office of the said Collector, in every civil court, in every police station, and in the office of every sub-divisional officer within the district, and shall cause such rate to be proclaimed by beat of drum throughout the district, and shall cause to be served on the holder of every estate within the district a notice showing the amount of road cess and public works cess payable in respect of his estate, and specifying the date from which such road cess and public works cess will take effect;

Provided that it shall not be necessary to serve such notice when no change has been made in the valuation of the estate or in the rate of road cess or public works cess since the issue of the last notice under this section.

Mode of payment of road cess and public works cess by holder of estate.

41. Except as otherwise in this Act provided (1)—Every holder of an estate shall yearly pay to the Collector the entire amount of the road cess and public works cess calculated on the annual value of the lands comprised in such estate, at the rate or rates which may have been determined for such cesses respectively for the year as in this Act provided, less a deduction to be calculated at one-half of the said rates for every rupee of the revenue entered in the valuation roll of such estate as payable in respect thereof.

By holder of tenure.

(2)—Every holder of a tenure shall yearly pay to the holder of the estate or tenure within which the land held by him is included, the entire amount of the road cess and public works cess calculated on the annual value of the land comprised in his tenure at the rate or rates which may have been determined for such cesses respectively for the year as in this Act provided, less a deduction to be calculated at one-half of the said rates for every rupee of the rent payable by him for such tenure.

By cultivating ryot.

(3)—Every cultivating ryot shall pay to the person to whom his rent is payable one-half of the said road cess and public works cess calculated at the said rate or rates respectively upon the rent payable by him, or upon the annual value ascertained under the provisions of section 24 or 25 of the land held by him.

Time of payment by holder of an estate;

42. (1)—Every holder of a revenue-paying estate shall pay the amount of road cess and public works cess due by him in equal instalments on the several days fixed for the payment of the instalments of revenue due in respect of his estate, or, if such revenue be payable in one annual sum, then on the day fixed for the payment of such sum.

(2)—Every holder of a revenue-free estate shall pay the amount of road cess and public works cess due by him in two equal instalments or in one annual payment upon such days or day as shall be for that purpose appointed by any order of the Lieutenant-Governor.

By tenure-holder and ryot.

(3)—Every holder of a rent-paying tenure and every cultivating ryot shall pay the amount of road cess and public works cess due by him in instalments in the proportion of the instalments of rent payable in respect of the tenure or holding of such tenure-holder or ryot;

Provided that, in cases in which, according to local usage or to the terms of any agreement, no part of such rent falls due before the end of the year on account of which it is payable, the tenure-holder or ryot shall pay the amount of road cess and public works cess due by him in two equal instalments upon such days as shall be for that purpose appointed by any order of the Lieutenant-Governor.

Distribution of valuation in case of partition.

43. In case of partition of an estate being effected under Regulation XIX of 1814, or Bengal Act VIII of 1876, or any similar Act, after valuation of such estate and while such valuation remains in force, the total valuation of the original estate shall be distributed proportionately under the order of the Collector over the newly-formed estates, whereupon the newly-formed estates shall, for the purposes of this Act, take the place of the original estate, the liability to pay cess in respect of each newly-formed estate being separate and distinct from the liability to pay cess in respect of any other of such newly-formed estates.

Such separate liability shall take effect from the same date as the separate liability of the newly-formed estates respectively in respect of land-revenue.

Procedure to be followed when there is a partition.

The procedure prescribed by sections 34 and 35 shall be followed whenever a redistribution of the valuation is made in consequence of a partition as mentioned in the last preceding section.

Effect of opening separate account under Act XI of 1859 or Act VII of 1876.

44. When a recorded sharer of a joint revenue-paying estate has opened a separate account under Act XI of 1859, or under section 70 of Bengal Act VII of 1876, or any similar law for the time being in force for the regulation of the opening and maintaining of such separate accounts, he shall be entitled, in regard to the payment and realization of road cess and public works cess under this Act, to all the advantages of separate liability enjoyed by him under the said Acts XI of 1859, and Bengal Act VII of 1876, in regard to the payment and realization of revenue, and shall be entitled to separate assessment and to the issue of separate notices under this Act from the date on which such advantages shall take effect in respect of the demand of Government revenue.

(2)—Whenever any such separate account is opened after the valuation of an estate, and while such valuation remains in force, the Collector shall issue a notice on the holders of the shares severally, in respect of which the accounts are to be kept separately, informing them that unless any objection is preferred to the Collector within one month of the service of such notice, the amount of the cesses which the whole estate is liable to pay according to the existing valuation will, from the date on which such separate accounts were opened, be apportioned among such shares severally in proportion to the amount of Government revenue for the payment of which each such share is entered in the separate accounts as being liable. Such notice shall specify such proportionate amount.

(3)—If no such objection be preferred within the time specified, such proportionate amount shall be the amount of the cesses for which the respective holders of such several shares are primarily liable as mentioned in Section 13 of Act XI of 1859, subject, however, to the general responsibility of the holders of the entire estate as mentioned in Section 14 of the said Act, if the amount of the cesses due on account of any such share cannot be recovered as provided in Sections 98 and 99 of this Act from the holders of such share.

(4)—If any such objection shall be preferred as aforesaid, the total amount of the cesses for which the whole estate is liable according to the existing valuation shall be apportioned among the several shares in respect of which such separate accounts are opened in proportion to the annual value of such shares respectively under such rules or special instructions, not being inconsistent with this Act, as may be issued by the Board of Revenue; and the holders of such several shares shall be primarily liable as aforesaid for the payment of the amount of the cesses so apportioned on their shares respectively.

Penalty for default of payment of instalments.

45. If any instalment of road cess or public works cess or part thereof payable to the Collector shall not be paid within fifteen days from the date on which the same becomes due, the amount of such instalment or part thereof may be recovered at any time within three years after it became due, with interest at the rate of twelve per centum per annum calculated from the date on which such instalment became due, and with all costs of recovering the same.

With permission of the Lieutenant-Governor Collector may keep separate account of cesses payable by registered holders of revenue-free estates.

46. (1)—In any district to which the Lieutenant-Governor may specially order that the provisions of this section shall be extended, it shall be lawful for the Collector to keep a separate account in respect of the amount of cesses payable and paid by any holder of a revenue-free estate who is recorded in Part I of the Collector's general register of revenue-free lands as proprietor or manager of any specified share or interest in any revenue-free property.

(2)—Such separate account shall be opened and kept under such rules as to the levy of fees and other matters, and subject to such conditions and in such manner as the Board of Revenue may from time to time prescribe, and the Board of Revenue may at any time order that any separate account which has been so opened shall be closed from such time as they may direct, and no longer kept as a separate account.

(3)—As long as any separate account shall remain open as provided in the preceding section, and no longer, the joint liability of the holders of such revenue-free estate for payment of the entire amount payable in respect of such estate shall cease; and the Collector shall recover the amount of cess or other demand due in respect of each share or interest for which an account has been so separately kept from the holder or holders of such share or interest only; and, if the Collector shall think fit to proceed under section 99, he shall take action under that section against the share or interest only in respect of which the sum demanded is due and the rents thereof.

Recovery by holders of estates or tenures.

47. Every holder of an estate or tenure to whom any sum may be payable under the provisions of this Act may recover the same with interest at the rate of twelve and a half per centum per annum in the same manner and under the same penalties as if the same were arrears of rent due to him.

Recovery from co-sharers.

48. Any shareholder in an estate or tenure who may have paid the road cess or public works cess payable in respect of such estate or tenure, or any part thereof in excess of the amount proportionate to his own interest in such estate or tenure, may recover from his co-sharers such sums as he may have paid on account of their respective shares and interests, in the same manner and under similar penalties, or may take credit for such sums in any adjustment of accounts between himself and his co-sharers.

Recovery by recorded shareholders from their co-sharers by certificate process.

49. Whenever any shareholder in an estate who is recorded in the general registor of revenue-paying and revenue-free lands maintained by the Collector, or whenever any shareholder in an estate the extent of whose share or interest in such estate is recorded in any other register kept up by the Collector of lands paying revenue or rent to the Collector direct, shall have paid the road cess or public works cess payable in respect of such estate, or any part thereof in excess of the amount proportionate to his own interest in such estate, he may, within fifteen days of such payment being made, move the Collector to make a certificate as provided by any law for the time being in force for the recovery of Public Demands, specifying the amount which has been paid in by such shareholder as cess in respect of the recorded share or interest of any other shareholder in the estate;

and thereupon such Collector may if he think fit make such certificate, and such certificate shall have the same effect as a certificate made for the recovery of a Public Demand; and the same notices shall be issued and the same proceedings may be taken thereon by the Collector as in case of such certificate;

Provided that the person in whose favour the certificate has been made shall be deemed to be the decree-holder for the sum mentioned in the certificate; and all proceedings taken by the Collector for the recovery of the sums mentioned in the certificate shall be taken at the instance of the person in whose favour the certificate has been made, and at his cost, and on his responsibility, and not otherwise;

Provided also that if any person against whom such certificate has been made shall object that the amount of the cesses for the recovery of which the certificate has been made is greater than the amount which the applicant for the certificate would recover from such person in a civil court as being equitably payable in respect of such person's share or interest in the estate, and if in the opinion of the Collector there is probable ground for such objection, the Collector may, if he see fit, cancel such certificate, and leave the applicant to his remedy in the civil court.

CHAPTER IV.—Valuation and assessment of lands held rent-free and payment and recovery of Cess in respect thereof.

Rent-free lands in what estates or tenures to be included for the purposes of this Act.

50. All lands held without payment of rent other than lands mentioned in section 33, and other than estates entered on the General Register of Revenue-free lands of the district, shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to form a part of any tenure within the local boundaries of which they are contained; and if they are not contained within the local boundaries of any tenure, then to form a part of any estate within the local boundaries of which they are contained; and if they are not contained within the local boundaries of any estate, then to form a part of the estate in which they were included at the original settlement of such estate; and if there be any doubt as to the estate in which they were so included, then to form a part of such conterminous estate as the Collector, in whose district such conterminous estate is situate, shall by an order under his seal appoint.

Holders of estates and tenures bound to return rent-free lands, and to pay cess at half rates for such lands included therein.

51. Every holder of an estate or tenure who is required by this Act to submit a return in the form in Schedule (A) contained shall be bound to enter in such return all lands of the nature of those specified in section 50 according to the tenor thereof; and shall be bound to pay road cess and public works cess on the annual value of such lands, at one-half of the rates fixed under this Act for the levy of such cesses respectively in the district generally for the year.

Notice and extracts of valuation-roll to be published by Collector in respect of such rent-free lands.

52. Whenever any lands held rent-free shall have been included in the return of any estate or tenure as provided in the last preceding section, the Collector shall, on publication of the valuation-roll of such estate or tenure as provided in section 35, cause to be published a notice in the form in Schedule (D) contained, to which notice shall be annexed such extracts from the valuation-roll of such estate or tenure as relate to such lands.

Such publication may be lawfully made by affixing one copy of such notice and extracts at some conspicuous place in every village within which any such lands are situate,

by depositing another copy of the same at any police-station, registration office, or other Government office in the neighbourhood for the inspection of all concerned,

and by proclamation as herein next provided.

The proclamation shall be made by beat of drum throughout every such village, and shall be to the effect that such extracts have been so affixed and deposited, and that the owners and holders of such lands are required to inform themselves, by inspection of such extracts, of the valuation put upon their lands, and to pay yearly to the holder of the estate or tenure in the return of which such lands are included the cesses which shall be payable in respect of such lands under the provisions of this Act.

Holder of rent-free land may object to valuation.

53. Within a reasonable time not exceeding thirty days after the issue of any process for the recovery of any sum due from him as cess under this Chapter, the owner, holder, or occupier of any such land may make before the Collector an objection to the valuation of his land as entered in the valuation-roll so published, and on such objection being made, the Collector shall, by such ways and means as to him shall seem expedient, ascertain and fix the annual value of the land in the possession of such owner, holder, or occupier, and may alter such roll accordingly, and shall give notice of any such alteration to the holder of the estate or tenure to which such roll relates;

Provided that nothing in this section shall be taken to authorise the Collector to alter any return so as to show any area of land as held rent-free which the maker of such return can show to be accounted for by him in the return as rent-paying land.

Notice to be published by holders of estate in certain cases.

54. In the following cases, that is to say—

(1) whenever a new valuation or revaluation takes effect in any district or part of a district;

(2) whenever the rate fixed for the levy of the road cess or of the public works cess in any year is changed from the rate at which such cess was levied in the preceding year; and

(3) whenever the dates fixed by the Lieutenant-Governor under section 57 for payment of instalments of the cesses by holders of rent-free land are changed, the holder of every estate or tenure to whom any cesses are payable in respect of lands held free of rent shall cause a notice to be published in every village in which any such lands are situate, informing all concerned of the rate which has been fixed for the levy of such cesses respectively; and requiring every owner and holder of any such land of which the cesses are payable to the person who causes the notice to be published to pay the amount of the cesses specified in such notice as it falls due, until a similar notice of change of the amount shall be given.

Such notice shall contain the following information in respect of each tenure and holding of rent-free land which is entered separately in the Collector's valuation-roll:—

(1) a specification of the land in respect of which the cesses are payable;

(2) the name of the owner, holder, or occupier of such lands, if known;

(3) the annual value of such land as entered in the Collector's valuation-roll;

(4) the rate on each rupee of the annual value which has been fixed under the Act for the levy of the road cess and public works cess respectively for the year;

(5) the amount of the cesses payable in respect of each tenure or holding, calculated at such rates; and

(6) the dates fixed by the Lieutenant-Governor under section 57 for the payment of each instalment together with the amount of each instalment.

Mode of publication.

55. Publication of the notice abovementioned may be lawfully made by affixing one copy of the same at some conspicuous place in every village in which any such land is situate;

by depositing another copy thereof to be available for general inspection at any mâl cutcherry of the estate or tenure in which such land is included;

or at any other convenient place in the neighbourhood;

and by proclamation as herein next provided.

The proclamation shall be made by beat of drum throughout such village, and shall be to the effect that such notice has been so affixed and so deposited, that it is open to inspection at the mâl cutcherry or other convenient place as abovementioned, and that every owner and holder of rent-free land is required to inform himself of the contents of such notice and to pay the amount of the cesses due by him accordingly.

Owner of rent-free land bound to pay cess at full rate.

56. After publication of the extracts from the roll as provided in section 52, and in cases in which publication of the notice mentioned in section 54 is required, after publication of such notice, and not otherwise, every owner and holder of any rent-free land included in such extracts, and every person in receipt of the rents and profits or in possession and enjoyment of such land shall be bound to pay year by year to the holder of the estate or tenure in the return of which such land has been included the amount of the road cess and public works cess which may thereafter become due to such holder, calculated on the annual value of such land as entered in such extracts, or on any other annual value which may have been determined by the Collector under section 53, at the full rate or rates which may have been fixed under this Act for the levy of such cesses respectively in the district generally for the year.

Instalments to be fixed by Lieutenant-Governor.

57. The payment of the cesses for each year by the holder of any land which is held rent-free shall be made by two equal instalments, or in one payment, upon such days or day as shall be for that purpose fixed by the Lieutenant-Governor.

If instalments not paid within a month, double the amount may be recovered.

58. When an instalment of the cesses due on any rent-free land is not paid to the holder of the estate or tenure to whom it is due within one month of the date on which such instalment is payable, such holder shall be entitled to recover a sum equal to double the amount of such instalment due to him under sections 56 and 57, with interest on such sum calculated at the rate of twelve and a half per centum per annum from the date on which such instalment was payable, and with all costs of suit:

Holders of estates, &c., may send in supplementary returns in respect of rent-free lands.

59. If the holder of any estate or tenure shall have omitted to enter in his return (whether such return was made under Bengal Act X of 1871, or under this Act), any rent-free land which he was bound to enter in such return, such holder may at any time after the passing of this Act give in to the Collector a Supplementary Return showing the necessary particulars in respect of the land so omitted in the form given in Part IV of Schedule A, and shall thereupon pay to the Collector the amount of the cesses which would have been payable by him to such Collector in respect of such land for the three years next preceding, or for any shorter period which may have elapsed since the estate or tenure was last valued.

Effect of supplementary returns.

60. Such Supplementary Return shall to all intents and purposes have the same effect as a return duly made under the provisions of section 51; and sections 51 to 56 (both inclusive) shall be applicable to and in respect of any rent-free land included in such supplementary return.

Sections applicable to amounts payable by owner, &c., of rent-free land.

61. The provisions of sections 57 and 58 shall be applicable to every amount which, as provided in section 56, may become payable by the owner and holder of any such rent-free land to the holder of any such estate or tenure after the fulfilment of the requirements in sections 52, 53, and 54 contained.

Section 58 not applicable to such amounts until sections 52, 53 and 54 are complied with.

62. The provisions of section 58 shall not be applicable to any such amount which may have become so payable under the provisions of Bengal Act X of 1871 or of this Act before the fulfilment of the requirements of the sections 52, 53, and 54; but when any instalment of cess which may have become payable before the fulfilment of such requirements has not been paid to the holder of such estate or tenure on the date on which such instalment was payable, the holder of such estate or tenure may recover the amount of such instalment, together with interest at the rate of twelve and a half per centum per annum on such amount, and with all costs of suit;

Provided that no holder of an estate or tenure shall recover any amount under the provisions of this section, unless he has paid to the Collector all sums which became payable by him to such Collector on account of road cess and public works cess, at any date within the year in which the amount sought to be recovered became payable to such holder of an estate or tenure.

Owner of rent-free land liable to pay cess in future

63. As soon as the said requirements shall have been fulfilled, in respect of any such land which is included in any such supplementary return, every owner and holder of such land and every person in receipt of the rents and profits, or in possession and enjoyment of such land, shall be bound to pay the amount of the road cess and public works cess which may thereafter become due on such land to the holder of the estate or tenure, in the supplementary return of which such land has been included. Sections 56 and 57 and 58 shall be applicable to the cesses so payable.

Additional return of rent-free land entered in return under Act X of 1871 may be made.

64. (1)—Every holder of an estate or tenure who has included any rent-free lands in any return made to the Collector in respect of his estate or tenure under the provisions of the Bengal Act X of 1871, and has paid to the Collector any cess payable under the said Act, or under the Bengal Act, II of 1877, in respect of the said rent-free lands, may at any time after the commencement of this Act give in to such Collector an additional return in the form given in Part IV of Schedule (A).

Additional return to be deemed supplementary return.

(2)—Such additional return shall be deemed to be a supplementary return within the meaning of section 59, and from the date of the inclusion of any such lands in such additional return the same consequences shall ensue, and the same rights and obligations accrue to the Collector and to the holder of such estate or tenure, and the same liabilities shall attach to the owner, holder and occupier of such lands as would have attached to them respectively if such lands had been included in a supplementary return given in under section 59.

Occupier may deduct cess paid from rent.

65. Whenever any occupier of land which is held rent-free by the owner thereof shall have paid any sum as cess due in respect of such land to any holder of an estate or tenure to whom such cess is payable, such occupier shall be entitled to deduct the sum so paid by him from the rent next thereafter payable by him to the owner of such land, until such sum is fully adjusted.

Notice to be served on holder of rent-free land requiring him to lodge return.

66. Notwithstanding anything in this Chapter contained, the Collector may at any time cause a notice as mentioned in section 16 to be served on the holder of any rent-free land which he shall consider not to have been entered in the return of any estate or tenure in which such land ought to have been included under the provisions of section 51. Such notice shall require the holder of such land to lodge at the office of the said Collector a return in the form in Schedule (A) contained in respect of such land;

and on service of such notice the provisions of this Chapter shall no longer apply to such lands; but the same consequences shall ensue, and the same liabilities shall attach to the holder of such land as would have ensued and would have attached if such lands had constituted a revenue-free estate.

If the Collector has reason to believe that any land in respect of which he determines to serve such notice has been included in the return of any estate or tenure, he shall give notice of his intention to the holder of such estate or tenure, and shall alter such return as may be requisite, and shall correct the valuation and assessment of such estate or tenure as may be required.

If no notice served, such holder bound to notify omission to Collector.

67. If within one year of the commencement of this Act no notice has been served as mentioned in section 66 on the holder of any rent-free land requiring him to lodge a return in the office of the Collector, and if such land has not been included in any extracts from the returns of estates and tenures published by the Collector under section 52 or other similar section, the holder of such rent-free land shall be bound within one month of the expiration of such year to give information of such omission to the Collector, together with a description of the said land, a specification of the village or villages within which it is situate, the area in each village, and the amount of rent payable to him thereupon;

Provided that no holder of rent-free land who at any time after the expiration of the time prescribed shall of his own motion and otherwise than after the issue of any notice by the Collector in respect of his lands give such information to the Collector shall be liable to prosecution for omitting to give such information within the prescribed time.

Collector thereupon may require such holder to make return.

68. On receipt of such information whether within the time prescribed or after the expiration thereof, the Collector may, by an order in writing, require such owner or holder to make a return of his land in the form in Schedule (A) contained, or, if the gross rental of such land does not exceed one hundred rupees, may order that such land shall be summarily valued under section 27 or section 28, and may proceed to make such valuation.

Order to have effect of notice.

69. Every order made by a Collector under the last preceding section shall have the same effect and be followed by the same consequences as the issue of a notice by the Collector under section 66.

Liability of such holder to pay arrears of cesses.

70. As soon as any rent-free land which had not previously been included in the valuation of any estate or tenure, has been valued by the Collector after the issue of a notice as provided in section 66, or after an order made under section 68, the holder of such land shall become liable to pay to the Collector the road cess and the public works cess due on such land, in accordance with such valuation, for the three years last preceding such valuation, at the full rates at which such cesses were respectively levied for each such year in the district generally, together with interest calculated at twelve and a half per centum per annum on each instalment from the date on which such instalment would have been payable if such valuation had been in force.

Such holder is not liable to pay cesses except to Collector or his Deputy.

71. No owner or holder of rent-free land on whom a notice has been served by the Collector under section 66, or in respect of whose land an order has been made by the Collector under section 68, shall be liable to have the land to which such notice or order refers included in any return of an estate or tenure or to pay any amount as road cess or public works cess otherwise than to the Collector or to some person appointed by him in that behalf, unless, on a revaluation of any estate or tenure being made, the Collector shall by an order in writing direct that for the future such land shall be included within such estate or tenure for the purposes of this Act;

and upon such order being made the provisions of this Chapter, in so far as they are applicable, shall apply to the assessment and payment of road cess and public works cess in respect of such land.

CHAPTER V.—Valuation, assessment, and levy of cesses on mines, railways, and other immovable property.

Notice to return profits.

72. On the commencement of this Act in any district, and thereafter before the close of each year, the Collector of the district shall cause a notice to by served upon the owner, chief agent, manager or occupier of every mine, quarry, tramway railway and other immovable property not included within the provisions of Chapter II, and not being one of the tramways or railways mentioned in section 8; such notice shall be in the form in Schedule (E) contained, and shall require such owner, chief agent, manager or occupier to lodge in the office of such Collector within two months a return of the annual net profits of such property, calculated on the average of the annual net profits thereof for the last three years for which accounts have been made up.

Such Collector may in his discretion extend the time allowed for lodging such return.

When property lies in different districts.

73. Whenever any property assessable under this Chapter lies in two or more districts, the notice to furnish a return under section 72 shall be served on the owner, chief agent, manager or occupier of such property by or through the Collector of the district in which such owner, chief agent, manager or occupier may reside or have his chief place of business, and one return for the whole of such property shall suffice.

When property is partly in and partly outside Bengal.

74. Whenever any property assessable under this Chapter lies partly within and partly outside the territories administered by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, the return furnished as required by section 72 shall state the total annual net profits calculated as aforesaid accruing from such property, and also the proportion of such profits which may reasonably be calculated to accrue in the territories administered by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

If return not furnished or incorrect, Collector to make valuation.

75. If such return be not furnished within the period of two months from the date on which such notice was served, or within any extended time allowed by the Collector of the District, or if such Collector shall deem that any return made in pursuance of such notice is untrue or incorrect, such Collector shall proceed to ascertain and determine by such ways or means as to him shall seem expedient the annual net profits of such property calculated as aforesaid.

Valuation on value of property.

76. If such Collector be unable to ascertain the annual net profits as aforesaid of any property assessable under this Chapter, he may, by such ways or means as to him shall seem expedient, ascertain and determine the value of such property, and shall thereupon determine six per centum on such value to be the annual net profits thereon.

Cost of valuation from whom to be recovered.

77. The expenses incurred in making any valuation under section 75 or section 76 may be recovered together with all costs of the recovery thereof as provided in section 98 from the person who was bound to make such return or who made the incorrect return.

Notice of valuation.

78. So soon as such Collector shall have ascertained and determined the annual net profits as aforesaid of any such property, he shall cause to be served upon the owner, chief agent, manager or occupier of such property a notice informing him of the amount of the annual net profits so ascertained and determined by him.

Valuations under this Chapter to be annual.

Declaration of annual net profits by owner for five years.

Provided that whenever any return made under section 72 shall be accepted by the Collector for any year, the owner, chief agent, manager or occupier of such property may, if he see fit, declare in writing at the time of such acceptance that the annual net profits set forth in such return may, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to be the annual net profits for each of the five years then next ensuing;

Effect of acceptance by Collector of declaration.

And if the Collector of the district shall agree to accept such declaration, no new valuation shall be made of such property until the said five years shall have expired.

Notice of rate of cess and dates of payments.

80. When the rate of road cess and public works cess to be levied in the district upon property assessable under this Chapter shall have been determined for any year as in this Act provided, the Collector of the district shall cause to be served on the owner, chief agent, manager or occupier of every such property a notice showing the amount of road cess and public works cess respectively payable in respect of such property, and specifying the date from which such cesses shall take effect. And such amount shall be payable by such owner, chief agent, manager or occupier to such Collector in two equal instalments—the first on the expiry of six months, the second on the expiry of nine months, after the date fixed as hereinbefore provided for the commencement of the year.

Recovery by occupier or owner who has paid in excess.

81. In any case in which the occupier of such property is a different person from the owner, and has paid in excess of half of the sum due as road cess and public works cess on account of any instalment, such occupier shall be entitled to deduct the amount of such excess from the next and subsequent instalments of rent payable in respect of such property; and every owner who has paid in excess of half of such sum due shall be entitled to recover the amount of such excess from the occupier, provided that in no case shall an occupier deduct from his annual rent more than half of the rate of the road cess and public works cess on every rupee thereof.

How distributed when property in different districts.

82. The total of the cesses payable in respect of property assessable under this Chapter, owned or occupied by the same person in two or more districts, shall be payable to the Collector of the district where the owner, chief agent, manager or occupier may reside or have his chief place of business, and shall be by him transmitted to the Collectors of other districts in the proportion in which the Committees of such district shall be severally entitled thereto, as provided in the section next following.

Determination of proportion of profits when property in different districts.

85. In any district of the province of Orissa and in the district of Midnapore, the Collector may at any time, with the sanction of the Commissioner, order that any revenue-free estate not exceeding 500 standard bighas in extent, of which the valuation shall have been completed, shall, for the purpose of payment and levy of the cesses due in respect thereof, be annexed to any other estate within the ambit of which it is situate or which it adjoins.

Notice to be given to holder of estate of which such revenue-free estate is annexed.

86. Notice of such order shall be given by the Collector to the holder of the estate to which such revenue-free estate is ordered to be so annexed, and to such notice shall be appended a copy of the valuation-roll of the said revenue-free estate, and thereupon such holder shall be liable to pay annually to the Collector on account of such revenue-free estate, road cess and public works cess at one-half of the rates which may be fixed under this Act for the levy of the said cesses respectively in the district generally for each year.

Notice to be given to holder of revenue-free estate.

87. Notice of such order shall also be given by the Collector to the holder of the said revenue-free estate, and such notice shall require him to pay annually, and he shall thereupon be bound to pay to the holder of such other estate, road cess and public works cess at the full rates which may be fixed under this Act for the levy of the said cesses respectively in the district generally for each year.

Cesses payable by holder of revenue-free estates in such instalments as Lieutenant-Governor may direct.

and the payment of such establishments and other charges on bills signed by the Collector shall be the first charge on the District Road Fund.

Powers of Collector in making valuation.

92. For the purpose of making any valuation of lands directed by this Part, the Collector shall exercise the powers vested in Collectors by clause I of section 23, and clause I of section 24 of Regulation VII of 1822, except so far as the said clauses authorize any enquiry into rights or interests attaching to such lands.

Commissioner or Board may revise valuation.

93. Every valuation under this Part shall be open to revision by the Commissioner or Board of Revenue, and not otherwise.

False returns.

94. Any person who is bound to make any return under this Part shall be deemed to be legally bound to give notice and to furnish information to a public servant in respect of the same. If the Collector shall see ground for believing that any return made is false, he may prosecute the maker accordingly. And if the person so prosecuted is convicted, the Collector may proceed to make a valuation of the lands mentioned in such return by such ways and means as to him shall seem expedient.

95. Every return filed by or on behalf of any person in pursuance of the provisions of this Part shall bear the signature and address of such person, or his authorized agent, and shall be admissible in evidence against such person, but shall not be admissible in his favour.

Manufacture of Salt.

1. Every application for a license to manufacture salt under the provisions of section 7 of Act VII (B.C.) of 1864, shall be presented to the Collector of the district where the manufacture is intended to be carried on, who shall forward it to the Board of Revenue through the Commissioner of the Division, with an expression of his opinion as to whether the application should be granted or not. In the former case, after ascertaining the boundaries within which the manufacture is to be carried on and the area of the land, the Collector should consult with the District Superintendent of Police, and report the strength and cost of the preventive guard which should be entertained; in the latter, full reasons for rejecting the application should be recorded. Where the license is recommended for sanction the stamp for the license should be realized and remitted, or a certificate given of the amount being credited in the treasury accounts.

2. The Board of Revenue shall have full power to approve or to reject any such application for the manufacture of salt, and the orders of the Board shall be final.

3. Immediately upon any application for license to manufacture salt being sanctioned, the applicant shall execute an agreement (Form I, appendix), and shall thereupon receive from the Board of Revenue a license (Form 2, appendix), the currency of which shall not extend beyond one year.

4. In addition to the preventive guard to be appointed, subject to the approval of the Board, with a view to prevent smuggling and to protect the revenue, the Collector shall appoint in every case, subject to the approval and control of the Commissioner, an excise establishment as marginally noted, for the purpose of supervising the weighment of the salt prior to removal to the warehouse. The Pass Officer shall be called upon to furnish such security as may be required by the Board of Revenue, and he shall nominate for the Collector's approval the Mohurir to be appointed under his own responsibility. The Board of Revenue shall have full power at their discretion to modify or increase the cost and strength of the excise establishment when necessary.

5. The pay of the preventive guard and of the excise establishment shall be defrayed by the manufacturer, and shall be disbursed by the Collector, who will be held responsible that the necessary amount is paid to him, or to any one whom he may appoint to receive it, on or before the fifteenth day preceding the close of the month for which it is due. The payment of the sum fixed forms one of the conditions on which the license specified in Rule 3 is granted, and should be provided for in the agreement mentioned in the same rule, a clause being inserted to the effect that on default of such payment within the specified time, the license may be cancelled, and all salt manufactured under the license at the place of manufacture attached and confiscated. The salt so confiscated should be sold by auction at the highest price bid above the duty, and the sale-proceeds should be applied after paying the duty to defray the charges on account of the guard and excise establishment and the costs incurred, the balance being made over to the defaulter. If the proceeds should not suffice to pay the duty and charges, the balance may be realized by the sale of any other salt belonging to the defaulter.

In Orissa and the district of Midnapore, however, the cost of these establishments will be defrayed by Government, except in cases in which the outturn of the manufacture yields a revenue less than 20 times the cost of establishment, when the cost shall be defrayed by the manufacturer.

6. Before manufacture is allowed to commence, the land within which the actual manufacture is to be carried on must be carefully marked out by a shallow trench; all necessary arrangements must be made and concluded in regard to the appointment of the preventive guards and excise officers; and, as required by section 10, Act VII (B.C.) of 1864, a proper and secure warehouse must be provided by the manufacturer and be approved of by the Board of Revenue. The manufacturer should give six days' notice of the date on which he intends to commence manufacture, and the pay of the guard shall commence from that date. He should also notify the date of close of manufacture, and the appliances of manufacture should be either removed or destroyed, and until they are so removed or destroyed, the manufacturer will be required to pay for the guard. Suitable huts should be provided and kept in repair by the manufacturer for the use of the guard, failing which the Collector may build and repair such huts, and levy the cost by sale of the salt, or cancel the license as for a default in payment of wages.

7. The Collector should ascertain how much salt each chula, or furnace can produce in a working day, and the Pass Officer must insist on the chulia, or mate in charge of each furnace, sending that quantity to the chatee or depôt. The day's outturn should be brought to the depôt at a fixed hour, from one hour before sunset till sunset. The Pass Officer should receive the salt and measure it in standard baskets supplied by the Collector, and make a note of which furnaces it comes from, so as to secure the full complement from each furnace. If any furnace falls short of the ascertained quantity, the mate of that furnace should be called to account. The standard basket shall contain exactly one maund of 40 seers at 80 tollahs to the seer.

8. The Pass Officer shall send to the Collector daily a copy of his record showing how many baskets of salt have been received at the depôt. This record shall be kept in chequebooks similar to those used by Pass Officers for protection of salt on its way to the aurungs.

9. The manufacture of salt shall be closed on such date as the Board of Revenue may be pleased to prescribe in each case, the date being specified in the license of each manufacturer. All salt manufactured after that date shall be held to be salt manufactured without a license, and the provisions of sections 5 and 6, Act VII (B.C.) of 1864, shall apply to such salt and to its manufacturer. The license also shall be liable to be cancelled.

10. Within one month from the date of the closing of his manufacture, every licensed manufacturer of salt shall notify to the Collector, for the information of the Board of Revenue, the quantity of salt manufactured by him during the season. Should the manufacturer, without sufficient cause, fail to give this information within the prescribed period, or should he wilfully furnish incorrect information, he shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 500; and in the latter case all salt in excess of the quantity notified by him shall be held to be contraband, and shall be liable to seizure and confiscation as such. The license also shall be liable to be cancelled.

Deposit of Salt.

11. The Board of Revenue may appoint the Collector of the district, or other officer specially selected for the purpose, to exercise a general control and supervision over all warehouses provided by manufacturers of salt under the requirements of section 10 of Act VII (B.C.) of 1864. For each warehouse the Collector shall appoint, subject to the approval and control of the Commissioner, an excise establishment as marginally noted, the cost of such establishment to be paid by the manufacturer. The Darogah shall be called on to furnish security of such amount as may be required by the Board of Revenue, and all the provisions of Rule 5, with regard to the payment of the salary of the establishments therein provided for, with regard to the duties and responsibilities of the Collector, and with regard to the realization of arrears of salary, shall be applicable in the case of establishments appointed under this rule. The Board of Revenue shall have full power at their discretion to modify the scale of establishment when there are two or more warehouses in the same or adjacent places. No warehouse shall be approved unless on measurement it be found capable of containing at least 10,000 maunds of salt.

2 Peons at Rs 5 each ...	10
Contingencies	1

12 All salt manufactured under excise license which may remain unstored at the salt works fifteen days after the date fixed in the license for the closing of the manufacture shall, unless the storage thereof shall have been unavoidably prevented, be destroyed by the officers appointed under Rule 4.

13. Every warehouse, when approved of by the Board of Revenue, shall be regularly licensed, and every manufacturer shall forthwith cause to be painted, or otherwise exhibited in a conspicuous part of the exterior of such warehouse, the number of the license, the year in which it was granted, and the words "Licensed Warehouse" in the vernacular language and character of the district. Before a warehouse is built the proposed site should be approved by the Collector of the district. Suitable huts should be provided and kept in repair by the manufacturer for the use of the warehouse establishment, failing which the Collector may build and repair such huts and levy the cost by sale of the salt or cancel the golah license as for a default in payment of wages. The Commissioner of the Division may, from time to time, cause any licensed warehouse to be inspected by the Collector of the district or other officer appointed under Rule 11, and should it appear that from want of repair or from any other cause such warehouse has become an unfit receptacle for the storage of salt, may require the manufacturer to repair or otherwise render it fit for that purpose, and, in the event of his failing so to do, may cancel the license of such warehouse. In the absence of special orders directing an inspection, District Collectors are required to visit each warehouse at least twice in the course of a year, or to depute an Assistant or Deputy Collector for the purpose. The results of such inspections should be reported to the Board through the Commissioner. In Orissa inspections may be made once a year. The Commissioner will report to the Board only when a golah is so much out of repair as to render cancelment of license necessary.

14. When a manufacturer desires to remove any salt from his salt works for the purpose of storing it, he shall cause it to be weighed and packed for transport in the presence of the officer who may have been appointed to this duty under Rule 4. When ready for despatch, such officer shall carefully impress the salt all over, when packed in bulk, with a wooden stamp (adul) supplied for the purpose; but when put up into bags, the mouth of every bag shall be closed with sealing-wax, and a seal, with a clear and distinct device, affixed thereto, in not less than two places, and the aforesaid officer shall also grant a pass to protect the salt during transit.

15. The pass (Form 3, appendix) shall specify the name of the manufacturer, the number of his license, the route by which the salt is to be transported, the weight of the salt, and the date of despatch. It shall also be numbered and signed by the officer granting it.

16. A separate pass shall be granted for every despatch of salt; but if it be despatched by means of coolies or bullocks, one pass shall be sufficient for every gang of coolies or drove of bullocks; and in such case, in addition to the particulars stated in Rule 15, the pass shall specify the number of coolies or bullocks employed in carrying the salt, as well as the number of baskets, bags, or packs used. A gang of coolies shall be taken to mean any number of coolies not exceeding fifty, and a drove of bullocks any number not exceeding twenty-five. A responsible Churrundar shall accompany each despatch, who should sign all three foils of the Pass Officer's pass, thus:—

"Received the above salt in full.

Dated Churrundar."

17. A copy of every pass granted under the foregoing rules shall be forwarded by the officer granting it to the Collector of the district or other controlling officer appointed under Rule 11.

18. The arrival at any licensed warehouse of salt despatched from the salt works shall at once be reported to the officer in charge of the warehouse, who shall without delay, examine its condition, the state of the stamps or seals, as the case may be, and the pass covering the salt. The pass shall then be forwarded in original, duly effaced, and with an endorsement mentioning whether permission to store the salt has been granted or not, to the Collector of the district or other controlling officer appointed under Rule 11, and a copy shall be retained for record by the officer in charge of the warehouse.

19. On the police informing the officer in charge of a warehouse that they suspect that a despatch of salt has been tampered with en route from the salt works, the officer in charge of the warehouse shall put aside all bags reported as suspicious by the police until orders are passed in the case.

20. If the officer in charge of the warehouse be satisfied that the rules laid down above have been in no way infringed, he shall thereupon permit the manufacturer to store the salt in the warehouse.

21. If, however, on examination it be found that the despatch of salt has been tampered with, or that the quantity of salt is likely to be more than one per cent. less than the quantity specified in the pass, the officer in charge of the warehouse shall be empowered to seize and weigh the entire despatch of salt. If the deficiency in weight exceeds the above limit, the officer in charge of the warehouse shall record the explanation of the manufacturer, or his duly accredited servant in charge thereof, and shall report the case to the Collector of the district, or other controlling officer appointed under Rule 11, who shall transmit the papers, with his opinion on the case, for the orders of the Board of Revenue, who may direct confiscation of the entire despatch as contraband. The Board may also, if they see fit, at once cancel the manufacturer's license. The manufacturer shall further be liable for the amount of duty that would be leviable on the deficiency in excess of one per cent.

22. On obtaining the permission of the officer in charge of the warehouse, the salt shall be stored therein by the servants, and at the expense of the manufacturer, in the presence of such officer. If the correctness of the pass protecting the salt is admitted by the officer in charge of the warehouse, he shall enter the weight of the salt as therein stated in the daily store account which he is required to keep.

23. Every licensed warehouse shall be secured by two padlocks supplied by the manufacturer on approval by the officer in charge thereof, the key of one lock being retained by the person owning the salt, or by some person on his behalf, and the key of the second lock by the officer in charge of the warehouse.

24. When a warehouse shall have been stored with salt and before any sales can be permitted, the manufacturer, owner or mortgagee of the salt shall enter into a bond (Form 4, appendix) for payment of the amount of duty, as well as other charges leviable thereon; and he shall further bind himself to discharge, without objection, any duty that may be adjudged against him by the Commissioner of the Division on account of any excess or penalty duty in consequence of any deficiency (beyond the usual allowance of 2½ per cent. as wastage) of salt found in his warehouse at the time of clearance.

25. No bond shall be taken for a period exceeding three years; but on expiry of that period, with the sanction of the Board of Revenue, a renewed bond may be executed for a further term of two years. Applications for the renewal of bonds about to expire shall be presented to the Board of Revenue at least two months previous to their expiry.

26. No salt shall on any account be removed from a licensed warehouse before the permission of the Commissioner of the Division has been accorded to commence sales, and any act in violation thereof shall subject the manufacturer, owner or mortgagee of the same to a penalty of Rs. 500, and the salt thus removed shall be seized and confiscated provided that nothing in this rule shall be held to prevent Government proceeding, if it see fit, under section 16 of the Act.

27. The salt of the manufacture of each year and that under each license shall if possible be separately stored, and every act in violation of this rule shall subject the whole of the salt within the warehouse to seizure and confiscation.

Transport and Sale of Salt.

28. In addition to the special rowannah prescribed by section 19 of Act VII (B.C.) of 1864, rowannahs shall be of two kinds—

1*st.*—The wholesale rowannah required to protect all salt removed immediately from warehouses or ships.

2*nd.*—The retail rowannah required for the protection of salt, being a portion of a original despatch covered by a wholesale or special rowannah, but separated therefrom for purposes of sale or otherwise.

29. Retail rowannahs shall further be sub-divided into two kinds:—

1*st*.—The atrafee rowannah required to protect salt which it may be intended to convey beyond the limits of the police-station within which it may at the time be stored.

2*nd*.—The charchittee required to protect salt which it may be intended to retain for sale within the limits of the police-station within which it may at the time be stored.

3*rd*.—In addition to the above two kinds of retail rowannahs, a third kind of retail rowannah, to be called sub-charchittee, shall be current in the districts of the Orissa Division and Backergunge. This sub-charchittee, like the retail rowannah No. 2, shall protect salt which it may be intended to retain for sale within the limits of the police-station within which it may at the time be stored.

30. Wholesale rowannahs shall be granted only by the Board of Revenue, or such District Collectors as may be authorized to issue the same, on application being presented on stamped paper of the value prescribed for petitions to the Board, and on the payment of certain fees specified in the schedule hereto annexed. The rowannah (Forms 5 and 6, appendix) shall specify—

1*st*.—The quantity of salt to be transported under its protection;
2*nd*.—The description of salt;
3*rd*.—The place whence the salt is deliverable;
4*th*.—The mode of conveyance;
5*th*.—The destination of the salt; and
6*th*.—The route by which the salt shall be conveyed.

All special and wholesale rowannahs taken out for the removal of salt, either from boardship, or from bonded golahs under Government, or from private golahs in the excepted limits of Calcutta, shall have a currency of not more than six months. Such rowannahs as are taken out for the protection of salt destined for places not within the limits notified under section 12 of the Act, and which have to be surrendered before passing out of the said limits at the last police-station within those limits, shall on no occasion be current for more than fifteen days if the pass station at which the rowannah has to be delivered up is Bally; or for more than one month in any other case.

The holder of a wholesale rowannah the currency of which is about to expire, may apply to the Board of Revenue, or to the District Collector by whom the rowannah was issued, on stamped paper of the value of one rupee, for a renewed rowannah, which shall be granted on sufficient cause being shown, and on the salt being identified satisfactorily. Collectors should submit weekly to the Commissioner a list of the renewed rowannahs; and should keep a register of all rowannahs they issue.

The holder of a rowannah for the transport of salt from the bonded golahs or from shipboard into the protected limits vid the Chitpore pass station will be at liberty to choose any of the three following routes:—

(1)—By the river Hooghly by boat.
(2)—By the Port Commissioners' tramway vid Armenian Ghât.
(3)—By the Port Commissioners' tramway vid Rathtollah Ghât.

The route chosen must be declared when the rowannah is taken out, and the Customs officer on board the ship from which the salt is delivered will make out the boat-notes according to the route chosen. If the holder of the rowannah wishes to alter the route, he can do so by applying to the Board as provided in Rule 31.

31. If any person who shall have become possessed of a wholesale rowannah shall desire to make any alteration in the terms specified therein, permissible under these rules, he may, by application to the Board of Revenue, or to the District Collector, if authorized to grant the original rowannah, on stamped paper of the value prescribed for petitions to the said Board, and on payment of the fees specified in the schedules hereto annexed, obtain an exchange rowannah (Form 7, appendix), which shall, for all the purposes of the Act and of these rules, be considered to be a wholesale rowannah.

32. Blank forms of retail rowannahs of all kinds shall be obtainable from the Collector of the district, or from the Deputy Collector in charge of the sub-division within which the salt is stored at the time of application, provided such officer shall have been empowered by the Collector to grant such rowannahs.

At places situated at a long distance from the Collectorate or the sub-divisional office, the Collector is further empowered to entrust the distribution of the forms, duly signed and sealed, to the police in charge of the division within the limits of which the salt is stored at the time for sale.

A retail rowannah shall specify—

1*st*.—The quantity and description of salt covered by it;
2*nd*.—The time for which it is current;
3*rd*—The number and date of the rowannah from which the salt was obtained;
4*th*.—The destination of the salt;

5*th*.—The route by which the salt shall be carried;
6*th*.—The mode of conveyance; and
7*th*.—The name of the consignee or purchaser.

The salt covered by the atrafee rowannah (Form 8, appendix) and charchittee (Form 9, appendix) shall in no case exceed one hundred maunds.

The salt covered by the sub-charchittee (Form 10, appendix) in the Orissa Division and Backergunge shall in no case exceed five maunds.

The currency of the atrafee rowannah and the charchittee shall in no case exceed six months.

The currency of the sub-charchittee in the Orissa Division and Backergunge shall in no case exceed one month.

33. A fee of four annas shall be levied on every retail rowannah No. 1.*

34. Wholesale rowannah-holders are hereby empowered to issue to furriahs, or retail vendors, retail rowannahs of all descriptions specified in Rule 29; and holders of retail rowannahs No. 1 are similarly empowered to issue retail rowannahs No. 2 to furriahs or retail vendors; and in the districts of the Orissa division and Backergunge, holders of retail rowannahs No. 2 are likewise similarly empowered to issue retail rowannahs No. 3 to other furriahs or retail vendors.

Any rowannahdar selling more than five seers of salt to any person shall be bound to furnish the purchaser with such protective documents as may be required.

35. Special rowannahs granted under section 19 of Act VII (B.C.) of 1864 shall, as nearly as possible, resemble wholesale rowannahs, and the rules regarding wholesale rowannahs shall also apply to them. Salt conveyed into the limits notified under section 12 of the Act from ships or warehouses in Calcutta and Howrah will require to be protected by a special rowannah (Form 6, vide clause 30).

In addition to those mentioned in Rule 30, the following particulars shall be entered in all special rowannahs (Form 11, appendix) for the removal of salt from private golahs in Calcutta:—

1*st*.—The names of the manjees in whose boats the salt has been loaded;
2*nd*.—The license numbers of such boats; and
3*rd*.—The date or dates on which salt was loaded into the boats.

36(a) Every application for a "certificate" (Form 12, appendix) for landing salt from shipboard, or for removing it from the bonded golahs into the excepted limits of Calcutta and Howrah, must in future be made to the Collector of Customs instead of to the Board of Revenue, and any person attempting to land salt within such limits without having taken out such certificate will be liable to the penalties provided under the Sea Customs Act, VIII of 1878.

(b) In granting a rowannah for salt which is to be conveyed out of the excepted limits of Calcutta into protected limits, the Board will require the applicant for the rowannah to give the full particulars of the certificate under which it was landed in Calcutta.

(c) If the holder of a rowannah issued by the Board of Revenue for salt to be taken from shipboard out of the excepted limits, desires to land the whole or any portion of such salt within the excepted limits, he must apply for the Board's orders to cancel the original rowannah. On his application being granted, he will, on payment of the usual fees, be furnished with a letter of advice to the Collector of Customs for the issue of a "certificate" in respect of the whole or such portion of the salt as he desires to land within the excepted limits of Calcutta, and, if necessary, with an "exchange rowannah" in respect of the balance to be taken beyond the excepted limits.

37. Within twenty-four hours after the completion of deliveries of salt from boardship upon rowannahs, the holders thereof must present them at the Board's office for the purpose of having the endorsements made on them by the preventive officers examined. Challans will then be granted with regard to such rowannahs as would require them according to section 39 of the rules. This rule will not prevent salt merchants removing their salt-laden boats from the ship's side to safe and convenient places in the river under the boat-notes previously granted by the preventive officers. Any person failing to comply with the provisions of this rule shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 100.

38. Every wholesale and every retail rowannah shall always be kept with the salt to which it refers, and on demand by any police officer above the rank of constable shall be forthwith produced for examination. When, however, under the provisions of the rule next following, a despatch of salt covered by a wholesale or retail rowannah is laden on more than one boat or cart or drove of bullocks, or gang of coolies, it will be sufficient if the wholesale or retail rowannah covering the entire despatch of salt be produced within twenty-four hours. If the rowannah be not forthcoming, the salt shall be seized and proceedings taken under section 16 of the Act. If the rowannah be produced after the seizure of the salt, the matter shall be reported for the orders of the Board.

39. If it be necessary in any way to divide any lot of salt covered by a wholesale or retail rowannah, the owner of the salt, or any person acting in his behalf, shall apply for, and shall be furnished with challans, (Form 13, appendix), the numbers and particulars of which, showing the quantity of salt protected by each challan separately, shall be endorsed on the rowannah. Such challans shall be given up when the salt of the despatch has to pass out of the limits notified under section 12 of the Act, or is transferred to other boats, carriages, &c. A challan therefore can never protect salt in itself, or independently of the rowannah to which it is merely subsidiary.

40. Boats, carriages, &c, covered by challans must stop at the last pass station on the route until the arrival of the boat, carriage, &c, which is carrying the rowannah; and none of them must go beyond the pass station until the rowannah has been examined. Failure to comply with this rule will render the parties liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 500. If the rowannah be not produced, the salt should be seized and proceedings taken under section 16 of Act.

41. If any person holding a rowannah shall fail to comply with the provisions of section 22 of the Act, such person shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 500. When the salt specified in a rowannah is disposed of within the limits laid down under section 12 of the Act, the rowannahdar is hereby required to deliver up his protective document, as directed by the law, within seven days of the date of the sale of the last parcel of salt covered by such document. Omission to do so will be held to constitute a breach of the provisions of section 22 of the Act.

42. Every person in charge of salt in transit within the limits notified under section 12 of the Act shall be bound to stop at every police pass station upon the line of route laid down in his rowannah, whether wholesale or retail, and shall present his rowannah to the chief officer at such station for endorsement, and shall, if required, allow his salt to be examined.

43. The proprietor of any salt, the rowannah of which shall not be endorsed in the manner prescribed in the preceding rule, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 500, and if it shall appear to the officer trying the case that the omission was made with fraudulent intent, he shall direct the salt to be confiscated.

44. If the police in charge of the last pass station on any route have reason to suspect that a boat laden with salt is passing the station without stopping to give up the rowannah, they shall follow the boat, and on overtaking it, if the parties are known, the police should apply to the Magistrate for a summons against them under section 148 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Act X of 1872). If, however, the police have reason to believe that the accused are about to abscond, they should request the Magistrate to issue a warrant instead of a summons in the first instance, as provided in the same section. If the parties are unknown, the police should act under the provisions of section 93 of the Criminal Code of Procedure, and detain them in order to ascertain their names and address. If the names and address given are believed to be correct, summons should be applied for as indicated above; if the names and address given are believed to be false, the parties should be forwarded to the Magistrate in the manner prescribed in section 93 above referred to.

45. The names of the police pass stations at which it will be necessary for proprietors of salt to have their salt and passes examined and endorsed, shall be notified from time to time in the Calcutta and Exchange Gazettes.

46. On a despatch of salt covered by a wholesale or atrafee rowannah arriving at the warehouse or shop of any salt trader situated in any place within the limits notified in section 12 of the Act, the proprietor shall, within twenty-four hours, notify its arrival in writing to the Collector of the district, specifying in such notice the description, number, and date of the rowannah, the quantity and description of salt covered by it, and the place whence the salt was obtained. Omission or neglect to comply with this rule shall render such trader liable to a penalty not exceeding Rs 10 for each offence.

47. Every salt trader carrying on business within the limits notified under section 12 of the Act shall, on the 1st of every month, submit to the Sub-divisional Officer within whose jurisdiction he resides, or to the nearest Abkaree Darogah, or nearest police-station or outpost, for transmission to the Sub-divisional Officer, a signed statement specifying the quantity of salt sold under each wholesale or atrafee rowannah in his hands during the previous month, as well as the quantity of salt remaining in store under each such document on the last day of such month. Omission or neglect to comply with this rule shall subject such trader to a fine of Rs. 20 for each offence. The Sub-divisional Officer will forward the returns to the Collector with his remarks.

Month	Name of vendor and locality.	Wholesale sale.	Retail sale.

48. The Board of Revenue shall, from time to time, prescribe forms for the agreements applications, bonds, licenses, rowannahs, and other documents required under the above rules.

Schedule of Fees to be paid by persons taking out Wholesale, Renewed, Special, or Exchange Rowannahs.

SECTION VIII.—RULES RELATING TO THE RECEPTION AND CLEARANCE OF SALT SUBSIDIARY TO THOSE CONTAINED IN ACT VIII OF 1878.

Rules for Weighment and Admission of salt into Warehouses, public or private, under the Customs Law.

Collector to make arrangements for weighment of salt.

1. On receipt of an application under section 91, Act VIII of 1878, for the admission of salt into a public or private warehouse, and after the due execution of a bond under the provisions of section 92, Act VIII of 1878, the Collector of Customs shall make such arrangements as he may deem necessary for the proper weighment of salt during its discharge from the vessel, for the purpose of being conveyed to the appointed licensed warehouse.

Weighment charges.

2. The weighment shall be conducted in the presence of the preventive officer on board, and the expense thereof shall be charged to the bonder at a rate of Rs. 3 per 1,000 maunds.

Description of boat to be used.

3. No salt for which the full duty has not been previously paid shall be taken from any vessel, save in a lighter provided with hatches, which are capable of being securely fastened down; and it shall be the duty of the preventive officer on board to satisfy himself that such lighter is in serviceable condition before permitting such salt to be placed therein.

4. As soon as the bonder or his agent or servant shall notify to the preventive officer that he desires to proceed with any boat-load of salt, he shall obtain a boat-note, in which the name of the importing vessel and of the bonder, the quantity of salt contained therein, and the warehouse wherein it is to be deposited shall be specified. The salt shall thereupon be carefully impressed with a stamp specially provided for this purpose, and the hatches shall be closed and sealed by, or in the presence of, the preventive officer. The lighter shall then be allowed to proceed in charge of a native officer or peon deputed for the purpose by the Custom-house authorities, accompained by an agent on the part of the bonder.

Procedure on despatch.

5. The boat shall be anchored, if possible, at the steps of the ghât leading to the warehouse in which the salt is to be stored, otherwise at the moorings nearest to such ghât. It shall on no account be permitted by the native Custom-house officer or peon on board to anchor at the outward moorings.

Place of anchorage.

6. Notice of the arrival of such salt shall at once be given by the Custom-house officer to the Government Superintendent in the case of salt to be bonded in a public warehouse, or, if the salt is to be bonded in a private licensed warehouse, to the Inspector or Superintendent of licensed Warehouses, who shall thereupon note the date and hour of arrival, bringing any unreasonable delay to the notice of the Collector of Customs, and depute a proper officer to examine and compare the boat-note delivered by the preventive officer to the bonder, his servant, or agent, and the cargo of salt, and to superintend its removal to, and storage in, the appointed warehouse.

Procedure on arrival.

7. The bonder's agent and native Custom-house officer or peon shall remain on board of the boat in charge, until the seals and hatches are examined and all the cargo landed and stored.

Duty of peon and bonder's agent.

8. The Bonder will be held responsible for any departure from these rules on the part of his agent, and the Superintendent or Inspector of the warehouse shall take notice of any dereliction of duty on the part of the native Custom-house officer or peon.

Responsibilities of bonder and Superintendent.

9. All expenses connected with the removal and storage of the salt shall be borne by the bonder, who shall also pay to the Collector such fees as he may fix for the services of the officer or peon in charge of the salt from the time of its discharge from the vessel's side to the completion of its storage in the warehouse.

Bonder to defray all charges.

10. If the officer appointed by the Superintendent or Inspector of the Government or private licensed warehouse shall have reason to believe that the salt has in any way been tampered with during its transit by river, he shall at once report the circumstance to the Superintendent or Inspector, who, with the permission of the Collector, shall direct the salt to be re-weighed, and such re-weighment shall be made at the expense of Government.

Procedure when salt has been tampered with.

11. If there be found any unexplained deficiency in the salt on board the cargo-boat as compared with the quantity specified in the boat-note, the whole of the salt contained in such boat shall be confiscated, and the bond under which the salt is in course of being stored shall be cancelled.

Penalty when salt is deficient.

12. Salt relating to different bonds shall be stored separately and distinctly. Any admixture of salt specified in different bonds shall render those bonds liable to cancelment, and the holders to immediate payment of the full duty payable thereon.

Salt under different bonds to be stored separately.

13. On salt bonded in a warehouse under the exclusive control of a Government warehouse-keeper, the duty shall be calculated on the quantity actually delivered from such warehouse.

Calculation of duty on delivery from public warehouse.

14. On salt bonded in a private licensed warehouse, the duty shall be calculated on the quantity delivered on weighment from the side of the ship in which it was imported, less an allowance on account of wastage, which shall not in ordinary cases exceed 2½ per cent. on the quantity bonded.

Calculation of duty on delivery from private warehouse.

15. In any special case the Board of Revenue, as chief customs authority of the presidency, is competent to direct that an increased allowance for wastage shall be granted in accordance with the provision of section 122, Act VIII of 1878.

Increased allowance for wastage may be allowed.

16. If the Collector of Customs has any reason to believe that any fraud has been perpetrated by the bonder or owner of the salt, or any person in his employ, he shall refuse to make any allowance on account of wastage, and shall demand the full duty payable on the entire quantity received into bond.

But not if any suspicion of fraud.

17. The Rs. 3 per 1,000 maunds paid for the weighment of salt on shipboard under Rule 2 shall be credited to a fund to be instituted by the Collector of Customs. The Collector shall from time to time make such subsidiary arrangements as he may deem most conducive to the interests of both Government and the public for carrying on all such weighments, the costs of which will be defrayed from the fund in question.

Charges for weighment to be credited to a fund

18. In the case of public warehouses, the Board of Revenue shall fix from time to time the amount of rent to be paid by the bonder per 1,000 maunds of salt. Ordinarily no golah should be made available unless the quantity of salt to be bonded is equal to two-thirds of the storage which the golah is capable of containing; but when accommodation in golahs of suitable dimensions is not available, the rent to be demanded should be calculated on the quantity of salt, which would amount to two-thirds of the storage capacity of the building, whatever the actual quantity of salt bonded may really be.

SECTION IX.—RULES FOR THE CLEARANCE OF SALT FROM BONDED WAREHOUSES, PUBLIC OR PRIVATE.

Procedure on delivery from bond.

1. All deliveries of salt bonded in a public or private warehouse under the provisions of Act VIII of 1878 shall be supervised, as required by section 99 of the above Act, by a Customs officer and a native officer styled a Ghât Mohurir. These officers will be deputed on application to the officer in charge of the Custom-house.

Charges to be paid by bonder.

2. The expenses incident to their employment shall be borne by the bonder, at the rate of Rs. 5 for a Customs officer and 8 annas for a native officer per diem. These officers will be paid daily If required so to do, the bonder, or applicant for their services, shall pay into the hands of the officer in charge of the Custom-house a sum sufficient to meet the expense of employing such officers.

Working hours.

3. The present working hours at the Sulkea Government golahs will continue to be observed with regard to all deliveries whether from public or private warehouses, viz. from 6 A.M to 2 P.M.

Bonders to provide their own labour and tools.

4. Scales and weights will be provided by Government, but bonders are required to make their own arrangements for cutting and removing their salt from the warehouses, as well as to supply their own tools for cutting the salt, such as sabools, kodalies, &c.

Duty of Customs officer.

5. There will be one Customs officer at each scale; and his duty will be to keep in a book, provided for the purpose at the expense of Government, a correct tally of the bags as they are weighed and taken off the scale by the bonder's people, as well as to see that each bag contains neither more nor less than the prescribed quantity of salt, viz. two maunds. He will be held personally liable for any excess or deficiency that may be discovered at the check scales presided over by the golah officers.

Responsibility of Superintendent.

6. The Superintendent will be held responsible for making such arrangements as will ensure the efficient working of the check scales. At least 10 per cent. of the bags issued from the golahs should pass through these scales.

When disputes arise.

7. Should any dispute arise between the Cutsoms officer and the bonder or purchaser of the salt under delivery, the former will stop the weighment, and at once refer the matter in dispute to the Superintendent for orders.

When irregularities occur.

8. The Customs officer will be particularly careful to bring every irregularity that he may become cognizant of to the notice of the Superintendent without delay, and will be held responsible for failure in doing so.

Check to be exercised by Ghât Mohurir.

9. There will be one Ghât Mohurir for each scale. He will be posted at the proper discretion of the Superintendent either at the ghât, when salt is being passed into boats, or on the roadway when it is being removed in carts. In either case, he will not be allowed to hold any communication whatever with the Customs officer posted within a golah, except through the Superintendent, until after the day's work is over, when his tally will be compared with that kept by the Customs officer, and, if found to agree, signed by the Superintendent.

Duty of Ghât Mohurir.

10. The Ghât Mohurir's duty will be to keep a similar tally to that of the Customs officer, but in Bengali. He will also keep a tally by means of counters supplied by the department. One such counter will be made over to him by each cooly as he passes him with a bag, and will represent one bag or two maunds of salt. After the rowannah quantity has been delivered, these counters will be compared with his written tally, as well as with that of the Customs officer, for the purpose stated in Rule 8.

Check to be exercised by Superintendent.

11. When discrepancies in the accounts cannot be reconciled, and whenever the Superintendent has reason to believe that the quantity of salt conveyed to the boat or cart is not correctly represented in the accounts, he shall hold a re-weighment. The expense of such re-weighment shall be borne by Government.

Duty of Superintendent before salt is removed

12. Whenever the bonder or purchaser is desirous of removing his boats or carts from the premises, the Superintendent will satisfy himself on every point before granting the usual protective documents. He will, before granting a pass, at all times satisfy himself even where the accounts agree that the boat-load or cart-load represents the exact quantity entered in the rowannah.

13. Koyals and Tippannaveeses will not be employed as heretofore in checking weighments.

14. The following extra charges to be levied from bonders, in addition to the rates for ordinary working days, will be demanded for both reception into, and delivery from, bond on Sundays and holidays, viz.—

Extra charges for holidays.

SECTION X.—RULES RELATING TO THE DELIVERY OF SALT FROM BOARD-SHIP.

1. The present working hours are from 8 A.M. to 5 P.M. Leave to work extra hours is only granted when the Collector sees sufficient grounds to permit it.

2. Partial deliveries are prohibited in so far as each boat-load is concerned. When the loading of a boat is commenced, it must be finished before the loading of another boat is commenced. If a boat's loading is commenced during extra hours, it must be completed without any interruption, whether the loading is completed in regular or extra hours.

3. If by any unforeseen circumstance it should become necessary to interrupt delivery, the boat partially loaded shall receive a boat-note in the following form, and shall remain alongside the discharging vessel subject to seizure in the event of her trying to leave the ship's side.

FORM OF THE BOAT-NOTE.

Interrupted delivery.

Rowannah No. in favour of manjee Mds. delivered

Mds. to be completed to-morrow

N.B.—This boat and contents are liable to seizure and confiscation if found away from the

Preventive Officer.

4. Delivery on a rowannah of more than 300 maunds should not be commenced after 4-30 P.M., so as to ensure its completion within working hours.

5. The quantity of salt covered by the rowannah first taken up must be discharged, whatever the number of boat-loads may be, before delivery is commenced on a second Rowannah. In exceptional cases where this is impossible, and adherence to the rule is calculated to cause delay and inconvenience to the ship, the preventive officers before commencing delivery on a second rowannah (the first being incomplete), shall make an immediate report to the Collector, detailing the circumstances which have rendered a departure from the rule necessary. Such report shall be countersigned by the Commander or Chief Officer of the vessel, and its number (if any) and date shall be entered by the preventive officers in the Tally Book.

6. The pages of all tally books shall be numbered and signed at the head by the Superintendent of the Preventive Service; and as soon as each page is filled, the preventive officers shall, before commencing a fresh page, require the Commander of the vessel or Chief Officer to sign at the foot of the page which has been written up.

7. On the completion of deliveries of salt from board-ship upon rowannahs, the holders thereof must present them to the Board's office for the purpose of having the endorsements made on them by the preventive officers examined. Challans will then be granted with regard to such rowannahs as would require them according to section 39 of the Government rules. This rule will not prevent salt merchants removing their salt-laden boats from the ship's side to safe and convenient places in the river under the boat-notes previously granted by the preventive officers. Preventive officers will invariably, when they deliver a completed rowannah to a merchant or to his gomastah, warn him to present his rowannah at the Board's office.

8. No salt may be landed from ship-board or removed from the bonded golahs into the excepted limits of Calcutta and Howrah unless protected by a "certificate" (Form 12, appendix) granted by the Collector of Customs (see section 1, Rule 36A). Within 24 hours after the delivery of salt from board ship under a certificate, the holder thereof must present it at the office of the Collector of Customs for the purpose of having the endorsement made on it by the preventive officer examined, after which it will be returned to the holder in order that the salt covered by it may be landed.

9. The currency of each certificate will expire 48 hours from the time that delivery of the salt is completed,—and any certificate which has not been finally returned, under the following rule (No. 10), to the office of the Collector of Customs within 48 hours from the time of delivery of the salt, must be presented within that time for renewal by the Collector.

10. Within 48 hours after the landing within excepted limits of salt removed upon a certificate from board ship or from the bonded golahs, the certificate must be returned to the office of the Collector of Customs with an endorsement by the holder showing the time and place of landing and the place of storage.

11. Any failure to present a certificate at the Collector's office, as directed in Rules 8, 9, and 10 within the time specified in each rule, will be punishable with a fine of Rs. 500 under section 167, clause 1 of the Sea Customs Act.

SECTION XI.—RULES FOR THE ADMISSION OF GANJAM SALT INTO ORISSA.

1. Salt may be sold at the Ganjam golahs in any quantities, wholesale or retail, for consumption in Orissa, or for transport through Orissa to any other place.

2. All salt thus sold shall be covered by a protective pass, which shall be granted by the Collector of Ganjam without the payment of any fee; such salt shall require no other protective document. The pass shall be written in English and in Ooriya. It shall be dated, and shall state the quantity of salt which it covers, the place for which the salt is destined, and the number of days allowed for transit.

3. If the place of destination be within Orissa, the Collector of Ganjam shall send a copy of the pass granted by him on the day of issue to the Collector of the district in which the place of destination is situated.

4. The pass so given shall be sufficient to protect the salt specified therein from the place of sale to the place of destination, provided that the latter is reached during the period of the currency of the pass; and during this period no Bengal rule or law shall affect this salt or the carriers thereof.

5. If, owing to accident or circumstances beyond the control of the trader, the salt should not be able to reach its destination within the period fixed, then the pass-holder shall, at least one day prior to the expiry of the pass, report the circumstance to the nearest police-station, the officer in charge of which shall, unless good reason for suspecting fraud exist, endorse the pass, extending its period by one more than the number of days necessary to enable the salt to reach its place of destination. If the officer in charge apprehends fraud, he shall detain the salt, and refer the case, including a full statement by the pass-holder, to the Collector for orders. If, after a pass has been once extended, a second application for extension should be made, the case shall be referred for the orders of the Collector. No salt thus detained shall be confiscated under any Bengal rule except on distinct proof of fraud; but where the pass-holder has wilfully overstayed the period of grace granted, the Collector may, if he deems it necessary, impose a moderate penalty, not exceeding 10 per cent., on the value of the salt thus delayed in transit.

6. If a pass-holder shall desire to make any alterations in the terms specified in his pass, he may apply to the Collector of the district in which the salt may then be, and such Collector may in his discretion issue an exchange pass, which, for the purposes of the salt Act and of these rules, shall be of the same force as the original pass issued by the Collector of Ganjam. Every application to a Collector for an exchange pass shall be written upon a paper bearing a stamp of the value which the law prescribes for applications to a Collector.

7. The holder of a pass may sell portions of the salt covered by such pass in transit between the Ganjam frontier and the place of destination; but any salt so sold will become amenable to all rules which have been, or which may be, passed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal under section 11, Act VII (B.C.) of 1864, subject to the provisions of the following rules.

8. Every person purchasing more than five seers of salt from a pass-holder shall give immediate notice of his purchase to the officer in charge of the nearest police-station, who shall thereupon issue an atrafee rowannah or a charchittee under the ordinary rules for the protection of the salt, with a currency of not more than one month. Every police officer granting such a document shall send a copy of the same to the Collector of the district on the same day. All atrafee rowannahs and charchittees so granted by police officers shall be subject to all the rules current in Bengal in respect of such documents.

9. Salt having arrived at the place of destination, and the currency of the Madras pass, or of any extension thereof, having expired, the salt becomes amenable to all rules passed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal under section 11, Act VII (B.C.) of 1864, and the holder of the salt shall be required, within twenty-four hours, to apply in writing to the Collector, or to such officer as may be authorised by the Collector to receive such applications, for the necessary document for the protection of the salt under the Bengal rules.

SECTION XII.—RULES FOR THE CLEARANCE OF DUTY-FREE TARRED SALT FROM THE SULKEAH GOLAHS SANCTIONED BY GOVERNMENT ORDER No. 1998, DATED 21ST JULY 1877.

1. When it is intended to render salt in bond unfit for human consumption by admixture with tar, not less than twenty-four hours' notice of such intention must be given to the Superintendent of the Sulkea Salt Golahs.

2. The operation of mixing the tar and salt, in the proportion of one seer of the former to one maund of the latter, shall be supervised by a special officer, who will be deputed by the Superintendent of the Golahs at the expense, not exceeding Rs. 5 per diem, of the applicant for his services.

3. The Superintendent of Golahs will be responsible that not less than the prescribed quantity of tar is used.

4. Before granting the usual protective documents for the removal of the tarred salt from the golahs, the Superintendent will satisfy himself by a personal inspection that the process of mixing the tar with the salt has been thoroughly performed.

5. Before granting final delivery, the Superintendent will also require the owner of the tarred salt to furnish a written guarantee that it is intended solely for use in the manufacture of glazed stoneware, and that every possible precaution shall be taken to prevent the article from being stolen or restored to a condition fit for human consumption.

6. Any proved case of duty-free tarred salt having been restored, or attempted to be restored, to a condition fit for human consumption will disqualify the owner of the manufactory whence the impure article was obtained to be a custodian or consumer of such salt in future, and render the remainder of his stock of duty-free tarred salt liable to confiscation.

7. The owner of a manufactory, where duty-free tarred salt is allowed to be stored and consumed, shall keep a book showing the daily expenditure of such salt, for what purpose expended, and the stock remaining in store at the close of each day; and the book and stock shall be accessible at any time between sunrise and sunset to such officer as may be appointed for the purpose.

8. All duty-free tarred salt shall be stored in bags containing two maunds each.

SECTION XIII.—MISCELLANEOUS RULES.

1. Whenever an application is made by any one to the Board of Revenue in the Salt Department to transact business on behalf of another person in connection with salt rowannahs, the applicant may be required to produce a written and stamped authority from his employer; and if he cannot produce it, the Board may refuse to transact such business with him.

2. A despatch of salt cannot be deemed to be salt "specified in a rowannah" within the meaning of Act VII (B.C.) of 1864, when the actual quantity found in the despatch is less than the quantity entered in the rowannah accompanying the despatch. If any person, therefore, shall possess or transport within the law-limits, under a rowannah, a quantity of salt less than that specified in such rowannah, the entire quantity shall, if such deficiency be found on weighment to exceed five per cent. on the quantity so specified, be held to be contraband, and as such shall be seized and confiscated. Any person possessing or transporting such salt shall be liable to the penalty prescribed in section 16 of the Act.

No. 336, dated 15*th October* 1880.—Resolution by the Government of India, No. 1789G, dated Simla, the 15th October 1880 :—

Revised proportion of Upper Subordinates in each rank.

RESOLUTION.—The proportion of Upper Subordinates in each grade was last fixed in 1865, and was intended to remedy what was then described to be an almost complete stoppage of promotion. The increase in the relative numbers in the higher grades no doubt accelerated promotion and improved the prospects of this class of officers. The Government of India has been led to consider the subject afresh in connection with the late reduction in the number of Engineers, and has arrived at the conclusion that, owing to the larger areas now supervised by officers of the Engineer Branch, greater responsibility has been thrown on the Subordinates, and that it is proper, both on this and on general grounds, to afford them some further improvement in their prospects of promotion.

Under present rules the number of Sub-Engineers is one-eighth and the number of Supervisors two-eighths of the whole establishment of Upper Subordinates. The Governor-General in Council is now pleased to issue the following revised rules :—

(1)—The number of Sub-Engineers will be three-sixteenths the whole number of Upper Subordinates, adding one for a fraction.

(2)—The number of Supervisors will be five-sixteenths of the whole number of Subordinates, adding one for a fraction.

(3)—The remainder will be Overseers.

(4)—The proportion in the several grades of those ranks will be determined by present rules.

The revised rules may be brought into force on 1st October 1880.

ORDER.—Ordered, that this Resolution be communicated to the local Governments, Administrations and Officers noted in the margin, and to the Foreign Department for communication to the Chief Commissioner of Mysore; also that it be published for general information in the Gazette of India.

Orders and Notifications by the Government of India, &c.

[Reprinted from the Gazette of India.]

NOTIFICATION.—GENERAL.

Simla, the 12th October 1880.

No. 1965*G.-G.*—Mr. H. M. Durand, C.S., Under-Secretary to the Government of India in the Foreign Department, is appointed to officiate as Secretary to the Government of India in the Foreign Department, with effect from the forenoon of the 27th September 1880, during the temporary absence of Mr. A. C. Lyall, C.B, on special duty.

The following order, issued by the Government of India in the Department of Finance and Commerce, is republished for general information :—

NOTIFICATION.

Simla, the 16th October 1880.

No. 3288.—The following Rules are substituted for the Rules regarding Joining Time which were circulated in No. 90 and No. 144 G. Series of the Addenda and Corrigenda to the Codes of the Financial Department :—

RULES.

2. Only one day is allowed for joining an appointment which does not, necessarily, involve a change of residence.

[NOTE.—See Proviso VI to Rule 3.]

3. Otherwise, Joining Time is calculated as follows, excluding Sundays not actually spent in travelling :—

Six days for preparation ; and, in addition thereto,— for the portion of the journey which the Officer travels, or might travel,—	A day for each—by Railway	200 miles.

by Ocean Steamer	150 ,,	Or any longer time actually occupied in the journey.
by River Steamer	80 ,, by Mail Cart or other public stage conveyance drawn by horses ...	80 ,, in any other way	15 ,,

[NOTE.—An extra day is allowed for any fraction of distance over that prescribed.]

i.—The maximum Joining Time is Thirty Days : the following provisos are all subject to this maximum.

[NOTE.—If the Local Government is satisfied that an Officer has, through no fault of his own, been unable to avail himself of the usual mode of travelling, it may extend even the Maximum Joining Time of Thirty Days. But in that case it should report its proceedings to the Government of India in the Department of Finance.]

ii.—When part of the journey is by steamer, the days intervening between the Officer being set free from his office, or, if he has no office, receiving his orders, and the departure of the steamer, or his start duly regulated to catch the steamer, shall be added to the time calculated under Rule 3.

iii.—By whatever route the Officer travels, his Joining Time shall, unless the Local Government specially permit otherwise, be calculated by the route which travellers habitually use.

iv.—If the Officer satisfies his new Departmental Superior that, notwithstanding due diligence on his part, the journey has occupied altogether more time than is allowed by the Rules, the time actually occupied may be allowed.

v.—On being satisfied that the Rules have, in any particular case, operated hardly, as for example, if an Officer has, through no default on his part, missed a steamer, or fallen sick on the journey, the Local Government may allow concessions in excess of what is admissible by the Rules, on such conditions as to allowances or otherwise as it may think fit. Such concessions must not be made as a mere indulgence or otherwise than because the Rules do not appear to provide reasonably and equitably for the case.

vi.—The Local Government may extend the Joining Time admissible by Rule if it considers such extension necessary for the public convenience, or for the saving of public expense, as, for example, to prevent unnecessary and merely formal transfers.

[NOTE.—This Proviso applies also to Rule 2.]

vii.—The Accountant-General, as defined in Section 84, Rule 2 of the Civil Pension Code, shall bring to the notice of the Local Government any concession made under Proviso iv which seems to him improper or unreasonable, and shall move the Local Government to report to the Government of India any concession made under Proviso v, or extension made under Proviso vi, which appears to him contrary to the spirit of those Provisos. The Local Government may not, in either case, finally overrule the Accountant-General without a reference to the Governor-General in Council.

[NOTE.—Upon the application of the Local Government, the Government of India will sanction any necessary relaxation or modification of these Rules in exceptional localities, where their general application would operate harshly.]

4. The Joining Time of an Officer whose appointment is changed while he is in transit from one appointment to another, begins on the day following that on which he receives his orders.

MODE OF ASSESSMENT.

CHAPTER II.—Valuation of Lands.

Lieutenant-Governor may order valuation and revaluation.

12. Upon the commencement of this Act in any district or part of a district the Lieutenant-Governor may order that a valuation shall be made of such district or part of a district;

and from time to time, after the expiration of the term of five years from the beginning of the year in which the levy of the cesses took effect in accordance with any such valuation, or with any revaluation as hereafter provided in this section, or at any time within twelve months previous to the expiration of such term,

After five years holder of estate or tenure may apply to Collector for revaluation.

13. Whenever the term of five years shall have expired from the beginning of the year in which the levy of the cesses took effect in any estate or tenure in accordance with any valuation under this Act, or Bengal Act X of 1871, the holder of any such estate or tenure may apply to the Collector to revalue his estate or tenure, and for such purpose shall lodge in the office of the Collector returns in the form in Schedule (A) contained; and thereupon the Collector shall proceed to revalue such estate or tenure; and if he make any alteration in the valuation of any such tenure shall give notice of such alteration to the holder of the estate or superior tenure in which such tenure is included, and shall alter the valuation of such estate or superior tenure accordingly;

Revaluation may be of particular estates or tenures only.

15. At any time at which the Lieutenant-Governor might order a revaluation of a district or part of a district to be made as provided by section 12, he may, if he think fit, instead of so ordering, make an order that particular estates or tenures only in such district or part of a district shall be revalued.

Notice to lodge returns.

16. Whenever any proclamation has been published, as mentioned in section 14, in any district, and whenever the Lieutenant-Governor has made an order, under the last preceding section, that a revaluation of particular estates and tenures only shall be made, the Collector shall cause a notice to be served in respect of every estate and tenure which is to be valued or revalued, and in respect of which no return shall have been lodged in accordance with the requirement of such proclamation, requiring every holder of such estate or tenure severally to lodge at the office of the Collector the return mentioned in section 14; and shall also cause a similar notice to be served in respect of every tenure included in any such estate or tenure which may have been named in any return lodged in pursuance of the provisions of this Act, or of Bengal Act X of 1871, either for the purposes of the valuation or revaluation then contemplated, or for the purposes of any previous valuation or revaluation, or of which the existence may in any other way have come to his knowledge.

The amount of such fine accruing due from time to time may be levied by the Collector as provided in section 98 or 99, and the fact of an appeal against such fine being pending shall not avail to prevent the levy of any such fine pending the disposal of the appeal, unless the Commissioner shall otherwise direct.

Whenever the amount levied in respect of any such fine exceeds five hundred rupees, the Collector shall report the case specially to the Commissioner; and no further levy for such default shall be made otherwise than by authority of the Commissioner.

No rent to be recovered till return is made.

19. From and after the expiry of the time allowed by the notice, or of any extended time under the provisions of section 17, every holder of an estate or tenure in respect of which such notice has been served shall be precluded from suing for or recovering rent for any land or tenure situate in any estate or tenure in respect of which no return has been lodged as aforesaid.

The Collector may send a list to the civil court of all such holders so making default in lodging returns as aforesaid, and such court shall take judicial notice of the same.

Whenever the required return is lodged in respect of any estate or tenure, or whenever the valuation of any such estate or tenure has been otherwise completed, the disability imposed on the holder thereof by this section shall cease; and if such estate or tenure shall have been included in any list as aforesaid, the Collector shall forthwith give notice to the civil court of the cessation of such disability.

No rent to be recovered for land, &c., not mentioned in return.

20. Every holder of an estate or tenure in respect of which a return has been made as required by this chapter shall be precluded from suing for or recovering—

(a) any rent whatsoever for any land, holding, or tenure forming part of the estate or tenure to which such return relates, but which has not been mentioned in such return, unless it be proved that the holding or tenure for the rent of which the rent is claimed was created subsequently to the lodging of such return;

(b) rent at any higher rate than is mentioned in such return for any land, holding, or tenure included in such return, unless it be proved that the rent of such land or tenure has been lawfully enhanced subsequently to the lodging of such return;

Proviso.

Provided that the Collector may at his discretion, at any time within six months from the presentation of any return made under this Part, receive a petition correcting any such return;

and on the acceptance of such petition may make such correction in the valuation of the estate or tenure as may be required;

and as soon as the person in respect of whose estate or tenure the return and valuation have been so corrected shall have paid in all sums due by him as road cess and public works cess in accordance with such corrected valuation, and not otherwise, such person may recover such rent as may be due to him on any tenure or land included in the return of such estate or tenure at any rate not being in excess of the rate shown in the corrected return as payable in respect of such tenure or land.

Such notices as the Collector may direct shall be served upon the parties affected by such petition at the expense of the person lodging the return as aforesaid.

If returns not furnished, Collector to make valuation.

21. If no return shall have been lodged in respect of any lands for which notice under section 16 has been issued, the Collector may, after the expiration of the time allowed by the notice, or of such extended time as is mentioned in section 17, ascertain and fix by such ways and means as to him shall seem expedient the annual value of any estate, tenure, or lands mentioned in such notice; and all expenses incurred in making such valuation may be recovered with all costs of recovery thereof as provided in sections 98 and 99.

After conviction of making false returns, Collector may make valuation.

22. Whenever the maker of any return under this Act has been convicted on a prosecution under section 94 of making a false return relating to any lands, the Collector may, by such ways and means as to him shall seem expedient, ascertain and fix the annual value of such lands; and the expense of such valuation may be recovered from the maker of such return as provided in sections 98 and 99.

In certain cases of incorrect returns, Collector to make valuation whether prosecution be instituted or not.

23. Whenever the Collector may deem that any return lodged relating to lands for which no rent is payable by cultivating ryots to the person making such return is untrue or incorrect, he may, whether any prosecution as mentioned in section 94 shall have been instituted or not, by such ways and means as to him shall seem expedient, ascertain and fix the annual value of such lands; and in case the annual value of such lands so determined by him shall exceed by one-fifth the value stated in such return, the expense of such valuation may be recovered from the person by whom such return was lodged, as provided in sections 98 and 99, and in all other cases the said expense shall be borne by the District Road Fund.

Person returned as cultivating ryot may be served with notice.

24. The Collector may, whenever he may think fit, cause a notice in the form No. I in Schedule (B) contained to be served on any person holding any lands or possessing any interest therein, although such person may have been mentioned in any return as a cultivating ryot; and thereupon such person shall be bound to make a return of the annual value of such lands within one month from the service of such notice in the form in Schedule (A) contained, and the provisions of sections 17 and 18 regarding extension of time for lodging a return and regarding fines respectively shall be applicable to such person.

If no return made, Collector may ascertain annual value of lands.

25. If no return is made by any person on whom a notice has been served as provided in the last preceding section, the Collector may proceed by such ways and means as to him shall seem expedient to ascertain the annual value of the lands held by such person; and in case it appears that such annual value is greater than the rent paid by such person, the expense of such valuation shall be borne by such person, and may be recovered with all costs of recovery thereof as provided in sections 98 and 99, but in all other cases shall be borne by the District Road Fund.

Collector may correct classification in returns.

26. If it shall appear to the Collector that any person on whom a notice has been served under section 24 has been wrongly classed in the return as a cultivating ryot, the Collector may direct that the entry be corrected and that such person be classed as a tenure-holder;

and thereupon such person shall be deemed to be a tenure-holder for the purposes of the assessment and levy of the cesses in respect of the lands held by him.

Summary valuation of small revenue-paying estates and tenures.

27. Whenever the revenue annually payable in respect of any estate, or the rent annually payable in respect of any tenure, does not exceed the sum of one hundred rupees, the Collector may, without issuing any notice for such estate or tenure—

(a) in any case, determine the annual value of the land comprised therein to be in a permanently-settled estate or tenure, a sum not exceeding three times, and in a temporarily-settled estate or tenure, a sum not exceeding twice, the amount of the annual revenue or rent payable therefor; or

Summary valuation of small revenue-free estates and rent-free tenures of which the area has been ascertained.

28. When the area of any revenue-free estate or rent-free tenure, the gross rental of which does not exceed, or is not estimated by the Collector to exceed, the sum of one hundred rupees has been ascertained, the Collector may, without issuing any notice for such estate or tenure, determine the annual value of such estate or tenure to be at such rate per acre as to him may seem fit.

Computation of annual value of land comprised in a subordinate tenure in a summarily valued estate or tenure.

29. When the land contained in any estate or tenure has been summarily valued by the Collector in the manner provided by clause (a) of section 27, the annual value of any portion of such land which is comprised within a tenure subordinate to such estate or tenure shall be determined according to the following rules:—

(1).—When the subordinate tenure comprises the whole of the estate or superior tenure, the annual value of the subordinate tenure shall be taken to be the same as that of the estate or superior tenure.

Example.—An estate paying a revenue of Rs. 80 is summarily valued by the Collector, under clause (a) of section 27, at Rs. 200. The whole estate is let in patni for a rent of Rs. 120. The annual value of the patni tenure will be Rs. 200.

(2).—When the subordinate tenure comprises a part only of the land constituting the estate or superior tenure—

(a) The difference between the annual value of the estate or superior tenure, and the revenue or rent payable in respect of such estate or superior tenure shall first be ascertained;

(b) Next, the ratio which such difference bears to such revenue or rent shall be ascertained;

(c) Then the amount which bears the same ratio to the rent payable in respect of the subordinate tenure shall be ascertained;

(d) Half of the amount so ascertained shall be added to the rent payable in respect of the subordinate tenure, and the result shall be taken to be the annual value of the subordinate tenure.

Example A.—An estate paying revenue of Rs. 60 is summarily valued by the Collector, under clause (a) of section 27, at Rs. 100. A part only of the estate is let in patni for a rent of Rs. 37-8.

The difference between the annual value of the estate (Rs. 100) and the revenue paid in respect of it (Rs. 60) is Rs. 40. This difference bears a ratio of two-thirds to this revenue (Rs. 60).

The amount which bears the same ratio (two-thirds) to the rent payable in respect of the patni (Rs. 37-8) is Rs. 25;

add half of Rs. 25 to the rent payable in respect of the patni tenure, and the result (Rs. 37-8 + Rs. 12-8=) Rs. 50 will be the annual value of the patni tenure.

Example B.—Within the patni tenure paying a rent of Rs. 37-8, as in example A, is a darpatni tenure paying a rent of Rs. 27.

The difference between the annual value of the patni tenure ascertained as above (Rs. 50) and the rent payable in respect of the patni (Rs. 37-8,) is Rs. 12-8 which bears a rate of one-third to the said rent.

The amount which bears the same ratio (one-third) to the rent payable in respect of the darpatni (Rs. 27) is Rs. 9;

add half of Rs. 9 to the rent payable in respect of the darpatni, and the result (Rs. 27 + Rs. 4-8=) Rs. 31-8 will be the annual value of the darpatni tenure.

When such land may be valued according to rate per acre.

30. When the land contained in any estate or tenure has been summarily valued according to a rate per acre, under clause (b) of section 27, or under section 28, the annual value of the land comprised in any subordinate tenure shall be taken at the same rate per acre as that of the estate or superior tenure.

Holder of summarily valued estate or tenure may lodge return.

31. The holder of any estate or tenure which has been summarily valued under section 27 or 28 may, within one month from the posting of the valuation roll in respect thereof under section 35, lodge a return in the form in Schedule (A) contained in regard to such estate or tenure, and thereupon such return shall be deemed to be a return made as required by section 16 and shall be dealt with accordingly.

Collector may value small estate or tenure by regular process.

32. Instead of proceeding to value any estate or tenure summarily under the provisions of section 27 or 28, the Collector may, if he think fit, cause a notice to be served in respect of any such estate or tenure in the form No. I in Schedule (B) contained, or in the form No. II in the said Schedule contained, as the case may be, and thereupon all the provisions of this Part shall apply in the same way as they would have applied if the annual Government revenue or rent payable in respect of such estate or tenure had exceeded one hundred rupees.

Lands used for Tea, Coffee, or Cinchona.

Return of plantations, &c.

33. In the case of lands acquired under any rules issued by, or under the authority of, the Government for the sale, lease grant, or clearance of waste lands, or held directly from Government, and used for the cultivation o tea, coffee, or cinchona, the Collector shall, in lieu of the notice prescribed by section 16, cause a notice to be served calling on the holder of such lands to lodge within two months of the service of such notice, a return in the form in Schedule (C) contained giving the particulars in such form set forth; and the annual value of such lands shall be fixed at ten rupees in respect of every acre therein entered as cultivated, unless the Board of Revenue shall in any particular case prescribe a lower rate. The provisions of sections 18 and 21 shall apply to all lands in respect of which a notice has been issued under this section.

Publication of Valuation Rolls and Duration of Valuations.

Valuation rolls to be prepared.

34. Whenever any valuation or revaluation is made under this Part, the Collector shall cause to be prepared from the returns furnished to him and from the valuations made by him in accordance with this Act a valuation roll of each estate within his district and of the tenures therein comprised, noting thereon for each estate the amount of revenue annually payable to Government on which the deduction specified in section 41 is to be calculated.

On the application of any holder of an estate or tenure or holding, and on payment of such copying fee as the Board of Revenue shall from time to time determine, the Collector shall cause to be furnished to such holder a copy or corrected copy of so much of any such returns, and of any such roll as relates to the lands included within his estate, tenure, or holding.

Publication of rolls.

35. On the completion of every roll prescribed under this Part, the Collector shall cause a copy thereof to be posted up at the mâl cutcherry of the estate to which such roll refers, and shall cause extracts of such portions of any such roll as refer to any tenure to be posted up at the mâl cutcherry of such tenure;

Provided that, if no such mâl cutcherry be found, such roll and such extracts shall be posted up at some conspicuous places on the estate and tenures respectively to which they refer, and that if such estate or tenure cannot be found, such roll and such extracts shall be posted at some conspicuous place in any village in which such estate or tenure is believed to be situate.

To be attested by two persons.

The person who is entrusted with the publication of any such return shall obtain an acknowledgment in writing signed by two persons who may be either respectable residents of the neighbourhood, or chowkidars, or other officers of Government, to the effect that such return was duly published on the spot, and shall give in such acknowledgment to the Collector.

Valuation and revaluation to be in force for five years.

36. Except as otherwise in this Part expressly provided, every valuation and revaluation made under this Chapter shall remain in force for the term of five years from the date fixed by the Lieutenant-Governor under section 12 as the date from which the cess leviable in pursuance thereof shall take effect, and thereafter, until another revaluation and assessment in substitution therefor shall have been ordered and completed.

Collector may reduce valuation,

37. Nothing in section 36 contained shall be held to debar the Collector, with the sanction of the Board of Revenue, from making at any time any reduction which he may think fit in the valuation of any estate or tenure;

and may value and assess omitted and newly-found estates and tenures.

or from making a valuation of and assessing and levying cess under the rules laid down in this Part upon any estate or tenure which for any reason whatever has been omitted from the valuations and assessments for the time being in force, or which was not in existence when such valuation or assessment was made.

CHAPTER III.—Rating and Levy of the Cesses.

Rate at which road cess shall be levied, how to be fixed.

38. The road cess for each year shall be assessed and levied in each district as provided in section 6, and, subject to the maximum rate in that section mentioned, at such rate as may be determined for such year by the Committee of such district with the approval of the Commissioner under section 150 or 151, or with the approval of the Lieutenant-Governor under section 153, as the case may be, or at such rate as the Lieutenant-Governor may order under section 153.

Rate at which public works cess shall be levied, how to be fixed.

39. The public works cess for each year shall be assessed and levied in each district as provided in section 6, and, subject to the maximum rate in that section mentioned, at such rate as the Lieutenant-Governor may determine for such year.

Notice showing amount of cess payable to be served on zemindars.

40. When the rate of road cess and public works cess to be levied in any district shall have been determined for any year and published in the Calcutta Gazette as provided in section 155, the Collector of the district shall cause the rate so determined to be published by affixing a notification in some conspicuous place in the office of the said Collector, in every civil court, in every police station, and in the office of every sub-divisional officer within the district, and shall cause such rate to be proclaimed by beat of drum throughout the district, and shall cause to be served on the holder of every estate within the district a notice showing the amount of road cess and public works cess payable in respect of his estate, and specifying the date from which such road cess and public works cess will take effect;

Provided that it shall not be necessary to serve such notice when no change has been made in the valuation of the estate or in the rate of road cess or public works cess since the issue of the last notice under this section.

Mode of payment of road cess and public works cess by holder of estate.

41. Except as otherwise in this Act provided (1)—Every holder of an estate shall yearly pay to the Collector the entire amount of the road cess and public works cess calculated on the annual value of the lands comprised in such estate, at the rate or rates which may have been determined for such cesses respectively for the year as in this Act provided, less a deduction to be calculated at one-half of the said rates for every rupee of the revenue entered in the valuation roll of such estate as payable in respect thereof.

By holder of tenure.

(2)—Every holder of a tenure shall yearly pay to the holder of the estate or tenure within which the land held by him is included, the entire amount of the road cess and public works cess calculated on the annual value of the land comprised in his tenure at the rate or rates which may have been determined for such cesses respectively for the year as in this Act provided, less a deduction to be calculated at one-half of the said rates for every rupee of the rent payable by him for such tenure.

By cultivating ryot.

(3)—Every cultivating ryot shall pay to the person to whom his rent is payable one-half of the said road cess and public works cess calculated at the said rate or rates respectively upon the rent payable by him, or upon the annual value ascertained under the provisions of section 24 or 25 of the land held by him.

Time of payment by holder of an estate;

42. (1)—Every holder of a revenue-paying estate shall pay the amount of road cess and public works cess due by him in equal instalments on the several days fixed for the payment of the instalments of revenue due in respect of his estate, or, if such revenue be payable in one annual sum, then on the day fixed for the payment of such sum.

(2)—Every holder of a revenue-free estate shall pay the amount of road cess and public works cess due by him in two equal instalments or in one annual payment upon such days or day as shall be for that purpose appointed by any order of the Lieutenant-Governor.

By tenure-holder and ryot.

(3)—Every holder of a rent-paying tenure and every cultivating ryot shall pay the amount of road cess and public works cess due by him in instalments in the proportion of the instalments of rent payable in respect of the tenure or holding of such tenure-holder or ryot;

Provided that, in cases in which, according to local usage or to the terms of any agreement, no part of such rent falls due before the end of the year on account of which it is payable, the tenure-holder or ryot shall pay the amount of road cess and public works cess due by him in two equal instalments upon such days as shall be for that purpose appointed by any order of the Lieutenant-Governor.

Distribution of valuation in case of partition.

43 In case of partition of an estate being effected under Regulation XIX of 1814, or Bengal Act VIII of 1876, or any similar Act, after valuation of such estate and while such valuation remains in force, the total valuation of the original estate shall be distributed proportionately under the order of the Collector over the newly-formed estates, whereupon the newly-formed estates shall, for the purposes of this Act, take the place of the original estate, the liability to pay cess in respect of each newly-formed estate being separate and distinct from the liability to pay cess in respect of any other of such newly-formed estates.

Such separate liability shall take effect from the same date as the separate liability of the newly-formed estates respectively in respect of land-revenue.

Procedure to be followed when there is a partition.

The procedure prescribed by sections 34 and 35 shall be followed whenever a redistribution of the valuation is made in consequence of a partition as mentioned in the last preceding section.

Effect of opening separate account under Act XI of 1859 or Act VII of 1876.

44. When a recorded sharer of a joint revenue-paying estate has opened a separate account under Act XI of 1859, or under section 70 of Bengal Act VII of 1876, or any similar law for the time being in force for the regulation of the opening and maintaining of such separate accounts, he shall be entitled, in regard to the payment and realization of road cess and public works cess under this Act, to all the advantages of separate liability enjoyed by him under the said Acts XI of 1859, and Bengal Act VII of 1876, in regard to the payment and realization of revenue, and shall be entitled to separate assessment and to the issue of separate notices under this Act from the date on which such advantages shall take effect in respect of the demand of Government revenue.

(2)—Whenever any such separate account is opened after the valuation of an estate, and while such valuation remains in force, the Collector shall issue a notice on the holders of the shares severally, in respect of which the accounts are to be kept separately, informing them that unless any objection is preferred to the Collector within one month of the service of such notice, the amount of the cesses which the whole estate is liable to pay according to the existing valuation will, from the date on which such separate accounts were opened, be apportioned among such shares severally in proportion to the amount of Government revenue for the payment of which each such share is entered in the separate accounts as being liable. Such notice shall specify such proportionate amount.

(3)—If no such objection be preferred within the time specified, such proportionate amount shall be the amount of the cesses for which the respective holders of such several shares are primarily liable as mentioned in Section 13 of Act XI of 1859, subject, however, to the general responsibility of the holders of the entire estate as mentioned in Section 14 of the said Act, if the amount of the cesses due on account of any such share cannot be recovered as provided in Sections 98 and 99 of this Act from the holders of such share.

(4)—If any such objection shall be preferred as aforesaid, the total amount of the cesses for which the whole estate is liable according to the existing valuation shall be apportioned among the several shares in respect of which such separate accounts are opened in proportion to the annual value of such shares respectively under such rules or special instructions, not being inconsistent with this Act, as may be issued by the Board of Revenue; and the holders of such several shares shall be primarily liable as aforesaid for the payment of the amount of the cesses so apportioned on their shares respectively.

Penalty for default of payment of instalments.

45. If any instalment of road cess or public works cess or part thereof payable to the Collector shall not be paid within fifteen days from the date on which the same becomes due, the amount of such instalment or part thereof may be recovered at any time within three years after it became due, with interest at the rate of twelve per centum per annum calculated from the date on which such instalment became due, and with all costs of recovering the same.

With permission of the Lieutenant-Governor Collector may keep separate account of cesses payable by registered holders of revenue-free estates.

46. (1)—In any district to which the Lieutenant-Governor may specially order that the provisions of this section shall be extended, it shall be lawful for the Collector to keep a separate account in respect of the amount of cesses payable and paid by any holder of a revenue-free estate who is recorded in Part I of the Collector's general register of revenue-free lands as proprietor or manager of any specified share or interest in any revenue-free property.

(2)—Such separate account shall be opened and kept under such rules as to the levy of fees and other matters, and subject to such conditions and in such manner as the Board of Revenue may from time to time prescribe, and the Board of Revenue may at any time order that any separate account which has been so opened shall be closed from such time as they may direct, and no longer kept as a separate account.

(3)—As long as any separate account shall remain open as provided in the preceding section, and no longer, the joint liability of the holders of such revenue-free estate for payment of the entire amount payable in respect of such estate shall cease; and the Collector shall recover the amount of cess or other demand due in respect of each share or interest for which an account has been so separately kept from the holder or holders of such share or interest only; and, if the Collector shall think fit to proceed under section 99, he shall take action under that section against the share or interest only in respect of which the sum demanded is due and the rents thereof.

Recovery by holders of estates or tenures.

47. Every holder of an estate or tenure to whom any sum may be payable under the provisions of this Act may recover the same with interest at the rate of twelve and a half per centum per annum in the same manner and under the same penalties as if the same were arrears of rent due to him.

Recovery from co-shareholders.

48. Any shareholder in an estate or tenure who may have paid the road cess or public works cess payable in respect of such estate or tenure, or any part thereof in excess of the amount proportionate to his own interest in such estate or tenure, may recover from his co-sharers such sums as he may have paid on account of their respective shares and interests, in the same manner and under similar penalties, or may take credit for such sums in any adjustment of accounts between himself and his co-sharers.

Recovery by recorded shareholders from their co-sharers by certificate process.

49. Whenever any shareholder in an estate who is recorded in the general register of revenue-paying and revenue-free lands maintained by the Collector, or whenever any shareholder in an estate the extent of whose share or interest in such estate is recorded in any other register kept up by the Collector of lands paying revenue or rent to the Collector direct, shall have paid the road cess or public works cess payable in respect of such estate, or any part thereof in excess of the amount proportionate to his own interest in such estate, he may, within fifteen days of such payment being made, move the Collector to make a certificate as provided by any law for the time being in force for the recovery of Public Demands, specifying the amount which has been paid in by such shareholder as cess in respect of the recorded share or interest of any other shareholder in the estate;

and thereupon such Collector may if he think fit make such certificate, and such certificate shall have the same effect as a certificate made for the recovery of a Public Demand; and the same notices shall be issued and the same proceedings may be taken thereon by the Collector as in case of such certificate;

Provided that the person in whose favour the certificate has been made shall be deemed to be the decree-holder for the sum mentioned in the certificate; and all proceedings taken by the Collector for the recovery of the sums mentioned in the certificate shall be taken at the instance of the person in whose favour the certificate has been made, and at his cost, and on his responsibility, and not otherwise;

Provided also that if any person against whom such certificate has been made shall object that the amount of the cesses for the recovery of which the certificate has been made is greater than the amount which the applicant for the certificate would recover from such person in a civil court as being equitably payable in respect of such person's share or interest in the estate, and if in the opinion of the Collector there is probable ground for such objection, the Collector may, if he see fit, cancel such certificate, and leave the applicant to his remedy in the civil court.

CHAPTER IV.—Valuation and assessment of lands held rent-free and payment and recovery of Cess in respect thereof.

Rent-free lands in what estates or tenures to be included for the purposes of this Act.

50. All lands held without payment of rent other than lands mentioned in section 33, and other than estates entered on the General Register of Revenue-free lands of the district, shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to form a part of any tenure within the local boundaries of which they are contained; and if they are not contained within the local boundaries of any tenure, then to form a part of any estate within the local boundaries of which they are contained; and if they are not contained within the local boundaries of any estate, then to form a part of the estate in which they were included at the original settlement of such estate; and if there be any doubt as to the estate in which they were so included, then to form a part of such conterminous estate as the Collector, in whose district such conterminous estate is situate, shall by an order under his seal appoint.

Holders of estates and tenures bound to return rent-free lands, and to pay cess at half rates for such lands included therein.

51. Every holder of an estate or tenure who is required by this Act to submit a return in the form in Schedule (A) contained shall be bound to enter in such return all lands of the nature of those specified in section 50 according to the tenor thereof; and shall be bound to pay road cess and public works cess on the annual value of such lands, at one-half of the rates fixed under this Act for the levy of such cesses respectively in the district generally for the year.

Notice and extracts of valuation-roll to be published by Collector in respect of such rent-free lands.

52. Whenever any lands held rent-free shall have been included in the return of any estate or tenure as provided in the last preceding section, the Collector shall, on publication of the valuation-roll of such estate or tenure as provided in section 35, cause to be published a notice in the form in Schedule (D) contained, to which notice shall be annexed such extracts from the valuation-roll of such estate or tenure as relate to such lands.

Such publication may be lawfully made by affixing one copy of such notice and extracts at some conspicuous place in every village within which any such lands are situate,

by depositing another copy of the same at any police-station, registration office, or other Government office in the neighbourhood for the inspection of all concerned,

and by proclamation as herein next provided.

The proclamation shall be made by beat of drum throughout every such village, and shall be to the effect that such extracts have been so affixed and deposited, and that the owners and holders of such lands are required to inform themselves, by inspection of such extracts, of the valuation put upon their lands, and to pay yearly to the holder of the estate or tenure in the return of which such lands are included the cesses which shall be payable in respect of such lands under the provisions of this Act.

Holder of rent-free land may object to valuation.

53. Within a reasonable time not exceeding thirty days after the issue of any process for the recovery of any sum due from him as cess under this Chapter, the owner, holder, or occupier of any such land may make before the Collector an objection to the valuation of his land as entered in the valuation-roll so published, and on such objection being made, the Collector shall, by such ways and means as to him shall seem expedient, ascertain and fix the annual value of the land in the possession of such owner, holder, or occupier, and may alter such roll accordingly, and shall give notice of any such alteration to the holder of the estate or tenure to which such roll relates;

Provided that nothing in this section shall be taken to authorise the Collector to alter any return so as to show any area of land as held rent-free which the maker of such return can show to be accounted for by him in the return as rent-paying land.

Notice to be published by holders of estate in certain cases.

54. In the following cases, that is to say—

(1) whenever a new valuation or revaluation takes effect in any district or part of a district;

(2) whenever the rate fixed for the levy of the road cess or of the public works cess in any year is changed from the rate at which such cess was levied in the preceding year; and

(3) whenever the dates fixed by the Lieutenant-Governor under section 57 for payment of instalments of the cesses by holders of rent-free land are changed, the holder of every estate or tenure to whom any cesses are payable in respect of lands held free of rent shall cause a notice to be published in every village in which any such lands are situate, informing all concerned of the rate which has been fixed for the levy of such cesses respectively; and requiring every owner and holder of any such land of which the cesses are payable to the person who causes the notice to be published to pay the amount of the cesses specified in such notice as it falls due, until a similar notice of change of the amount shall be given.

Such notice shall contain the following information in respect of each tenure and holding of rent-free land which is entered separately in the Collector's valuation-roll:—

(1) a specification of the land in respect of which the cesses are payable;

(2) the name of the owner, holder, or occupier of such lands, if known;

(3) the annual value of such land as entered in the Collector's valuation roll;

(4) the rate on each rupee of the annual value which has been fixed under the Act for the levy of the road cess and public works cess respectively for the year;

(5) the amount of the cesses payable in respect of each tenure or holding, calculated at such rates; and

(6) the dates fixed by the Lieutenant-Governor under section 57 for the payment of each instalment together with the amount of each instalment.

Mode of publication.

55. Publication of the notice abovementioned may be lawfully made by affixing one copy of the same at some conspicuous place in every village in which any such land is situate;

by depositing another copy thereof to be available for general inspection at any mâl cutcherry of the estate or tenure in which such land is included,

or at any other convenient place in the neighbourhood;

and by proclamation as herein next provided.

The proclamation shall be made by beat of drum throughout such village, and shall be to the effect that such notice has been so affixed and so deposited, that it is open to inspection at the mâl cutcherry or other convenient place as abovementioned, and that every owner and holder of rent-free land is required to inform himself of the contents of such notice and to pay the amount of the cesses due by him accordingly.

Owner of rent-free land bound to pay cess at full rate.

56. After publication of the extracts from the roll as provided in section 52, and in cases in which publication of the notice mentioned in section 54 is required, after publication of such notice, and not otherwise, every owner and holder of any rent-free land included in such extracts and every person in receipt of the rents and profits or in possession and enjoyment of such land shall be bound to pay year by year to the holder of the estate or tenure in the return of which such land has been included the amount of the road cess and public works cess which may thereafter become due to such holder, calculated on the annual value of such land as entered in such extracts, or on any other annual value which may have been determined by the Collector under section 53, at the full rate or rates which may have been fixed under this Act for the levy of such cesses respectively in the district generally for the year.

Instalments to be fixed by Lieutenant-Governor.

57. The payment of the cesses for each year by the holder of any land which is held rent-free shall be made by two equal instalments, or in one payment, upon such days or day as shall be for that purpose fixed by the Lieutenant-Governor.

If instalments not paid within a month, double the amount may be recovered.

58. When an instalment of the cesses due on any rent-free land is not paid to the holder of the estate or tenure to whom it is due within one month of the date on which such instalment is payable, such holder shall be entitled to recover a sum equal to double the amount of such instalment due to him under sections 56 and 57, with interest on such sum calculated at the rate of twelve and a half per centum per annum from the date on which such instalment was payable, and with all costs of suit;

Provided that such holder shall have paid to the Collector all sums due to such Collector up to date in respect of road cess and public works cess, and not otherwise.

Holders of estates, &c., may send in supplementary returns in respect of rent-free lands.

59. If the holder of any estate or tenure shall have omitted to enter in his return (whether such return was made under Bengal Act X of 1871, or under this Act), any rent-free land which he was bound to enter in such return, such holder may at any time after the passing of this Act give in to the Collector a Supplementary Return showing the necessary particulars in respect of the land so omitted in the form given in Part IV of Schedule A, and shall thereupon pay to the Collector the amount of the cesses which would have been payable by him to such Collector in respect of such land for the three years next preceding, or for any shorter period which may have elapsed since the estate or tenure was last valued.

Effect of supplementary returns.

60. Such Supplementary Return shall to all intents and purposes have the same effect as a return duly made under the provisions of section 51; and sections 51 to 56 (both inclusive) shall be applicable to and in respect of any rent-free land included in such supplementary return.

Sections applicable to amounts payable by owner, &c., of rent-free land.

61. The provisions of sections 57 and 58 shall be applicable to every amount which, as provided in section 56, may become payable by the owner and holder of any such rent-free land to the holder of any such estate or tenure after the fulfilment of the requirements in sections 52, 53, and 54 contained.

Section 58 not applicable to such amounts until sections 52, 53 and 54 are complied with.

62. The provisions of section 58 shall not be applicable to any such amount which may have become so payable under the provisions of Bengal Act X of 1871 or of this Act before the fulfilment of the requirements of the sections 52, 53, and 54; but when any instalment of cess which may have become payable before the fulfilment of such requirements has not been paid to the holder of such estate or tenure on the date on which such instalment was payable, the holder of such estate or tenure may recover the amount of such instalment, together with interest at the rate of twelve and a half per centum per annum on such amount, and with all costs of suit;

Provided that no holder of an estate or tenure shall recover any amount under the provisions of this section, unless he has paid to the Collector all sums which became payable by him to such Collector on account of road cess and public works cess, at any date within the year in which the amount sought to be recovered became payable to such holder of an estate or tenure.

Owner of rent-free land liable to pay cess in future.

63. As soon as the said requirements shall have been fulfilled, in respect of any such land which is included in any such supplementary return, every owner and holder of such land and every person in receipt of the rents and profits, or in possession and enjoyment of such land, shall be bound to pay the amount of the road cess and public works cess which may thereafter become due on such land to the holder of the estate or tenure, in the supplementary return of which such land has been included. Sections 56 and 57 and 58 shall be applicable to the cesses so payable.

Additional return of rent-free land entered in return under Act X of 1871 may be made.

64. (1)—Every holder of an estate or tenure who has included any rent-free lands in any return made to the Collector in respect of his estate or tenure under the provisions of the Bengal Act X of 1871, and has paid to the Collector any cess payable under the said Act, or under the Bengal Act, II of 1877, in respect of the said rent-free lands, may at any time after the commencement of this Act give in to such Collector an additional return in the form given in Part IV of Schedule (A).

Additional return to be deemed supplementary return.

(2)—Such additional return shall be deemed to be a supplementary return within the meaning of section 59, and from the date of the inclusion of any such lands in such additional return the same consequences shall ensue, and the same rights and obligations accrue to the Collector and to the holder of such estate or tenure, and the same liabilities shall attach to the owner, holder and occupier of such lands as would have attached to them respectively if such lands had been included in a supplementary return given in under section 59.

Occupier may deduct cess paid from rent.

65. Whenever any occupier of land which is held rent-free by the owner thereof shall have paid any sum as cess due in respect of such land to any holder of an estate or tenure to whom such cess is payable, such occupier shall be entitled to deduct the sum so paid by him from the rent next thereafter payable by him to the owner of such land, until such sum is fully adjusted.

Notice to be served on holder of rent-free land requiring him to lodge return.

66. Notwithstanding anything in this Chapter contained, the Collector may at any time cause a notice as mentioned in section 16 to be served on the holder of any rent-free land which he shall consider not to have been entered in the return of any estate or tenure in which such land ought to have been included under the provisions of section 51. Such notice shall require the holder of such land to lodge at the office of the said Collector a return in the form in Schedule (A) contained in respect of such land;

and on service of such notice the provisions of this Chapter shall no longer apply to such lands; but the same consequences shall ensue, and the same liabilities shall attach to the holder of such land as would have ensued and would have attached if such lands had constituted a revenue-free estate.

If the Collector has reason to believe that any land in respect of which he determines to serve such notice has been included in the return of any estate or tenure, he shall give notice of his intention to the holder of such estate or tenure, and shall alter such return as may be requisite, and shall correct the valuation and assessment of such estate or tenure as may be required.

If no notice served, such holder bound to notify omission to Collector.

67. If within one year of the commencement of this Act no notice has been served as mentioned in section 66 on the holder of any rent-free land requiring him to lodge a return in the office of the Collector, and if such land has not been included in any extracts from the returns of estates and tenures published by the Collector under section 52 or other similar section, the holder of such rent-free land shall be bound within one month of the expiration of such year to give information of such omission to the Collector, together with a description of the said land, a specification of the village or villages within which it is situate, the area in each village, and the amount of rent payable to him thereupon;

Provided that no holder of rent-free land who at any time after the expiration of the time prescribed shall of his own motion and otherwise than after the issue of any notice by the Collector in respect of his lands give such information to the Collector shall be liable to prosecution for omitting to give such information within the prescribed time.

Collector thereupon may require such holder to make return.

68. On receipt of such information whether within the time prescribed or after the expiration thereof, the Collector may, by an order in writing, require such owner or holder to make a return of his land in the form in Schedule (A) contained, or, if the gross rental of such land does not exceed one hundred rupees, may order that such land shall be summarily valued under section 27 or section 28, and may proceed to make such valuation.

Order to have effect of notice.

69. Every order made by a Collector under the last preceding section shall have the same effect and be followed by the same consequences as the issue of a notice by the Collector under section 66.

Liability of such holder to pay arrears of cesses.

70. As soon as any rent-free land which had not previously been included in the valuation of any estate or tenure, has been valued by the Collector after the issue of a notice as provided in section 66, or after an order made under section 68, the holder of such land shall become liable to pay to the Collector the road cess and the public works cess due on such land, in accordance with such valuation, for the three years last preceding such valuation, at the full rates at which such cesses were respectively levied for each such year in the district generally, together with interest calculated at twelve and a half per centum per annum on each instalment from the date on which such instalment would have been payable if such valuation had been in force.

Such holder is not liable to pay cesses except to Collector or his Deputy.

71. No owner or holder of rent-free land on whom a notice has been served by the Collector under section 66, or in respect of whose land an order has been made by the Collector under section 68, shall be liable to have the land to which such notice or order refers included in any return of an estate or tenure or to pay any amount as road cess or public works cess otherwise than to the Collector or to some person appointed by him in that behalf, unless, on a revaluation of any estate or tenure being made, the Collector shall by an order in writing direct that for the future such land shall be included within such estate or tenure for the purposes of this Act;

and upon such order being made the provisions of this Chapter, in so far as they are applicable, shall apply to the assessment and payment of road cess and public works cess in respect of such land.

Within the above limits the tract in and about Calcutta and Howrah, lying within a ring-fence as defined below, shall not be included, and the rules prescribed under sections 11 and 13, Act VII (B.C.) of 1864, shall not apply thereto, except in regard to such premises as are occupied by saltpetre refineries as specially defined by the Board of Revenue, and in regard to the premises occupied by the salt pass stations at the Sulkea siding platform of the East Indian Railway at Howrah, and at Chitpore at the terminus of the Eastern Bengal Railway. The boundary of the tract thus excluded shall run from Cossipore Ghât, on the left bank of the river Hooghly, following the Gun Foundry Road and the Barrackpore Trunk Road, up to the Barrackpore Bridge over the Circular Canal, thence along the right bank of that canal to its junction with the Narkuldangah Suspension Bridge; thence along the Narkuldangah Main Road up to its junction with the Circular Road. SECTION II.—RULES PRESCRIBED IN ACCORDANCE WITH SECTIONS 11 AND 13, ACT VII (B.C.) OF 1864, FOR REGULATING THE MANUFACTURE, DEPOSIT, TRANSPORT, AND SALE OF SALT, AND FOR SECURING THE PAYMENT OF DUTY THEREON.

Manufacture of Salt.

1. Every application for a license to manufacture salt under the provisions of section 7 of Act VII (B.C.) of 1864, shall be presented to the Collector of the district where the manufacture is intended to be carried on, who shall forward it to the Board of Revenue through the Commissioner of the Division, with an expression of his opinion as to whether the application should be granted or not. In the former case, after ascertaining the boundaries within which the manufacture is to be carried on and the area of the land, the Collector should consult with the District Superintendent of Police, and report the strength and cost of the preventive guard which should be entertained; in the latter, full reasons for rejecting the application should be recorded. Where the license is recommended for sanction the stamp for the license should be realized and remitted, or a certificate given of the amount being credited in the treasury accounts.

2. The Board of Revenue shall have full power to approve or to reject any such application for the manufacture of salt, and the orders of the Board shall be final.

3. Immediately upon any application for license to manufacture salt being sanctioned, the applicant shall execute an agreement (Form I, appendix), and shall thereupon receive from the Board of Revenue a license (Form 2, appendix), the currency of which shall not extend beyond one year.

4. In addition to the preventive guard to be appointed, subject to the approval of the Board, with a view to prevent smuggling and to protect the revenue, the Collector shall appoint in every case, subject to the approval and control of the Commissioner, an excise establishment as marginally noted, for the purpose of supervising the weighment of the salt prior to removal to the warehouse. The Pass Officer shall be called upon to furnish such security as may be required by the Board of Revenue, and he shall nominate for the Collector's approval the Mohurir to be appointed under his own responsibility. The Board of Revenue shall have full power at their discretion to modify or increase the cost and strength of the excise establishment when necessary.

5. The pay of the preventive guard and of the excise establishment shall be defrayed by the manufacturer, and shall be disbursed by the Collector, who will be held responsible that the necessary amount is paid to him, or to any one whom he may appoint to receive it, on or before the fifteenth day preceding the close of the month for which it is due. The payment of the sum fixed forms one of the conditions on which the license specified in Rule 3 is granted, and should be provided for in the agreement mentioned in the same rule, a clause being inserted to the effect that on default of such payment within the specified time, the license may be cancelled, and all salt manufactured under the license at the place of manufacture attached and confiscated. The salt so confiscated should be sold by auction at the highest price bid above the duty, and the sale-proceeds should be applied after paying the duty to defray the charges on account of the guard and excise establishment and the costs incurred, the balance being made over to the defaulter. If the proceeds should not suffice to pay the duty and charges, the balance may be realized by the sale of any other salt belonging to the defaulter.

In Orissa and the district of Midnapore, however, the cost of these establishments will be defrayed by Government, except in cases in which the outturn of the manufacture yields a revenue less than 20 times the cost of establishment, when the cost shall be defrayed by the manufacturer.

6. Before manufacture is allowed to commence, the land within which the actual manufacture is to be carried on must be carefully marked out by a shallow trench; all necessary arrangements must be made and concluded in regard to the appointment of the preventive guards and excise officers; and, as required by section 10, Act VII (B.C.) of 1864, a proper and secure warehouse must be provided by the manufacturer and be approved of by the Board of Revenue. The manufacturer should give six days' notice of the date on which he intends to commence manufacture, and the pay of the guard shall commence from that date. He should also notify the date of close of manufacture, and the appliances of manufacture should be either removed or destroyed, and until they are so removed or destroyed, the manufacturer will be required to pay for the guard. Suitable huts should be provided and kept in repair by the manufacturer for the use of the guard, failing which the Collector may build and repair such huts, and levy the cost by sale of the salt, or cancel the license as for a default in payment of wages.

7. The Collector should ascertain how much salt each chula, or furnace can produce in a working day, and the Pass Officer must insist on the chulia, or mate in charge of each furnace, sending that quantity to the chatee or depôt. The day's outturn should be brought to the depôt at a fixed hour, from one hour before sunset till sunset. The Pass Officer should receive the salt and measure it in standard baskets supplied by the Collector, and make a note of which furnaces it comes from, so as to secure the full complement from each furnace. If any furnace falls short of the ascertained quantity, the mate of that furnace should be called to account. The standard basket shall contain exactly one maund of 40 seers at 80 tollahs to the seer.

8. The Pass Officer shall send to the Collector daily a copy of his record showing how many baskets of salt have been received at the depôt. This record shall be kept in cheque-books similar to those used by Pass Officers for protection of salt on its way to the aurungs.

9. The manufacture of salt shall be closed on such date as the Board of Revenue may be pleased to prescribe in each case, the date being specified in the license of each manufacturer. All salt manufactured after that date shall be held to be salt manufactured without a license, and the provisions of sections 5 and 6, Act VII (B.C.) of 1864, shall apply to such salt and to its manufacturer. The license also shall be liable to be cancelled.

10. Within one month from the date of the closing of his manufacture, every licensed manufacturer of salt shall notify to the Collector, for the information of the Board of Revenue, the quantity of salt manufactured by him during the season. Should the manufacturer, without sufficient cause, fail to give this information within the prescribed period, or should he wilfully furnish incorrect information, he shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 500; and in the latter case all salt in excess of the quantity notified by him shall be held to be contraband, and shall be liable to seizure and confiscation as such. The license also shall be liable to be cancelled.

Deposit of Salt.

11. The Board of Revenue may appoint the Collector of the district, or other officer specially selected for the purpose, to exercise a general control and supervision over all warehouses provided by manufacturers of salt under the requirements of section 10 of Act VII (B.C.) of 1864. For each warehouse the Collector shall appoint, subject to the approval and control of the Commissioner, an excise establishment as marginally noted, the cost of such establishment to be paid by the manufacturer. The Darogah shall be called on to furnish security of such amount as may be required by the Board of Revenue, and all the provisions of Rule 5, with regard to the payment of the salary of the establishments therein provided for, with regard to the duties and responsibilities of the Collector, and with regard to the realization of arrears of salary, shall be applicable in the case of establishments appointed under this rule. The Board of Revenue shall have full power at their discretion to modify the scale of establishment when there are two or more warehouses in the same or adjacent places. No warehouse shall be approved unless on measurement it be found capable of containing at least 10,000 maunds of salt.

12. All salt manufactured under excise license which may remain unstored at the salt works fifteen days after the date fixed in the license for the closing of the manufacture shall, unless the storage thereof shall have been unavoidably prevented, be destroyed by the officers appointed under Rule 4.

13. Every warehouse, when approved of by the Board of Revenue, shall be regularly licensed, and every manufacturer shall forthwith cause to be painted, or otherwise exhibited in a conspicuous part of the exterior of such warehouse, the number of the license, the year in which it was granted, and the words "Licensed Warehouse" in the vernacular language and character of the district. Before a warehouse is built the proposed site should be approved by the Collector of the district. Suitable huts should be provided and kept in repair by the manufacturer for the use of the warehouse establishment, failing which the Collector may build and repair such huts and levy the cost by sale of the salt or cancel the golah license as for a default in payment of wages. The Commissioner of the Division may, from time to time, cause any licensed warehouse to be inspected by the Collector of the district or other officer appointed under Rule 11, and should it appear that from want of repair or from any other cause such warehouse has become an unfit receptacle for the storage of salt, may require the manufacturer to repair or otherwise render it fit for that purpose, and, in the event of his failing so to do, may cancel the license of such warehouse. In the absence of special orders directing an inspection, District Collectors are required to visit each warehouse at least twice in the course of a year, or to depute an Assistant or Deputy Collector for the purpose. The results of such inspections should be reported to the Board through the Commissioner. In Orissa inspections may be made once a year. The Commissioner will report to the Board only when a golah is so much out of repair as to render cancelment of license necessary.

14. When a manufacturer desires to remove any salt from his salt works for the purpose of storing it, he shall cause it to be weighed and packed for transport in the presence of the officer who may have been appointed to this duty under Rule 4. When ready for despatch, such officer shall carefully impress the salt all over, when packed in bulk, with a wooden stamp (adul) supplied for the purpose; but when put up into bags, the mouth of every bag shall be closed with sealing-wax, and a seal, with a clear and distinct device, affixed thereto, in not less than two places, and the aforesaid officer shall also grant a pass to protect the salt during transit.

15. The pass (Form 3, appendix) shall specify the name of the manufacturer, the number of his license, the route by which the salt is to be transported, the weight of the salt, and the date of despatch. It shall also be numbered and signed by the officer granting it.

16. A separate pass shall be granted for every despatch of salt; but if it be despatched by means of coolies or bullocks, one pass shall be sufficient for every gang of coolies or drove of bullocks; and in such case, in addition to the particulars stated in Rule 15, the pass shall specify the number of coolies or bullocks employed in carrying the salt, as well as the number of baskets, bags, or packs used. A gang of coolies shall be taken to mean any number of coolies not exceeding fifty, and a drove of bullocks any number not exceeding twenty-five. A responsible Churrundar shall accompany each despatch, who should sign all three foils of the Pass Officer's pass, thus:—

"Received the above salt in full.

Dated Churrundar."

17. A copy of every pass granted under the foregoing rules shall be forwarded by the officer granting it to the Collector of the district or other controlling officer appointed under Rule 11.

18. The arrival at any licensed warehouse of salt despatched from the salt works shall at once be reported to the officer in charge of the warehouse, who shall without delay, examine its condition, the state of the stamps or seals, as the case may be, and the pass covering the salt. The pass shall then be forwarded in original, duly effaced, and with an endorsement mentioning whether permission to store the salt has been granted or not, to the Collector of the district or other controlling officer appointed under Rule 11, and a copy shall be retained for record by the officer in charge of the warehouse.

19. On the police informing the officer in charge of a warehouse that they suspect that a despatch of salt has been tampered with en route from the salt works, the officer in charge of the warehouse shall put aside all bags reported as suspicious by the police until orders are passed in the case.

20. If the officer in charge of the warehouse be satisfied that the rules laid down above have been in no way infringed, he shall thereupon permit the manufacturer to store the salt in the warehouse.

21. If, however, on examination it be found that the despatch of salt has been tampered with, or that the quantity of salt is likely to be more than one per cent. less than the quantity specified in the pass, the officer in charge of the warehouse shall be empowered to seize and weigh the entire despatch of salt. If the deficiency in weight exceeds the above limit, the officer in charge of the warehouse shall record the explanation of the manufacturer, or his duly accredited servant in charge thereof, and shall report the case to the Collector of the district, or other controlling officer appointed under Rule 11, who shall transmit the papers, with his opinion on the case, for the orders of the Board of Revenue, who may direct confiscation of the entire despatch as contraband. The Board may also, if they see fit, at once cancel the manufacturer's license. The manufacturer shall further be liable for the amount of duty that would be leviable on the deficiency in excess of one per cent.

22. On obtaining the permission of the officer in charge of the warehouse, the salt shall be stored therein by the servants, and at the expense of the manufacturer, in the presence of such officer. If the correctness of the pass protecting the salt is admitted by the officer in charge of the warehouse, he shall enter the weight of the salt as therein stated in the daily store account which he is required to keep.

23. Every licensed warehouse shall be secured by two padlocks supplied by the manufacturer on approval by the officer in charge thereof, the key of one lock being retained by the person owning the salt, or by some person on his behalf, and the key of the second lock by the officer in charge of the warehouse.

24. When a warehouse shall have been stored with salt and before any sales can be permitted, the manufacturer, owner or mortgagee of the salt shall enter into a bond (Form 4, appendix) for payment of the amount of duty, as well as other charges leviable thereon; and he shall further bind himself to discharge, without objection, any duty that may be adjudged against him by the Commissioner of the Division on account of any excess or penalty duty in consequence of any deficiency (beyond the usual allowance of 2½ per cent. as wastage) of salt found in his warehouse at the time of clearance.

25. No bond shall be taken for a period exceeding three years; but on expiry of that period, with the sanction of the Board of Revenue, a renewed bond may be executed for a further term of two years. Applications for the renewal of bonds about to expire shall be presented to the Board of Revenue at least two months previous to their expiry.

26. No salt shall on any account be removed from a licensed warehouse before the permission of the Commissioner of the Division has been accorded to commence sales, and any act in violation thereof shall subject the manufacturer, owner or mortgagee of the same to a penalty of Rs. 500, and the salt thus removed shall be seized and confiscated: provided that nothing in this rule shall be held to prevent Government proceeding, if it see fit, under section 16 of the Act.

27. The salt of the manufacture of each year and that under each license shall if possible be separately stored, and every act in violation of this rule shall subject the whole of the salt within the warehouse to seizure and confiscation.

Transport and Sale of Salt.

28. In addition to the special rowannah prescribed by section 19 of Act VII (B.C.) of 1864, rowannahs shall be of two kinds—

1*st.*—The wholesale rowannah required to protect all salt removed immediately from warehouses or ships.

2*nd.*—The retail rowannah required for the protection of salt, being a portion of an original despatch covered by a wholesale or special rowannah, but separated therefrom for purposes of sale or otherwise.

29. Retail rowannahs shall further be sub-divided into two kinds:—

1*st.*—The atrafee rowannah required to protect salt which it may be intended to convey beyond the limits of the police-station within which it may at the time be stored.

3*rd.*—In addition to the above two kinds of retail rowannahs, a third kind of retail rowannah, to be called sub-charchittee, shall be current in the districts of the Orissa Division and Backergunge. This sub-charchittee, like the retail rowannah No. 2, shall protect salt which it may be intended to retain for sale within the limits of the police-station within which it may at the time be stored.

30. Wholesale rowannahs shall be granted only by the Board of Revenue, or such District Collectors as may be authorized to issue the same, on application being presented on stamped paper of the value prescribed for petitions to the Board, and on the payment of certain fees specified in the schedule hereto annexed. The rowannah (Forms 5 and 6, appendix) shall specify—

1*st.*—The quantity of salt to be transported under its protection;
2*nd.*—The description of salt;
3*rd.*—The place whence the salt is deliverable;
4*th.*—The mode of conveyance;
5*th.*—The destination of the salt; and
6*th.*—The route by which the salt shall be conveyed.

All special and wholesale rowannahs taken out for the removal of salt, either from boardship, or from bonded golahs under Government, or from private golahs in the excepted limits of Calcutta, shall have a currency of not more than six months. Such rowannahs as are taken out for the protection of salt destined for places not within the limits notified under section 12 of the Act, and which have to be surrendered before passing out of the said limits at the last police-station within those limits, shall on no occasion be current for more than fifteen days if the pass station at which the rowannah has to be delivered up is Bally; or for more than one month in any other case.

The holder of a wholesale rowannah the currency of which is about to expire, may apply to the Board of Revenue, or to the District Collector by whom the rowannah was issued, on stamped paper of the value of one rupee, for a renewed rowannah, which shall be granted on sufficient cause being shown, and on the salt being identified satisfactorily. Collectors should submit weekly to the Commissioner a list of the renewed rowannahs; and should keep a register of all rowannahs they issue.

The holder of a rowannah for the transport of salt from the bonded golahs or from shipboard into the protected limits vid the Chitpore pass station will be at liberty to choose any of the three following routes:—

(1)—By the river Hooghly by boat.
(2)—By the Port Commissioners' tramway vid Armenian Ghât.
(3)—By the Port Commissioners' tramway vid Rathtollah Ghât.

The route chosen must be declared when the rowannah is taken out, and the Customs officer on board the ship from which the salt is delivered will make out the boat-notes according to the route chosen. If the holder of the rowannah wishes to alter the route, he can do so by applying to the Board as provided in Rule 31.

31. If any person who shall have become possessed of a wholesale rowannah shall desire to make any alteration in the terms specified therein, permissible under these rules, he may, by application to the Board of Revenue, or to the District Collector, if authorized to grant the original rowannah, on stamped paper of the value prescribed for petitions to the said Board, and on payment of the fees specified in the schedules hereto annexed, obtain an exchange rowannah (Form 7, appendix), which shall, for all the purposes of the Act and of these rules, be considered to be a wholesale rowannah.

32. Blank forms of retail rowannahs of all kinds shall be obtainable from the Collector of the district, or from the Deputy Collector in charge of the sub-division within which the salt is stored at the time of application, provided such officer shall have been empowered by the Collector to grant such rowannahs.

At places situated at a long distance from the Collectorate or the sub-divisional office, the Collector is further empowered to entrust the distribution of the forms, duly signed and sealed, to the police in charge of the division within the limits of which the salt is stored at the time for sale.

A retail rowannah shall specify—

1*st.*—The quantity and description of salt covered by it;
2*nd.*—The time for which it is current;
3*rd*—The number and date of the rowannah from which the salt was obtained;
4*th.*—The destination of the salt;

5*th*.—The route by which the salt shall be carried;

6*th*.—The mode of conveyance; and

7*th*.—The name of the consignee or purchaser.

The salt covered by the atrafee rowannah (Form 8, appendix) and charchittee (Form 9, appendix) shall in no case exceed one hundred maunds.

The salt covered by the sub-charchittee (Form 10, appendix) in the Orissa Division and Backergunge shall in no case exceed five maunds.

The currency of the atrafee rowannah and the charchittee shall in no case exceed six months.

The currency of the sub-charchittee in the Orissa Division and Backergunge shall in no case exceed one month.

33. A fee of four annas shall be levied on every retail rowannah No. 1.*

34. Wholesale rowannah-holders are hereby empowered to issue to furriahs, or retail vendors, retail rowannahs of all descriptions specified in Rule 29; and holders of retail rowannahs No. 1 are similarly empowered to issue retail rowannahs No. 2 to furriahs or retail vendors; and in the districts of the Orissa division and Backergunge, holders of retail rowannahs No. 2 are likewise similarly empowered to issue retail rowannahs No. 3 to other furriahs or retail vendors.

Any rowannahdar selling more than five seers of salt to any person shall be bound to furnish the purchaser with such protective documents as may be required.

35. Special rowannahs granted under section 19 of Act VII (B.C.) of 1864 shall, as nearly as possible, resemble wholesale rowannahs, and the rules regarding wholesale rowannahs shall also apply to them. Salt conveyed into the limits notified under section 12 of the Act from ships or warehouses in Calcutta and Howrah will require to be protected by a special rowannah (Form 6, vide clause 30).

In addition to those mentioned in Rule 30, the following particulars shall be entered in all special rowannahs (Form 11, appendix) for the removal of salt from private golahs in Calcutta:—

1*st*.—The names of the manjees in whose boats the salt has been loaded;

2*nd*.—The license numbers of such boats; and

3*rd*.—The date or dates on which salt was loaded into the boats.

36(a) Every application for a "certificate" (Form 12, appendix) for landing salt from shipboard, or for removing it from the bonded golahs into the excepted limits of Calcutta and Howrah, must in future be made to the Collector of Customs instead of to the Board of Revenue, and any person attempting to land salt within such limits without having taken out such certificate will be liable to the penalties provided under the Sea Customs Act, VIII of 1878.

(b) In granting a rowannah for salt which is to be conveyed out of the excepted limits of Calcutta into protected limits, the Board will require the applicant for the rowannah to give the full particulars of the certificate under which it was landed in Calcutta.

(c) If the holder of a rowannah issued by the Board of Revenue for salt to be taken from shipboard out of the excepted limits, desires to land the whole or any portion of such salt within the excepted limits, he must apply for the Board's orders to cancel the original rowannah. On his application being granted, he will, on payment of the usual fees, be furnished with a letter of advice to the Collector of Customs for the issue of a "certificate" in respect of the whole or such portion of the salt as he desires to land within the excepted limits of Calcutta, and, if necessary, with an "exchange rowannah" in respect of the balance to be taken beyond the excepted limits.

37. Within twenty-four hours after the completion of deliveries of salt from boardship upon rowannahs, the holders thereof must present them at the Board's office for the purpose of having the endorsements made on them by the preventive officers examined. Challans will then be granted with regard to such rowannahs as would require them according to section 39 of the rules. This rule will not prevent salt merchants removing their salt-laden boats from the ship's side to safe and convenient places in the river under the boat-notes previously granted by the preventive officers. Any person failing to comply with the provisions of this rule shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 100.

38. Every wholesale and every retail rowannah shall always be kept with the salt to which it refers, and on demand by any police officer above the rank of constable shall be forthwith produced for examination. When, however, under the provisions of the rule next following, a despatch of salt covered by a wholesale or retail rowannah is laden on more than one boat or cart or drove of bullocks, or gang of coolies, it will be sufficient if the wholesale or retail rowannah covering the entire despatch of salt be produced within twenty-four hours. If the rowannah be not forthcoming, the salt shall be seized and proceedings taken under section 16 of the Act. If the rowannah be produced after the seizure of the salt, the matter shall be reported for the orders of the Board.

39. If it be necessary in any way to divide any lot of salt covered by a wholesale or retail rowannah, the owner of the salt, or any person acting in his behalf, shall apply for, and shall be furnished with challans, (Form 13, appendix), the numbers and particulars of which, showing the quantity of salt protected by each challan separately, shall be endorsed on the rowannah. Such challans shall be given up when the salt of the despatch has to pass out of the limits notified under section 12 of the Act, or is transferred to other boats, carriages, &c. A challan therefore can never protect salt in itself, or independently of the rowannah to which it is merely subsidiary.

40. Boats, carriages, &c., covered by challans must stop at the last pass station on the route until the arrival of the boat, carriage, &c., which is carrying the rowannah, and none of them must go beyond the pass station until the rowannah has been examined. Failure to comply with this rule will render the parties liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 500. If the rowannah be not produced, the salt should be seized and proceedings taken under section 16 of Act.

41. If any person holding a rowannah shall fail to comply with the provisions of section 22 of the Act, such person shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 500. When the salt specified in a rowannah is disposed of within the limits laid down under section 12 of the Act, the rowannahdar is hereby required to deliver up his protective document, as directed by the law, within seven days of the date of the sale of the last parcel of salt covered by such document. Omission to do so will be held to constitute a breach of the provisions of section 22 of the Act.

42. Every person in charge of salt in transit within the limits notified under section 12 of the Act shall be bound to stop at every police pass station upon the line of route laid down in his rowannah, whether wholesale or retail, and shall present his rowannah to the chief officer at such station for endorsement, and shall, if required, allow his salt to be examined.

43. The proprietor of any salt, the rowannah of which shall not be endorsed in the manner prescribed in the preceding rule, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 500, and if it shall appear to the officer trying the case that the omission was made with fraudulent intent, he shall direct the salt to be confiscated.

44. If the police in charge of the last pass station on any route have reason to suspect that a boat laden with salt is passing the station without stopping to give up the rowannah, they shall follow the boat, and on overtaking it, if the parties are known, the police should apply to the Magistrate for a summons against them under section 148 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Act X of 1872). If, however, the police have reason to believe that the accused are about to abscond, they should request the Magistrate to issue a warrant instead of a summons in the first instance, as provided in the same section. If the parties are unknown, the police should act under the provisions of section 93 of the Criminal Code of Procedure, and detain them in order to ascertain their names and address. If the names and address given are believed to be correct, summons should be applied for as indicated above; if the names and address given are believed to be false, the parties should be forwarded to the Magistrate in the manner prescribed in section 93 above referred to.

45. The names of the police pass stations at which it will be necessary for proprietors of salt to have their salt and passes examined and endorsed, shall be notified from time to time in the Calcutta and Exchange Gazettes.

46. On a despatch of salt covered by a wholesale or atrafee rowannah arriving at the warehouse or shop of any salt trader situated in any place within the limits notified in section 12 of the Act, the proprietor shall, within twenty-four hours, notify its arrival in writing to the Collector of the district, specifying in such notice the description, number, and date of the rowannah, the quantity and description of salt covered by it, and the place whence the salt was obtained. Omission or neglect to comply with this rule shall render such trader liable to a penalty not exceeding Rs 10 for each offence.

47. Every salt trader carrying on business within the limits notified under section 12 of the Act shall, on the 1st of every month, submit to the Sub-divisional Officer within whose jurisdiction he resides, or to the nearest Abkaree Darogah, or nearest police-station or outpost, for transmission to the Sub-divisional Officer, a signed statement specifying the quantity of salt sold under each wholesale or atrafee rowannah in his hands during the previous month, as well as the quantity of salt remaining in store under each such document on the last day of such month. Omission or neglect to comply with this rule shall subject such trader to a fine of Rs. 20 for each offence. The Sub-divisional Officer will forward the returns to the Collector with his remarks.

Month.	Name of vendor and locality.	Wholesale sale.	Retail sale.

48. The Board of Revenue shall, from time to time, prescribe forms for the agreements applications, bonds, licenses, rowannahs, and other documents required under the above rules.

SECTION VIII.—RULES RELATING TO THE RECEPTION AND CLEARANCE OF SALT SUBSIDIARY TO THOSE CONTAINED IN ACT VIII OF 1878.

Rules for Weighment and Admission of salt into Warehouses, public or private, under the Customs Law.

Collector to make arrangements for weighment of salt.

1. On receipt of an application under section 91, Act VIII of 1878, for the admission of salt into a public or private warehouse, and after the due execution of a bond under the provisions of section 92, Act VIII of 1878, the Collector of Customs shall make such arrangements as he may deem necessary for the proper weighment of salt during its discharge from the vessel, for the purpose of being conveyed to the appointed licensed warehouse.

Weighment charges.

2. The weighment shall be conducted in the presence of the preventive officer on board, and the expense thereof shall be charged to the bonder at a rate of Rs. 3 per 1,000 maunds.

Description of boat to be used.

3. No salt for which the full duty has not been previously paid shall be taken from any vessel, save in a lighter provided with hatches, which are capable of being securely fastened down; and it shall be the duty of the preventive officer on board to satisfy himself that such lighter is in serviceable condition before permitting such salt to be placed therein.

Procedure on despatch.

4. As soon as the bonder or his agent or servant shall notify to the preventive officer that he desires to proceed with any boat-load of salt, he shall obtain a boat-note, in which the name of the importing vessel and of the bonder, the quantity of salt contained therein, and the warehouse wherein it is to be deposited shall be specified. The salt shall thereupon be carefully impressed with a stamp specially provided for this purpose, and the hatches shall be closed and sealed by, or in the presence of, the preventive officer. The lighter shall then be allowed to proceed in charge of a native officer or peon deputed for the purpose by the Custom-house authorities, accompained by an agent on the part of the bonder.

Place of anchorage.

5. The boat shall be anchored, if possible, at the steps of the ghât leading to the warehouse in which the salt is to be stored, otherwise at the moorings nearest to such ghât. It shall on no account be permitted by the native Custom-house officer or peon on board to anchor at the outward moorings.

Procedure on arrival.

6. Notice of the arrival of such salt shall at once be given by the Custom-house officer to the Government Superintendent in the case of salt to be bonded in a public warehouse, or, if the salt is to be bonded in a private licensed warehouse, to the Inspector or Superintendent of licensed Warehouses, who shall thereupon note the date and hour of arrival, bringing any unreasonable delay to the notice of the Collector of Customs, and depute a proper officer to examine and compare the boat-note delivered by the preventive officer to the bonder, his servant, or agent, and the cargo of salt, and to superintend its removal to, and storage in, the appointed warehouse.

Duty of peon and bonder's agent.

7. The bonder's agent and native Custom-house officer or peon shall remain on board of the boat in charge, until the seals and hatches are examined and all the cargo landed and stored.

Responsibilities of bonder and Superintendent.

8. The Bonder will be held responsible for any departure from these rules on the part of his agent, and the Superintendent or Inspector of the warehouse shall take notice of any dereliction of duty on the part of the native Custom-house officer or peon.

Bonder to defray all charges.

9. All expenses connected with the removal and storage of the salt shall be borne by the bonder, who shall also pay to the Collector such fees as he may fix for the services of the officer or peon in charge of the salt from the time of its discharge from the vessel's side to the completion of its storage in the warehouse.

Procedure when salt has been tampered with.

10. If the officer appointed by the Superintendent or Inspector of the Government or private licensed warehouse shall have reason to believe that the salt has in any way been tampered with during its transit by river, he shall at once report the circumstance to the Superintendent or Inspector, who, with the permission of the Collector, shall direct the salt to be re-weighed, and such re-weighment shall be made at the expense of Government.

Penalty when salt is deficient.

11. If there be found any unexplained deficiency in the salt on board the cargo-boat as compared with the quantity specified in the boat-note, the whole of the salt contained in such boat shall be confiscated, and the bond under which the salt is in course of being stored shall be cancelled.

Salt under different bonds to be stored separately.

12. Salt relating to different bonds shall be stored separately and distinctly. Any admixture of salt specified in different bonds shall render those bonds liable to cancelment, and the holders to immediate payment of the full duty payable thereon.

Calculation of duty on delivery from public warehouse.

13. On salt bonded in a warehouse under the exclusive control of a Government warehouse-keeper, the duty shall be calculated on the quantity actually delivered from such warehouse.

Calculation of duty on delivery from private warehouse.

14. On salt bonded in a private licensed warehouse, the duty shall be calculated on the quantity delivered on weighment from the side of the ship in which it was imported, less an allowance on account of wastage, which shall not in ordinary cases exceed 2½ per cent. on the quantity bonded.

Increased allowance for wastage may be allowed.

15. In any special case the Board of Revenue, as chief customs authority of the presidency, is competent to direct that an increased allowance for wastage shall be granted in accordance with the provision of section 122, Act VIII of 1878.

But not if any suspicion of fraud.

16. If the Collector of Customs has any reason to believe that any fraud has been perpetrated by the bonder or owner of the salt, or any person in his employ, he shall refuse to make any allowance on account of wastage, and shall demand the full duty payable on the entire quantity received into bond.

Charges for weighment to be credited to a fund

17. The Rs. 3 per 1,000 maunds paid for the weighment of salt on shipboard under Rule 2 shall be credited to a fund to be instituted by the Collector of Customs. The Collector shall from time to time make such subsidiary arrangements as he may deem most conducive to the interests of both Government and the public for carrying on all such weighments, the costs of which will be defrayed from the fund in question.

18. In the case of public warehouses, the Board of Revenue shall fix from time to time the amount of rent to be paid by the bonder per 1,000 maunds of salt. Ordinarily no golah should be made available unless the quantity of salt to be bonded is equal to two-thirds of the storage which the golah is capable of containing; but when accommodation in golahs of suitable dimensions is not available, the rent to be demanded should be calculated on the quantity of salt, which would amount to two-thirds of the storage capacity of the building, whatever the actual quantity of salt bonded may really be.

SECTION IX.—RULES FOR THE CLEARANCE OF SALT FROM BONDED WAREHOUSES, PUBLIC OR PRIVATE.

Procedure on delivery from bond.

1. All deliveries of salt bonded in a public or private warehouse under the provisions of Act VIII of 1878 shall be supervised, as required by section 99 of the above Act, by a Customs officer and a native officer styled a Ghât Mohurir. These officers will be deputed on application to the officer in charge of the Custom-house.

Charges to be paid by bonder.

2. The expenses incident to their employment shall be borne by the bonder, at the rate of Rs. 5 for a Customs officer and 8 annas for a native officer per diem. These officers will be paid daily. If required so to do, the bonder, or applicant for their services, shall pay into the hands of the officer in charge of the Custom-house a sum sufficient to meet the expense of employing such officers.

Working hours.

3. The present working hours at the Sulkea Government golahs will continue to be observed with regard to all deliveries whether from public or private warehouses, viz. from 6 A.M. to 2 P.M.

Bonders to provide their own labour and tools.

4. Scales and weights will be provided by Government, but bonders are required to make their own arrangements for cutting and removing their salt from the warehouses, as well as to supply their own tools for cutting the salt, such as sabools, kodalies, &c.

Duty of Customs officer.

5. There will be one Customs officer at each scale; and his duty will be to keep in a book, provided for the purpose at the expense of Government, a correct tally of the bags as they are weighed and taken off the scale by the bonder's people, as well as to see that each bag contains neither more nor less than the prescribed quantity of salt, viz. two maunds. He will be held personally liable for any excess or deficiency that may be discovered at the check scales presided over by the golah officers.

Responsibility of Superintendent.

6. The Superintendent will be held responsible for making such arrangements as will ensure the efficient working of the check scales At least 10 per cent. of the bags issued from the golahs should pass through these scales.

When disputes arise.

7. Should any dispute arise between the Customs officer and the bonder or purchaser of the salt under delivery, the former will stop the weighment, and at once refer the matter in dispute to the Superintendent for orders.

When irregularities occur.

8. The Customs officer will be particularly careful to bring every irregularity that he may become cognizant of to the notice of the Superintendent without delay, and will be held responsible for failure in doing so.

Check to be exercised by Ghât Mohurir.

9. There will be one Ghât Mohurir for each scale. He will be posted at the proper discretion of the Superintendent either at the ghât, when salt is being passed into boats, or on the roadway when it is being removed in carts. In either case, he will not be allowed to hold any communication whatever with the Customs officer posted within a golah, except through the Superintendent, until after the day's work is over, when his tally will be compared with that kept by the Customs officer, and, if found to agree, signed by the Superintendent

Duty of Ghât Mohurir.

10. The Ghât Mohurir's duty will be to keep a similar tally to that of the Customs officer, but in Bengali. He will also keep a tally by means of counters supplied by the department. One such counter will be made over to him by each cooly as he passes him with a bag, and will represent one bag or two maunds of salt. After the rowannah quantity has been delivered, these counters will be compared with his written tally, as well as with that of the Customs officer, for the purpose stated in Rule 8.

Check to be exercised by Superintendent.

11. When discrepancies in the accounts cannot be reconciled, and whenever the Superintendent has reason to believe that the quantity of salt conveyed to the boat or cart is not correctly represented in the accounts, he shall hold a re-weighment. The expense of such re-weighment shall be borne by Government.

Duty of Superintendent before salt is removed.

12. Whenever the bonder or purchaser is desirous of removing his boats or carts from the premises, the Superintendent will satisfy himself on every point before granting the usual protective documents. He will, before granting a pass, at all times satisfy himself even where the accounts agree that the boat-load or cart-load represents the exact quantity entered in the rowannah.

13. Koyals and Tippanavecses will not be employed as heretofore in checking weighments.

SECTION X.—RULES RELATING TO THE DELIVERY OF SALT FROM BOARD-SHIP.

1. The present working hours are from 8 A.M. to 5 P.M. Leave to work extra hours is only granted when the Collector sees sufficient grounds to permit it.

2. Partial deliveries are prohibited in so far as each boat-load is concerned. When the loading of a boat is commenced, it must be finished before the loading of another boat is commenced. If a boat's loading is commenced during extra hours, it must be completed without any interruption, whether the loading is completed in regular or extra hours.

3. If by any unforeseen circumstance it should become necessary to interrupt delivery, the boat partially loaded shall receive a boat-note in the following form, and shall remain alongside the discharging vessel subject to seizure in the event of her trying to leave the ship's side.

Preventive Officer.

4. Delivery on a rowannah of more than 300 maunds should not be commenced after 4-30 P.M., so as to ensure its completion within working hours.

5. The quantity of salt covered by the rowannah first taken up must be discharged, whatever the number of boat-loads may be, before delivery is commenced on a second Rowannah. In exceptional cases where this is impossible, and adherence to the rule is calculated to cause delay and inconvenience to the ship, the preventive officers before commencing delivery on a second rowannah (the first being incomplete), shall make an immediate report to the Collector, detailing the circumstances which have rendered a departure from the rule necessary. Such report shall be countersigned by the Commander or Chief Officer of the vessel, and its number (if any) and date shall be entered by the preventive officers in the Tally Book.

6. The pages of all tally books shall be numbered and signed at the head by the Superintendent of the Preventive Service; and as soon as each page is filled, the preventive officers shall, before commencing a fresh page, require the Commander of the vessel or Chief Officer to sign at the foot of the page which has been written up.

7. On the completion of deliveries of salt from board-ship upon rowannahs, the holders thereof must present them to the Board's office for the purpose of having the endorsements made on them by the preventive officers examined. Challans will then be granted with regard to such rowannahs as would require them according to section 39 of the Government rules. This rule will not prevent salt merchants removing their salt-laden boats from the ship's side to safe and convenient places in the river under the boat-notes previously granted by the preventive officers. Preventive officers will invariably, when they deliver a completed rowannah to a merchant or to his gomastah, warn him to present his rowannah at the Board's office.

8. No salt may be landed from ship-board or removed from the bonded golahs into the excepted limits of Calcutta and Howrah unless protected by a "certificate" (Form 12, appendix) granted by the Collector of Customs (see section 1, Rule 36A). Within 24 hours after the delivery of salt from board ship under a certificate, the holder thereof must present it at the office of the Collector of Customs for the purpose of having the endorsement made on it by the preventive officer examined, after which it will be returned to the holder in order that the salt covered by it may be landed.

9. The currency of each certificate will expire 48 hours from the time that delivery of the salt is completed,—and any certificate which has not been finally returned, under the following rule (No. 10), to the office of the Collector of Customs within 48 hours from the time of delivery of the salt, must be presented within that time for renewal by the Collector.

10. Within 48 hours after the landing within excepted limits of salt removed upon a certificate from board ship or from the bonded golahs, the certificate must be returned to the office of the Collector of Customs with an endorsement by the holder showing the time and place of landing and the place of storage.

11. Any failure to present a certificate at the Collector's office, as directed in Rules 8, 9, and 10 within the time specified in each rule, will be punishable with a fine of Rs. 500 under section 167, clause 1 of the Sea Customs Act.

SECTION XI.—RULES FOR THE ADMISSION OF GANJAM SALT INTO ORISSA.

1. Salt may be sold at the Ganjam golahs in any quantities, wholesale or retail, for consumption in Orissa, or for transport through Orissa to any other place.

2. All salt thus sold shall be covered by a protective pass, which shall be granted by the Collector of Ganjam without the payment of any fee; such salt shall require no other protective document. The pass shall be written in English and in Ooriya. It shall be dated, and shall state the quantity of salt which it covers, the place for which the salt is destined, and the number of days allowed for transit.

3. If the place of destination be within Orissa, the Collector of Ganjam shall send a copy of the pass granted by him on the day of issue to the Collector of the district in which the place of destination is situated.

4. The pass so given shall be sufficient to protect the salt specified therein from the place of sale to the place of destination, provided that the latter is reached during the period of the currency of the pass; and during this period no Bengal rule or law shall affect this salt or the carriers thereof.

5. If, owing to accident or circumstances beyond the control of the trader, the salt should not be able to reach its destination within the period fixed, then the pass-holder shall, at least one day prior to the expiry of the pass, report the circumstance to the nearest police-station, the officer in charge of which shall, unless good reason for suspecting fraud exist, endorse the pass, extending its period by one more than the number of days necessary to enable the salt to reach its place of destination. If the officer in charge apprehends fraud, he shall detain the salt, and refer the case, including a full statement by the pass-holder, to the Collector for orders. If, after a pass has been once extended, a second application for extension should be made, the case shall be referred for the orders of the Collector. No salt thus detained shall be confiscated under any Bengal rule except on distinct proof of fraud; but where the pass-holder has wilfully overstayed the period of grace granted, the Collector may, if he deems it necessary, impose a moderate penalty, not exceeding 10 per cent., on the value of the salt thus delayed in transit.

6. If a pass-holder shall desire to make any alterations in the terms specified in his pass, he may apply to the Collector of the district in which the salt may then be, and such Collector may in his discretion issue an exchange pass, which, for the purposes of the salt Act and of these rules, shall be of the same force as the original pass issued by the Collector of Ganjam. Every application to a Collector for an exchange pass shall be written upon a paper bearing a stamp of the value which the law prescribes for applications to a Collector.

7. The holder of a pass may sell portions of the salt covered by such pass in transit between the Ganjam frontier and the place of destination; but any salt so sold will become amenable to all rules which have been, or which may be, passed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal under section 11, Act VII (B.C.) of 1864, subject to the provisions of the following rules.

8. Every person purchasing more than five seers of salt from a pass-holder shall give immediate notice of his purchase to the officer in charge of the nearest police-station, who shall thereupon issue an atrafee rowaunah or a charchittee under the ordinary rules for the protection of the salt, with a currency of not more than one month. Every police officer granting such a document shall send a copy of the same to the Collector of the district on the same day. All atrafee rowannahs and charchittees so granted by police officers shall be subject to all the rules current in Bengal in respect of such documents.

9. Salt having arrived at the place of destination, and the currency of the Madras pass, or of any extension thereof, having expired, the salt becomes amenable to all rules passed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal under section 11, Act VII (B.C.) of 1864, and the holder of the salt shall be required, within twenty-four hours, to apply in writing to the Collector, or to such officer as may be authorised by the Collector to receive such applications, for the necessary document for the protection of the salt under the Bengal rules.

SECTION XII.—RULES FOR THE CLEARANCE OF DUTY-FREE TARRED SALT FROM THE SULKEAH GOLAHS SANCTIONED BY GOVERNMENT ORDER NO. 1998, DATED 21ST JULY 1877.

1. When it is intended to render salt in bond unfit for human consumption by admixture with tar, not less than twenty-four hours' notice of such intention must be given to the Superintendent of the Sulkea Salt Golahs.

2. The operation of mixing the tar and salt, in the proportion of one seer of the former to one maund of the latter, shall be supervised by a special officer, who will be deputed by the Superintendent of the Golahs at the expense, not exceeding Rs. 5 per diem, of the applicant for his services.

3. The Superintendent of Golahs will be responsible that not less than the prescribed quantity of tar is used.

4 Before granting the usual protective documents for the removal of the tarred salt from the golahs, the Superintendent will satisfy himself by a personal inspection that the process of mixing the tar with the salt has been thoroughly performed.

5. Before granting final delivery, the Superintendent will also require the owner of the tarred salt to furnish a written guarantee that it is intended solely for use in the manufacture of glazed stoneware, and that every possible precaution shall be taken to prevent the article from being stolen or restored to a condition fit for human consumption.

6. Any proved case of duty-free tarred salt having been restored, or attempted to be restored, to a condition fit for human consumption will disqualify the owner of the manufactory whence the impure article was obtained to be a custodian or consumer of such salt in future, and render the remainder of his stock of duty-free tarred salt liable to confiscation.

7. The owner of a manufactory, where duty-free tarred salt is allowed to be stored and consumed, shall keep a book showing the daily expenditure of such salt, for what purpose expended, and the stock remaining in store at the close of each day; and the book and stock shall be accessible at any time between sunrise and sunset to such officer as may be appointed for the purpose.

8. All duty-free tarred salt shall be stored in bags containing two maunds each.

SECTION XIII.—MISCELLANEOUS RULES.

1. Whenever an application is made by any one to the Board of Revenue in the Salt Department to transact business on behalf of another person in connection with salt rowannahs, the applicant may be required to produce a written and stamped authority from his employer; and if he cannot produce it, the Board may refuse to transact such business with him.

2. A despatch of salt cannot be deemed to be salt "specified in a rowannah" within the meaning of Act VII (B.C.) of 1864, when the actual quantity found in the despatch is less than the quantity entered in the rowannah accompanying the despatch. If any person, therefore, shall possess or transport within the law-limits, under a rowannah, a quantity of salt less than that specified in such rowannah, the entire quantity shall, if such deficiency be found on weighment to exceed five per cent. on the quantity so specified, be held to be contraband, and as such shall be seized and confiscated. Any person possessing or transporting such salt shall be liable to the penalty prescribed in section 16 of the Act.

All non-gazetted Government officers and persons not in the employ of Government are eligible for rewards under these rules.

2. Any Magistrate convicting an offender of any forest offence, or directing the confiscation of any property under section 56 of the Act, may grant, in such proportion as he thinks fit, to any person or persons who have contributed to the seizure of the property or the conviction of the offender, a reward not exceeding the value of the property confiscated, plus the amount of any fine imposed.

5. In cases where, under section 67 of the Indian Forest Act, a forest officer has accepted a sum of money as compensation for any damage which has been committed, the Conservator of Forests may authorize the payment of a portion of the amount realized as a reward to any person who may have contributed to the discovery of the offender.

Manufacture of Salt.

1. Every application for a license to manufacture salt under the provisions of section 7 of Act VII (B.C.) of 1864, shall be presented to the Collector of the district where the manufacture is intended to be carried on, who shall forward it to the Board of Revenue through the Commissioner of the Division, with an expression of his opinion as to whether the application should be granted or not. In the former case, after ascertaining the boundaries within which the manufacture is to be carried on and the area of the land, the Collector should consult with the District Superintendent of Police, and report the strength and cost of the preventive guard which should be entertained; in the latter, full reasons for rejecting the application should be recorded. Where the license is recommended for sanction the stamp for the license should be realized and remitted, or a certificate given of the amount being credited in the treasury accounts.

2. The Board of Revenue shall have full power to approve or to reject any such application for the manufacture of salt, and the orders of the Board shall be final.

3. Immediately upon any application for license to manufacture salt being sanctioned, the applicant shall execute an agreement (Form I, appendix), and shall thereupon receive from the Board of Revenue a license (Form 2, appendix), the currency of which shall not extend beyond one year.

4. In addition to the preventive guard to be appointed, subject to the approval of the Board, with a view to prevent smuggling and to protect the revenue, the Collector shall appoint in every case, subject to the approval and control of the Commissioner, an excise establishment as marginally noted, for the purpose of supervising the weighment of the salt prior to removal to the warehouse. The Pass Officer shall be called upon to furnish such security as may be required by the Board of Revenue, and he shall nominate for the Collector's approval the Mohurir to be appointed under his own responsibility. The Board of Revenue shall have full power at their discretion to modify or increase the cost and strength of the excise establishment when necessary.

5. The pay of the preventive guard and of the excise establishment shall be defrayed by the manufacturer, and shall be disbursed by the Collector, who will be held responsible that the necessary amount is paid to him, or to any one whom he may appoint to receive it, on or before the fifteenth day preceding the close of the month for which it is due. The payment of the sum fixed forms one of the conditions on which the license specified in Rule 3 is granted, and should be provided for in the agreement mentioned in the same rule, a clause being inserted to the effect that on default of such payment within the specified time, the license may be cancelled, and all salt manufactured under the license at the place of manufacture attached and confiscated. The salt so confiscated should be sold by auction at the highest price bid above the duty, and the sale-proceeds should be applied after paying the duty to defray the charges on account of the guard and excise establishment and the costs incurred, the balance being made over to the defaulter. If the proceeds should not suffice to pay the duty and charges, the balance may be realized by the sale of any other salt belonging to the defaulter.

In Orissa and the district of Midnapore, however, the cost of these establishments will be defrayed by Government, except in cases in which the outturn of the manufacture yields a revenue less than 20 times the cost of establishment, when the cost shall be defrayed by the manufacturer.

6. Before manufacture is allowed to commence, the land within which the actual manufacture is to be carried on must be carefully marked out by a shallow trench; all necessary arrangements must be made and concluded in regard to the appointment of the preventive guards and excise officers; and, as required by section 10, Act VII (B.C.) of 1864, a proper and secure warehouse must be provided by the manufacturer and be approved of by the Board of Revenue. The manufacturer should give six days' notice of the date on which he intends to commence manufacture, and the pay of the guard shall commence from that date. He should also notify the date of close of manufacture, and the appliances of manufacture should be either removed or destroyed, and until they are so removed or destroyed, the manufacturer will be required to pay for the guard. Suitable huts should be provided and kept in repair by the manufacturer for the use of the guard, failing which the Collector may build and repair such huts, and levy the cost by sale of the salt, or cancel the license as for a default in payment of wages.

7. The Collector should ascertain how much salt each chula, or furnace can produce in a working day, and the Pass Officer must insist on the chulia, or mate in charge of each furnace, sending that quantity to the chatee or depôt. The day's outturn should be brought to the depôt at a fixed hour, from one hour before sunset till sunset. The Pass Officer should receive the salt and measure it in standard baskets supplied by the Collector, and make a note of which furnaces it comes from, so as to secure the full complement from each furnace. If any furnace falls short of the ascertained quantity, the mate of that furnace should be called to account. The standard basket shall contain exactly one maund of 40 seers at 80 tollahs to the seer.

8. The Pass Officer shall send to the Collector daily a copy of his record showing how many baskets of salt have been received at the depôt. This record shall be kept in chequebooks similar to those used by Pass Officers for protection of salt on its way to the aurungs.

9. The manufacture of salt shall be closed on such date as the Board of Revenue may be pleased to prescribe in each case, the date being specified in the license of each manufacturer. All salt manufactured after that date shall be held to be salt manufactured without a license, and the provisions of sections 5 and 6, Act VII (B.C.) of 1864, shall apply to such salt and to its manufacturer. The license also shall be liable to be cancelled.

10. Within one month from the date of the closing of his manufacture, every licensed manufacturer of salt shall notify to the Collector, for the information of the Board of Revenue, the quantity of salt manufactured by him during the season. Should the manufacturer, without sufficient cause, fail to give this information within the prescribed period, or should he wilfully furnish incorrect information, he shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 500; and in the latter case all salt in excess of the quantity notified by him shall be held to be contraband, and shall be liable to seizure and confiscation as such. The license also shall be liable to be cancelled.

Deposit of Salt.

11. The Board of Revenue may appoint the Collector of the district, or other officer specially selected for the purpose, to exercise a general control and supervision over all warehouses provided by manufacturers of salt under the requirements of section 10 of Act VII (B.C.) of 1864. For each warehouse the Collector shall appoint, subject to the approval and control of the Commissioner, an excise establishment as marginally noted, the cost of such establishment to be paid by the manufacturer. The Darogah shall be called on to furnish security of such amount as may be required by the Board of Revenue, and all the provisions of Rule 5, with regard to the payment of the salary of the establishments therein provided for, with regard to the duties and responsibilities of the Collector, and with regard to the realization of arrears of salary, shall be applicable in the case of establishments appointed under this rule. The Board of Revenue shall have full power at their discretion to modify the scale of establishment when there are two or more warehouses in the same or adjacent places. No warehouse shall be approved unless on measurement it be found capable of containing at least 10,000 maunds of salt.

	Rs

12 All salt manufactured under excise license which may remain unstored at the salt works fifteen days after the date fixed in the license for the closing of the manufacture shall, unless the storage thereof shall have been unavoidably prevented, be destroyed by the officers appointed under Rule 4.

13. Every warehouse, when approved of by the Board of Revenue, shall be regularly licensed, and every manufacturer shall forthwith cause to be painted, or otherwise exhibited in a conspicuous part of the exterior of such warehouse, the number of the license, the year in which it was granted, and the words "Licensed Warehouse" in the vernacular language and character of the district. Before a warehouse is built the proposed site should be approved by the Collector of the district. Suitable huts should be provided and kept in repair by the manufacturer for the use of the warehouse establishment, failing which the Collector may build and repair such huts and levy the cost by sale of the salt or cancel the golah license as for a default in payment of wages. The Commissioner of the Division may, from time to time, cause any licensed warehouse to be inspected by the Collector of the district or other officer appointed under Rule 11, and should it appear that from want of repair or from any other cause such warehouse has become an unfit receptacle for the storage of salt, may require the manufacturer to repair or otherwise render it fit for that purpose, and, in the event of his failing so to do, may cancel the license of such warehouse. In the absence of special orders directing an inspection, District Collectors are required to visit each warehouse at least twice in the course of a year, or to depute an Assistant or Deputy Collector for the purpose. The results of such inspections should be reported to the Board through the Commissioner. In Orissa inspections may be made once a year. The Commissioner will report to the Board only when a golah is so much out of repair as to render cancelment of license necessary.

14. When a manufacturer desires to remove any salt from his salt works for the purpose of storing it, he shall cause it to be weighed and packed for transport in the presence of the officer who may have been appointed to this duty under Rule 4. When ready for despatch, such officer shall carefully impress the salt all over, when packed in bulk, with a wooden stamp (adul) supplied for the purpose; but when put up into bags, the mouth of every bag shall be closed with sealing-wax, and a seal, with a clear and distinct device, affixed thereto, in not less than two places, and the aforesaid officer shall also grant a pass to protect the salt during transit

15. The pass (Form 3, appendix) shall specify the name of the manufacturer, the number of his license, the route by which the salt is to be transported, the weight of the salt, and the date of despatch. It shall also be numbered and signed by the officer granting

16. A separate pass shall be granted for every despatch of salt; but if it be despatched by means of coolies or bullocks, one pass shall be sufficient for every gang of coolies or drove of bullocks; and in such case, in addition to the particulars stated in Rule 15, the pass shall specify the number of coolies or bullocks employed in carrying the salt, as well as the number of baskets, bags, or packs used. A gang of coolies shall be taken to mean any number of coolies not exceeding fifty, and a drove of bullocks any number not exceeding twenty-five. A responsible Churrundar shall accompany each despatch, who should sign all three foils of the Pass Officer's pass, thus:—

"Received the above salt in full.

(Sd.)

Dated Churrundar."

17. A copy of every pass granted under the foregoing rules shall be forwarded by the officer granting it to the Collector of the district or other controlling officer appointed under Rule 11.

18. The arrival at any licensed warehouse of salt despatched from the salt works shall at once be reported to the officer in charge of the warehouse, who shall without delay, examine its condition, the state of the stamps or seals, as the case may be, and the pass covering the salt. The pass shall then be forwarded in original, duly effaced, and with an endorsement mentioning whether permission to store the salt has been granted or not, to the Collector of the district or other controlling officer appointed under Rule 11, and a copy shall be retained for record by the officer in charge of the warehouse.

19. On the police informing the officer in charge of a warehouse that they suspect that a despatch of salt has been tampered with en route from the salt works, the officer in charge of the warehouse shall put aside all bags reported as suspicious by the police until orders are passed in the case.

20. If the officer in charge of the warehouse be satisfied that the rules laid down above have been in no way infringed, he shall thereupon permit the manufacturer to store the salt in the warehouse.

21. If, however, on examination it be found that the despatch of salt has been tampered with, or that the quantity of salt is likely to be more than one per cent. less than the quantity specified in the pass, the officer in charge of the warehouse shall be empowered to seize and weigh the entire despatch of salt. If the deficiency in weight exceeds the above limit, the officer in charge of the warehouse shall record the explanation of the manufacturer, or his duly accredited servant in charge thereof, and shall report the case to the Collector of the district, or other controlling officer appointed under Rule 11, who shall transmit the papers, with his opinion on the case, for the orders of the Board of Revenue, who may direct confiscation of the entire despatch as contraband. The Board may also, if they see fit, at once cancel the manufacturer's license. The manufacturer shall further be liable for the amount of duty that would be leviable on the deficiency in excess of one per cent.

22. On obtaining the permission of the officer in charge of the warehouse, the salt shall be stored therein by the servants, and at the expense of the manufacturer, in the presence of such officer If the correctness of the pass protecting the salt is admitted by the officer in charge of the warehouse, he shall enter the weight of the salt as therein stated in the daily store account which he is required to keep.

23. Every licensed warehouse shall be secured by two padlocks supplied by the manufacturer on approval by the officer in charge thereof, the key of one lock being retained by the person owning the salt, or by some person on his behalf, and the key of the second lock by the officer in charge of the warehouse.

24. When a warehouse shall have been stored with salt and before any sales can be permitted, the manufacturer, owner or mortgagee of the salt shall enter into a bond (Form 4, appendix) for payment of the amount of duty, as well as other charges leviable thereon; and he shall further bind himself to discharge, without objection, any duty that may be adjudged against him by the Commissioner of the Division on account of any excess or penalty duty in consequence of any deficiency (beyond the usual allowance of 2½ per cent. as wastage) of salt found in his warehouse at the time of clearance.

25. No bond shall be taken for a period exceeding three years; but on expiry of that period, with the sanction of the Board of Revenue, a renewed bond may be executed for a further term of two years. Applications for the renewal of bonds about to expire shall be presented to the Board of Revenue at least two months previous to their expiry.

26. No salt shall on any account be removed from a licensed warehouse before the permission of the Commissioner of the Division has been accorded to commence sales, and any act in violation thereof shall subject the manufacturer, owner or mortgagee of the same to a penalty of Rs. 500, and the salt thus removed shall be seized and confiscated: provided that nothing in this rule shall be held to prevent Government proceeding, if it see fit, under section 16 of the Act.

27. The salt of the manufacture of each year and that under each license shall if possible be separately stored, and every act in violation of this rule shall subject the whole of the salt within the warehouse to seizure and confiscation.

Transport and Sale of Salt.

28. In addition to the special rowannah prescribed by section 19 of Act VII (B.C.) of 1864, rowannahs shall be of two kinds—

1st.—The wholesale rowannah required to protect all salt removed immediately from warehouses or ships.

2nd.—The retail rowannah required for the protection of salt, being a portion of an original despatch covered by a wholesale or special rowannah, but separated therefrom for purposes of sale or otherwise.

29. Retail rowannahs shall further be sub-divided into two kinds:—

1*st.*—The atrafee rowannah required to protect salt which it may be intended to convey beyond the limits of the police-station within which it may at the time be stored.

2*nd.*—The charchittee required to protect salt which it may be intended to retain for sale within the limits of the police-station within which it may at the time be stored.

3*rd.*—In addition to the above two kinds of retail rowannahs, a third kind of retail rowannah, to be called sub-charchittee, shall be current in the districts of the Orissa Division and Backergunge. This sub-charchittee, like the retail rowannah No. 2, shall protect salt which it may be intended to retain for sale within the limits of the police-station within which it may at the time be stored.

30. Wholesale rowannahs shall be granted only by the Board of Revenue, or such District Collectors as may be authorized to issue the same, on application being presented on stamped paper of the value prescribed for petitions to the Board, and on the payment of certain fees specified in the schedule hereto annexed. The rowannah (Forms 5 and 6, appendix) shall specify—

1*st.*—The quantity of salt to be transported under its protection;
2*nd.*—The description of salt;
3*rd.*—The place whence the salt is deliverable;
4*th.*—The mode of conveyance;
5*th.*—The destination of the salt; and
6*th.*—The route by which the salt shall be conveyed.

All special and wholesale rowannahs taken out for the removal of salt, either from boardship, or from bonded golahs under Government, or from private golahs in the excepted limits of Calcutta, shall have a currency of not more than six months. Such rowannahs as are taken out for the protection of salt destined for places not within the limits notified under section 12 of the Act, and which have to be surrendered before passing out of the said limits at the last police-station within those limits, shall on no occasion be current for more than fifteen days if the pass station at which the rowannah has to be delivered up is Bally; or for more than one month in any other case.

The holder of a wholesale rowannah the currency of which is about to expire, may apply to the Board of Revenue, or to the District Collector by whom the rowannah was issued, on stamped paper of the value of one rupee, for a renewed rowannah, which shall be granted on sufficient cause being shown, and on the salt being identified satisfactorily. Collectors should submit weekly to the Commissioner a list of the renewed rowannahs; and should keep a register of all rowannahs they issue.

The holder of a rowannah for the transport of salt from the bonded golahs or from shipboard into the protected limits vid the Chitpore pass station will be at liberty to choose any of the three following routes:—

(1)—By the river Hooghly by boat.
(2)—By the Port Commissioners' tramway vid Armenian Ghât.
(3)—By the Port Commissioners' tramway vid Rathtollah Ghât.

The route chosen must be declared when the rowannah is taken out, and the Customs officer on board the ship from which the salt is delivered will make out the boat-notes according to the route chosen. If the holder of the rowannah wishes to alter the route, he can do so by applying to the Board as provided in Rule 31.

31. If any person who shall have become possessed of a wholesale rowannah shall desire to make any alteration in the terms specified therein, permissible under these rules, he may, by application to the Board of Revenue, or to the District Collector, if authorized to grant the original rowannah, on stamped paper of the value prescribed for petitions to the said Board, and on payment of the fees specified in the schedules hereto annexed, obtain an exchange rowannah (Form 7, appendix), which shall, for all the purposes of the Act and of these rules, be considered to be a wholesale rowannah.

32. Blank forms of retail rowannahs of all kinds shall be obtainable from the Collector of the district, or from the Deputy Collector in charge of the sub-division within which the salt is stored at the time of application, provided such officer shall have been empowered by the Collector to grant such rowannahs.

At places situated at a long distance from the Collectorate or the sub-divisional office, the Collector is further empowered to entrust the distribution of the forms, duly signed and sealed, to the police in charge of the division within the limits of which the salt is stored at the time for sale.

A retail rowannah shall specify—

1*st.*—The quantity and description of salt covered by it;
2*nd.*—The time for which it is current;
3*rd*—The number and date of the rowannah from which the salt was obtained
4*th.*—The destination of the salt;

5*th*.—The route by which the salt shall be carried;
6*th*.—The mode of conveyance; and
7*th*.—The name of the consignee or purchaser.

The salt covered by the atrafee rowannah (Form 8, appendix) and charchittee (Form 9, appendix) shall in no case exceed one hundred maunds.

The salt covered by the sub-charchittee (Form 10, appendix) in the Orissa Division and Backergunge shall in no case exceed five maunds.

The currency of the atrafee rowannah and the charchittee shall in no case exceed six months.

The currency of the sub-charchittee in the Orissa Division and Backergunge shall in no case exceed one month.

33. A fee of four annas shall be levied on every retail rowannah No. 1.*

34. Wholesale rowannah-holders are hereby empowered to issue to furriahs, or retail vendors, retail rowannahs of all descriptions specified in Rule 29; and holders of retail rowannahs No. 1 are similarly empowered to issue retail rowannahs No. 2 to furriahs or retail vendors; and in the districts of the Orissa division and Backergunge, holders of retail rowannahs No. 2 are likewise similarly empowered to issue retail rowannahs No. 3 to other furriahs or retail vendors.

Any rowannahdar selling more than five seers of salt to any person shall be bound to furnish the purchaser with such protective documents as may be required.

35. Special rowannahs granted under section 19 of Act VII (B.C.) of 1864 shall, as nearly as possible, resemble wholesale rowannahs, and the rules regarding wholesale rowannahs shall also apply to them. Salt conveyed into the limits notified under section 12 of the Act from ships or warehouses in Calcutta and Howrah will require to be protected by a special rowannah (Form 6, vide clause 30).

In addition to those mentioned in Rule 30, the following particulars shall be entered in all special rowannahs (Form 11, appendix) for the removal of salt from private golahs in Calcutta:—

1*st*.—The names of the manjees in whose boats the salt has been loaded;
2*nd*.—The license numbers of such boats; and
3*rd*.—The date or dates on which salt was loaded into the boats.

36(a) Every application for a "certificate" (Form 12, appendix) for landing salt from shipboard, or for removing it from the bonded golahs into the excepted limits of Calcutta and Howrah, must in future be made to the Collector of Customs instead of to the Board of Revenue, and any person attempting to land salt within such limits without having taken out such certificate will be liable to the penalties provided under the Sea Customs Act, VIII of 1878.

(b) In granting a rowannah for salt which is to be conveyed out of the excepted limits of Calcutta into protected limits, the Board will require the applicant for the rowannah to give the full particulars of the certificate under which it was landed in Calcutta.

(c) If the holder of a rowannah issued by the Board of Revenue for salt to be taken from shipboard out of the excepted limits, desires to land the whole or any portion of such salt within the excepted limits, he must apply for the Board's orders to cancel the original rowannah. On his application being granted, he will, on payment of the usual fees, be furnished with a letter of advice to the Collector of Customs for the issue of a "certificate" in respect of the whole or such portion of the salt as he desires to land within the excepted limits of Calcutta, and, if necessary, with an "exchange rowannah" in respect of the balance to be taken beyond the excepted limits.

37. Within twenty-four hours after the completion of deliveries of salt from boardship upon rowannahs, the holders thereof must present them at the Board's office for the purpose of having the endorsements made on them by the preventive officers examined. Challans will then be granted with regard to such rowannahs as would require them according to section 39 of the rules. This rule will not prevent salt merchants removing their salt-laden boats from the ship's side to safe and convenient places in the river under the boat-notes previously granted by the preventive officers. Any person failing to comply with the provisions of this rule shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 100.

38. Every wholesale and every retail rowannah shall always be kept with the salt to which it refers, and on demand by any police officer above the rank of constable shall be forthwith produced for examination. When, however, under the provisions of the rule next following, a despatch of salt covered by a wholesale or retail rowannah is laden on more than one boat or cart or drove of bullocks, or gang of coolies, it will be sufficient if the wholesale or retail rowannah covering the entire despatch of salt be produced within twenty-four hours. If the rowannah be not forthcoming, the salt shall be seized and proceedings taken under section 16 of the Act. If the rowannah be produced after the seizure of the salt, the matter shall be reported for the orders of the Board.

39. If it be necessary in any way to divide any lot of salt covered by a wholesale or retail rowannah, the owner of the salt, or any person acting in his behalf, shall apply for, and shall be furnished with challans, (Form 13, appendix), the numbers and particulars of which, showing the quantity of salt protected by each challan separately, shall be endorsed on the rowannah. Such challans shall be given up when the salt of the despatch has to pass out of the limits notified under section 12 of the Act, or is transferred to other boats, carriages, &c. A challan therefore can never protect salt in itself, or independently of the rowannah to which it is merely subsidiary.

40. Boats, carriages, &c., covered by challans must stop at the last pass station on the route until the arrival of the boat, carriage, &c., which is carrying the rowannah; and none of them must go beyond the pass station until the rowannah has been examined: Failure to comply with this rule will render the parties liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 500. If the rowannah be not produced, the salt should be seized and proceedings taken under section 16 of Act.

41. If any person holding a rowannah shall fail to comply with the provisions of section 22 of the Act, such person shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 500. When the salt specified in a rowannah is disposed of within the limits laid down under section 12 of the Act, the rowannahdar is hereby required to deliver up his protective document, as directed by the law, within seven days of the date of the sale of the last parcel of salt covered by such document. Omission to do so will be held to constitute a breach of the provisions of section 22 of the Act.

42. Every person in charge of salt in transit within the limits notified under section 12 of the Act shall be bound to stop at every police pass station upon the line of route laid down in his rowannah, whether wholesale or retail, and shall present his rowannah to the chief officer at such station for endorsement, and shall, if required, allow his salt to be examined.

43. The proprietor of any salt, the rowannah of which shall not be endorsed in the manner prescribed in the preceding rule, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 500, and if it shall appear to the officer trying the case that the omission was made with fraudulent intent, he shall direct the salt to be confiscated.

44. If the police in charge of the last pass station on any route have reason to suspect that a boat laden with salt is passing the station without stopping to give up the rowannah, they shall follow the boat, and on overtaking it, if the parties are known, the police should apply to the Magistrate for a summons against them under section 148 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Act X of 1872). If, however, the police have reason to believe that the accused are about to abscond, they should request the Magistrate to issue a warrant instead of a summons in the first instance, as provided in the same section. If the parties are unknown, the police should act under the provisions of section 93 of the Criminal Code of Procedure, and detain them in order to ascertain their names and address. If the names and address given are believed to be correct, summons should be applied for as indicated above; if the names and address given are believed to be false, the parties should be forwarded to the Magistrate in the manner prescribed in section 93 above referred to.

45. The names of the police pass stations at which it will be necessary for proprietors of salt to have their salt and passes examined and endorsed, shall be notified from time to time in the Calcutta and Exchange Gazettes.

46. On a despatch of salt covered by a wholesale or atrafee rowannah arriving at the warehouse or shop of any salt trader situated in any place within the limits notified in section 12 of the Act, the proprietor shall, within twenty-four hours, notify its arrival in writing to the Collector of the district, specifying in such notice the description, number, and date of the rowannah, the quantity and description of salt covered by it, and the place whence the salt was obtained. Omission or neglect to comply with this rule shall render such trader liable to a penalty not exceeding Rs 10 for each offence.

47. Every salt trader carrying on business within the limits notified under section 12 of the Act shall, on the 1st of every month, submit to the Sub-divisional Officer within whose jurisdiction he resides, or to the nearest Abkaree Darogah, or nearest police-station or outpost, for transmission to the Sub-divisional Officer, a signed statement specifying the quantity of salt sold under each wholesale or atrafee rowannah in his hands during the previous month, as well as the quantity of salt remaining in store under each such document on the last day of such month. Omission or neglect to comply with this rule shall subject such trader to a fine of Rs. 20 for each offence. The Sub-divisional Officer will forward the returns to the Collector with his remarks.

A register showing the sales of salt by each wholesale and retail trader in each month should be kept by the Sub-divisional Officer in the following form :—

Month.	Name of vendor and locality.	Wholesale sale.	Retail sale.

48. The Board of Revenue shall, from time to time, prescribe forms for the agreements applications, bonds, licenses, rowannahs, and other documents required under the above rules.

Schedule of Fees to be paid by persons taking out Wholesale, Renewed, Special, or Exchange Rowannahs.

SECTION VIII.—RULES RELATING TO THE RECEPTION AND CLEARANCE OF SALT SUBSIDIARY TO THOSE CONTAINED IN ACT VIII OF 1878.

Rules for Weighment and Admission of salt into Warehouses, public or private, under the Customs Law.

Collector to make arrangements for weighment of salt.

1. On receipt of an application under section 91, Act VIII of 1878, for the admission of salt into a public or private warehouse, and after the due execution of a bond under the provisions of section 92, Act VIII of 1878, the Collector of Customs shall make such arrangements as he may deem necessary for the proper weighment of salt during its discharge from the vessel, for the purpose of being conveyed to the appointed licensed warehouse.

Weighment charges.

2. The weighment shall be conducted in the presence of the preventive officer on board, and the expense thereof shall be charged to the bonder at a rate of Rs 3 per 1,000 maunds.

Description of boat to be used.

3. No salt for which the full duty has not been previously paid shall be taken from any vessel, save in a lighter provided with hatches, which are capable of being securely fastened down; and it shall be the duty of the preventive officer on board to satisfy himself that such lighter is in serviceable condition before permitting such salt to be placed therein.

Procedure on despatch.

4. As soon as the bonder or his agent or servant shall notify to the preventive officer that he desires to proceed with any boat-load of salt, he shall obtain a boat-note, in which the name of the importing vessel and of the bonder, the quantity of salt contained therein, and the warehouse wherein it is to be deposited shall be specified. The salt shall thereupon be carefully impressed with a stamp specially provided for this purpose, and the hatches shall be closed and sealed by, or in the presence of, the preventive officer. The lighter shall then be allowed to proceed in charge of a native officer or peon deputed for the purpose by the Custom-house authorities, accompained by an agent on the part of the bonder.

Place of anchorage.

5. The boat shall be anchored, if possible, at the steps of the ghât leading to the warehouse in which the salt is to be stored, otherwise at the moorings nearest to such ghât. It shall on no account be permitted by the native Custom-house officer or peon on board to anchor at the outward moorings.

Procedure on arrival.

6. Notice of the arrival of such salt shall at once be given by the Custom-house officer to the Government Superintendent in the case of salt to be bonded in a public warehouse, or, if the salt is to be bonded in a private licensed warehouse, to the Inspector or Superintendent of licensed Warehouses, who shall thereupon note the date and hour of arrival, bringing any unreasonable delay to the notice of the Collector of Customs, and depute a proper officer to examine and compare the boat-note delivered by the preventive officer to the bonder, his servant, or agent, and the cargo of salt, and to superintend its removal to, and storage in, the appointed warehouse.

Duty of peon and bonder's agent.

7. The bonder's agent and native Custom-house officer or peon shall remain on board of the boat in charge, until the seals and hatches are examined and all the cargo landed and stored.

Responsibilities of bonder and Superintendent.

8. The Bonder will be held responsible for any departure from these rules on the part of his agent, and the Superintendent or Inspector of the warehouse shall take notice of any dereliction of duty on the part of the native Custom-house officer or peon.

Bonder to defray all charges.

9. All expenses connected with the removal and storage of the salt shall be borne by the bonder, who shall also pay to the Collector such fees as he may fix for the services of the officer or peon in charge of the salt from the time of its discharge from the vessel's side to the completion of its storage in the warehouse.

Procedure when salt has been tampered with.

10. If the officer appointed by the Superintendent or Inspector of the Government or private licensed warehouse shall have reason to believe that the salt has in any way been tampered with during its transit by river, he shall at once report the circumstance to the Superintendent or Inspector, who, with the permission of the Collector, shall direct the salt to be re-weighed, and such re-weighment shall be made at the expense of Government.

Penalty when salt is deficient.

11. If there be found any unexplained deficiency in the salt on board the cargo-boat as compared with the quantity specified in the boat-note, the whole of the salt contained in such boat shall be confiscated, and the bond under which the salt is in course of being stored shall be cancelled.

Salt under different bonds to be stored separately.

12. Salt relating to different bonds shall be stored separately and distinctly. Any admixture of salt specified in different bonds shall render those bonds liable to cancelment, and the holders to immediate payment of the full duty payable thereon.

Calculation of duty on delivery from public warehouse.

13. On salt bonded in a warehouse under the exclusive control of a Government warehouse-keeper, the duty shall be calculated on the quantity actually delivered from such warehouse.

Calculation of duty on delivery from private warehouse.

14. On salt bonded in a private licensed warehouse, the duty shall be calculated on the quantity delivered on weighment from the side of the ship in which it was imported, less an allowance on account of wastage, which shall not in ordinary cases exceed 2½ per cent. on the quantity bonded.

Increased allowance for wastage may be allowed.

15. In any special case the Board of Revenue, as chief customs authority of the presidency, is competent to direct that an increased allowance for wastage shall be granted in accordance with the provision of section 122, Act VIII of 1878.

But not if any suspicion of fraud.

16. If the Collector of Customs has any reason to believe that any fraud has been perpetrated by the bonder or owner of the salt, or any person in his employ, he shall refuse to make any allowance on account of wastage, and shall demand the full duty payable on the entire quantity received into bond.

Charges for weighment to be credited to a fund.

17. The Rs. 3 per 1,000 maunds paid for the weighment of salt on shipboard under Rule 2 shall be credited to a fund to be instituted by the Collector of Customs. The Collector shall from time to time make such subsidiary arrangements as he may deem most conducive to the interests of both Government and the public for carrying on all such weighments, the costs of which will be defrayed from the fund in question.

18. In the case of public warehouses, the Board of Revenue shall fix from time to time the amount of rent to be paid by the bonder per 1,000 maunds of salt. Ordinarily no golah should be made available unless the quantity of salt to be bonded is equal to two-thirds of the storage which the golah is capable of containing; but when accommodation in golahs of suitable dimensions is not available, the rent to be demanded should be calculated on the quantity of salt, which would amount to two-thirds of the storage capacity of the building, whatever the actual quantity of salt bonded may really be.

SECTION IX.—RULES FOR THE CLEARANCE OF SALT FROM BONDED WAREHOUSES, PUBLIC OR PRIVATE.

Procedure on delivery from bond.

1. All deliveries of salt bonded in a public or private warehouse under the provisions of Act VIII of 1878 shall be supervised, as required by section 99 of the above Act, by a Customs officer and a native officer styled a Ghât Mohurir. These officers will be deputed on application to the officer in charge of the Custom-house.

Charges to be paid by bonder.

2. The expenses incident to their employment shall be borne by the bonder, at the rate of Rs. 5 for a Customs officer and 8 annas for a native officer per diem. These officers will be paid daily If required so to do, the bonder, or applicant for their services, shall pay into the hands of the officer in charge of the Custom-house a sum sufficient to meet the expense of employing such officers.

Working hours.

3. The present working hours at the Sulkea Government golahs will continue to be observed with regard to all deliveries whether from public or private warehouses, viz. from 6 A.M. to 2 P.M.

Bonders to provide their own labour and tools.

4. Scales and weights will be provided by Government, but bonders are required to make their own arrangements for cutting and removing their salt from the warehouses, as well as to supply their own tools for cutting the salt, such as sabools, kodalies, &c.

Duty of Customs officer.

5. There will be one Customs officer at each scale; and his duty will be to keep in a book, provided for the purpose at the expense of Government, a correct tally of the bags as they are weighed and taken off the scale by the bonder's people, as well as to see that each bag contains neither more nor less than the prescribed quantity of salt, viz. two maunds. He will be held personally liable for any excess or deficiency that may be discovered at the check scales presided over by the golah officers.

Responsibility of Superintendent.

6. The Superintendent will be held responsible for making such arrangements as will ensure the efficient working of the check scales. At least 10 per cent. of the bags issued from the golahs should pass through these scales.

When disputes arise.

7. Should any dispute arise between the Cutsoms officer and the bonder or purchaser of the salt under delivery, the former will stop the weighment, and at once refer the matter in dispute to the Superintendent for orders.

When irregularities occur.

8. The Customs officer will be particularly careful to bring every irregularity that he may become cognizant of to the notice of the Superintendent without delay, and will be held responsible for failure in doing so.

Check to be exercised by Ghât Mohurir.

9. There will be one Ghât Mohurir for each scale He will be posted at the proper discretion of the Superintendent either at the ghât, when salt is being passed into boats, or on the roadway when it is being removed in carts. In either case, he will not be allowed to hold any communication whatever with the Customs officer posted within a golah, except through the Superintendent, until after the day's work is over, when his tally will be compared with that kept by the Customs officer, and, if found to agree, signed by the Superintendent.

Duty of Ghât Mohurir.

10. The Ghât Mohurir's duty will be to keep a similar tally to that of the Customs officer, but in Bengali. He will also keep a tally by means of counters supplied by the department. One such counter will be made over to him by each cooly as he passes him with a bag, and will represent one bag or two maunds of salt. After the rowannah quantity has been delivered, these counters will be compared with his written tally, as well as with that of the Customs officer, for the purpose stated in Rule 8.

Check to be exercised by Superintendent.

11. When discrepancies in the accounts cannot be reconciled, and whenever the Superintendent has reason to believe that the quantity of salt conveyed to the boat or cart is not correctly represented in the accounts, he shall hold a re-weighment. The expense of such re-weighment shall be borne by Government.

Duty of Superintendent before salt is removed.

12. Whenever the bonder or purchaser is desirous of removing his boats or carts from the premises, the Superintendent will satisfy himself on every point before granting the usual protective documents. He will, before granting a pass, at all times satisfy himself even where the accounts agree that the boat-load or cart-load represents the exact quantity entered in the rowannah.

13. Koyals and Tippanavesses will not be employed as heretofore in checking weighments.

14. The following extra charges to be levied from bonders, in addition to the rates for ordinary working days, will be demanded for both reception into, and delivery from, bond on Sundays and holidays, viz.—

Extra charges for holidays.

SECTION X.—RULES RELATING TO THE DELIVERY OF SALT FROM BOARD-SHIP.

1. The present working hours are from 8 A.M. to 5 P.M. Leave to work extra hours is only granted when the Collector sees sufficient grounds to permit it.

2. Partial deliveries are prohibited in so far as each boat-load is concerned. When the loading of a boat is commenced, it must be finished before the loading of another boat is commenced. If a boat's loading is commenced during extra hours, it must be completed without any interruption, whether the loading is completed in regular or extra hours.

3. If by any unforeseen circumstance it should become necessary to interrupt delivery, the boat partially loaded shall receive a boat-note in the following form, and shall remain alongside the discharging vessel subject to seizure in the event of her trying to leave the ship's side.

Preventive Officer.

4. Delivery on a rowannah of more than 300 maunds should not be commenced after 4-30 P.M., so as to ensure its completion within working hours.

5. The quantity of salt covered by the rowannah first taken up must be discharged, whatever the number of boat-loads may be, before delivery is commenced on a second Rowannah. In exceptional cases where this is impossible, and adherence to the rule is calculated to cause delay and inconvenience to the ship, the preventive officers before commencing delivery on a second rowannah (the first being incomplete), shall make an immediate report to the Collector, detailing the circumstances which have rendered a departure from the rule necessary. Such report shall be countersigned by the Commander or Chief Officer of the vessel, and its number (if any) and date shall be entered by the preventive officers in the Tally Book.

6. The pages of all tally books shall be numbered and signed at the head by the Superintendent of the Preventive Service; and as soon as each page is filled, the preventive officers shall, before commencing a fresh page, require the Commander of the vessel or Chief Officer to sign at the foot of the page which has been written up.

7. On the completion of deliveries of salt from board-ship upon rowannahs, the holders thereof must present them to the Board's office for the purpose of having the endorsements made on them by the preventive officers examined. Challans will then be granted with regard to such rowannahs as would require them according to section 39 of the Government rules. This rule will not prevent salt merchants removing their salt-laden boats from the ship's side to safe and convenient places in the river under the boat-notes previously granted by the preventive officers. Preventive officers will invariably, when they deliver a completed rowannah to a merchant or to his gomastah, warn him to present his rowannah at the Board's office.

8. No salt may be landed from ship-board or removed from the bonded golahs into the excepted limits of Calcutta and Howrah unless protected by a "certificate" (Form 12, appendix) granted by the Collector of Customs (see section 1, Rule 36A). Within 24 hours after the delivery of salt from board ship under a certificate, the holder thereof must present it at the office of the Collector of Customs for the purpose of having the endorsement made on it by the preventive officer examined, after which it will be returned to the holder in order that the salt covered by it may be landed.

9. The currency of each certificate will expire 48 hours from the time that delivery of the salt is completed,—and any certificate which has not been finally returned, under the following rule (No. 10), to the office of the Collector of Customs within 48 hours from the time of delivery of the salt, must be presented within that time for renewal by the Collector.

10. Within 48 hours after the landing within excepted limits of salt removed upon a certificate from board ship or from the bonded golahs, the certificate must be returned to the office of the Collector of Customs with an endorsement by the holder showing the time and place of landing and the place of storage.

11. Any failure to present a certificate at the Collector's office, as directed in Rules 8, 9, and 10 within the time specified in each rule, will be punishable with a fine of Rs. 500 under section 167, clause 1 of the Sea Customs Act.

SECTION XI.—RULES FOR THE ADMISSION OF GANJAM SALT INTO ORISSA.

1. Salt may be sold at the Ganjam golahs in any quantities, wholesale or retail, for consumption in Orissa, or for transport through Orissa to any other place.

2. All salt thus sold shall be covered by a protective pass, which shall be granted by the Collector of Ganjam without the payment of any fee; such salt shall require no other protective document. The pass shall be written in English and in Ooriya. It shall be dated, and shall state the quantity of salt which it covers, the place for which the salt is destined, and the number of days allowed for transit.

3. If the place of destination be within Orissa, the Collector of Ganjam shall send a copy of the pass granted by him on the day of issue to the Collector of the district in which the place of destination is situated.

4. The pass so given shall be sufficient to protect the salt specified therein from the place of sale to the place of destination, provided that the latter is reached during the period of the currency of the pass; and during this period no Bengal rule or law shall affect this salt or the carriers thereof.

5. If, owing to accident or circumstances beyond the control of the trader, the salt should not be able to reach its destination within the period fixed, then the pass-holder shall, at least one day prior to the expiry of the pass, report the circumstance to the nearest police-station, the officer in charge of which shall, unless good reason for suspecting fraud exist, endorse the pass, extending its period by one more than the number of days necessary to enable the salt to reach its place of destination. If the officer in charge apprehends fraud, he shall detain the salt, and refer the case, including a full statement by the pass-holder, to the Collector for orders. If, after a pass has been once extended, a second application for extension should be made, the case shall be referred for the orders of the Collector. No salt thus detained shall be confiscated under any Bengal rule except on distinct proof of fraud; but where the pass-holder has wilfully overstayed the period of grace granted, the Collector may, if he deems it necessary, impose a moderate penalty, not exceeding 10 per cent., on the value of the salt thus delayed in transit.

6. If a pass-holder shall desire to make any alterations in the terms specified in his pass, he may apply to the Collector of the district in which the salt may then be, and such Collector may in his discretion issue an exchange pass, which, for the purposes of the salt Act and of these rules, shall be of the same force as the original pass issued by the Collector of Ganjam. Every application to a Collector for an exchange pass shall be written upon a paper bearing a stamp of the value which the law prescribes for applications to a Collector.

7. The holder of a pass may sell portions of the salt covered by such pass in transit between the Ganjam frontier and the place of destination; but any salt so sold will become amenable to all rules which have been, or which may be, passed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal under section 11, Act VII (B.C.) of 1864, subject to the provisions of the following rules.

8. Every person purchasing more than five seers of salt from a pass-holder shall give immediate notice of his purchase to the officer in charge of the nearest police-station, who shall thereupon issue an atrafee rowannah or a charchittee under the ordinary rules for the protection of the salt, with a currency of not more than one month. Every police officer granting such a document shall send a copy of the same to the Collector of the district on the same day. All atrafee rowannahs and charchittees so granted by police officers shall be subject to all the rules current in Bengal in respect of such documents.

9. SECTION XII.—RULES FOR THE CLEARANCE OF DUTY-FREE TARRED SALT FROM THE SULKEAH GOLAHS SANCTIONED BY GOVERNMENT ORDER NO. 1998, DATED 21ST JULY 1877.

1. When it is intended to render salt in bond unfit for human consumption by admixture with tar, not less than twenty-four hours' notice of such intention must be given to the Superintendent of the Sulkea Salt Golahs.

2. The operation of mixing the tar and salt, in the proportion of one seer of the former to one maund of the latter, shall be supervised by a special officer, who will be deputed by the Superintendent of the Golahs at the expense, not exceeding Rs. 5 per diem, of the applicant for his services.

3. The Superintendent of Golahs will be responsible that not less than the prescribed quantity of tar is used.

4 Before granting the usual protective documents for the removal of the tarred salt from the golahs, the Superintendent will satisfy himself by a personal inspection that the process of mixing the tar with the salt has been thoroughly performed.

5. Before granting final delivery, the Superintendent will also require the owner of the tarred salt to furnish a written guarantee that it is intended solely for use in the manufacture of glazed stoneware, and that every possible precaution shall be taken to prevent the article from being stolen or restored to a condition fit for human consumption.

6. Any proved case of duty-free tarred salt having been restored, or attempted to be restored, to a condition fit for human consumption will disqualify the owner of the manufactory whence the impure article was obtained to be a custodian or consumer of such salt in future, and render the remainder of his stock of duty-free tarred salt liable to confiscation.

7. The owner of a manufactory, where duty-free tarred salt is allowed to be stored and consumed, shall keep a book showing the daily expenditure of such salt, for what purpose expended, and the stock remaining in store at the close of each day; and the book and stock shall be accessible at any time between sunrise and sunset to such officer as may be appointed for the purpose.

8. All duty-free tarred salt shall be stored in bags containing two maunds each.

SECTION XIII.—MISCELLANEOUS RULES.

2. A despatch of salt cannot be deemed to be salt "specified in a rowannah" within the meaning of Act VII (B.C.) of 1864, when the actual quantity found in the despatch is less than the quantity entered in the rowannah accompanying the despatch. If any person, therefore, shall possess or transport within the law-limits, under a rowannah, a quantity of salt less than that specified in such rowannah, the entire quantity shall, if such deficiency be found on weighment to exceed five per cent. on the quantity so specified, be held to be contraband, and as such shall be seized and confiscated.
